

A PUBLICATION OF GENUINE INTEREST

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS THAT FORMERLY LEFT STATES
NOW STAY AT HOME.

A COMPLETE SHOPPING LIST

Observer Printing House Has Decided to Publish Immediately a Revised and Enlarged Edition of 30,000.

Charlotte, N. C. — A publication which is resulting in keeping at home of tens of thousands of dollars that formerly went out of the Carolinas to the manufacturers of other states is the Carolina Shopping List, which was published co-incidentally with the Made-in-Carolinas Exposition by the Observer Printing House at Charlotte, according to reports from every section of the Carolinas.

This shopping list contains the most complete list of Carolina Manufacturers ever compiled. It was distributed by the Charlotte concern without cost and is now being consulted by thousands of merchants throughout the two states who are coming to see the advantage of trading at home when goods of the same quality can be secured at as low or lower cost than they can be secured elsewhere. The booklet was distributed through and to Chambers of Commerce, libraries, merchants' associations and other civic institutions and also to merchants and consumers.

The reception to the shopping list has been such that the Observer Printing House has decided to publish immediately a revised and enlarged edition, of which 30,000 copies will be distributed. The cost of compilation, printing and distribution will not be less than $10,000, but the booklets will be delivered free by the enterprising Charlotte establishment.

MEETING WIDELY ADVERTISED

Similar Gatherings Are Advertised to Be Held at Lille, Bordeaux, Lyons,
St. Nazaire and Other Places.

Paris. — Seven policemen were injured by the explosion of a bomb thrown into a crowd in Wagram avenue during a meeting held by the French communist party in protest against the conviction for murder in Massachusetts of the Italians Sacco and Vanzetti. Several of the manifestants were hurt and six persons were arrested charged with disorderly conduct.

The meeting had been widely advertised as a "protest against the American government, capitalists and the execution" of Sacco and Vanzetti. The speakers were bitter in their vituperation of the American government and expressed execration of American capitalists.

It was openly announced that the Nantes communists will hold a manifestation before the American consulate there.

Similar displays were announced for Lille, Bordeaux, Marseilles, St. Nazaire, Lyons and at other places, wherever the American government is represented.

The demonstration which, according to police information, was to be held in front of the American embassy here, did not develop.

RAILROAD STRIKES MAY BE PENALIZED

PROPOSITION IS CONSIDERED FOR DRASTIC AMENDMENT TO ESCH-CUMMINS LAW.

PRESENT LAW IS INADEQUATE

Public Opinion Is Depended Upon by President to Provide the Penalty
Without Resort to the Courts.

Washington. — Having in mind all eventualities, the administration is canvassing the alternatives in the event that a strike should be persisted in after the Railway Labor Board has done all that it can to adjust the controversy. For the fact is the Esch-Cummings law, which created the Labor Board, did not provide penalties for violations of its decisions. President Harding hopes that public opinion will provide the penalty—that recourse to the courts will be unnecessary. Needless to say that would be a solution more in harmony with the wishes of the President than any other. That's why he dismisses as premature all proposals which take into consideration a possible violation by the unions of the mandate of the railway board.

Nevertheless, there is a well defined feeling in administration quarters which recognizes that some kind of a policy must be pursued if, indeed, public opinion does not compel respect for the decisions of the Railway Labor Board. The policy unquestionably will be an amendment to the Esch-Cummings law imposing fines and imprisonment on all persons convicted of inciting strikes or lockouts in defiance of the decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board. Such a drastic step is inevitable if a strike should be called.

IS GREAT NEED FOR TEACHERS

"Only Through Ever Expanding Facilities Can We Turn Out a Product of Disciplined Minds."

Williamsburg, Va. — Declaring the nation confronts an "educational crisis" through lack of teachers and public school facilities President Harding appealed in an address here for patriotic support of an educational system commensurate with national resources.

Mr. Harding spoke before a gathering of students and alumni of the College of William and Mary.

"It is no exaggeration," said President Harding, "to say the nation confronts an educational crisis. From every corner of the land, from country, town and city, comes the same report that the housing capacity for our public schools is inadequate; that tens of thousands of pupils have no place for their studies; that teachers cannot be listed in sufficient numbers, and that school revenues are insufficient. It may be said that, in this realm of education, we have been drawing on our capital, instead of spending the annual increment only; we have been taking the teachers away from the schools, and leaving a constantly increasing deficit in our capacity to turn out that product of disciplined minds which only can be insured through ever expanding facilities."

ADDRESS BY GEORGE HARVEY

Simplicity Marked the Presentation and Bestowal of the Medal, There Being a Brief Choral Service.

London. — Upon the simply inscribed slab in Westminster Abbey which marks the tomb of Great Britain's "unknown warriors" was laid the highest decoration within the gift of the American people. It was the medal of honor, voted by the congress of the United States in reaffirmation of the comradeship which united the United States and Great Britain in the world war.

The official presentation was made by George Harvey, American ambassador to the court of St. James, who delivered a brief address as the representative of the American government and of President Harding. The act of bestowing the medal was performed by Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American armies in France during the great struggle.

Simplicity marked the presentation and bestowal of the medal, there being only a brief choral service preceding these ceremonies, which were witnessed by a distinguished assembly.
