A NEW ORDER NEEDED.

The World War dealt a heavy blow to the present day civilization; in fact, it is still reeling under the effects of that titanic contest. Another great conflict of the nations would mark the beginning of a return to the dark ages, many persons believe, and we do not think they are far wrong.

But, the present danger that confronts us, the constant and increasingly bitter struggle between the elements in our society commonly identified as capital and labor, is so serious that it threatens to disrupt the economic fabric of the United States, as well as Germany, France and England. Unless there is perfected some arrangement to avert these crises in the comparatively near future, civilization will be extinguished by these internal forces as surely and as completely as it would be by a repetition of the Armageddon of 1914-1918.

Attorney General Daugherty's resume of the situation brought about by the shopmen's strike, in his motion for an injunction against the striking employees and their sympathizers, is a most compelling document. It is at least to some extent, the story of the havoc already wrought by the eight weeks strike of the tradesmen. It is unnecessary to repeat here the facts he cited, but attention can be directed to the destructiveness and waste occasioned by the walk out of these 400,000 railroad workers by his declaration that the transportation system would have to be rebuilt, and that one-half of the locomotives usually operating in this country are now out of commission.

The serious results of the shopmen's strike are insignificant when compared with what would be the condition if there were a general strike of the transportation workers. It would be followed by suffering that would be indescribable. That the combined railroad unions have it within their power to stop practically any wheel in the country in a moment's notice is not to be gainsaid. Furthermore, the status of the men not now on strike as a result of the shopmen's decision to fight the labor board's ruling, is not fixed. There is dynamite in the existing condition. The trackmen have filed a request for a $2 a day increase in wages, and the officers of this organization have already been empowered by vote of the membership to call a strike, whenever they deem it expedient. The question of the working conditions and wages of the members of the running trades, popularly called the "Big 4" is yet to be settled. These men, the engineers, foremen and conductors, especially, are the keystone of the transportation structure. If they stop work, trains will stop running. And, when the trains stop running, industry will come to a halt leaving this country in wretchedness and anarchy, such as is associated with the bolshevik regime in Russia.

It behooves those who are entrusted with the guidance of the nation's destiny to bend all their energies to bringing forth a new order in our industrial relations. The old system, showing signs of breaking up today, is pregnant with fearful possibilities.

Steps for Traffic Control

Shanghai, Sept. 5.—One outgrowth of a police report, which shows that in the first twelve months of the year 1,009 traffic accidents occurred in the thoroughfares of the International Settlement in which 33 were killed and 471 injured, is that new and more drastic traffic regulations were brought into force by the municipal council.

As the bulk of traffic accidents were due to improper riding on street cars the new regulations, among other things, prohibits riding on the steps of cars.

Arrest Four Men On Murder Charge

Memphis, Sept. 3.—Frank A. Miller, Seth W. Poston, Albert Johns and Charles Moak, said to be striking railroad workers, were arrested today on warrants charging murder in connection with the ambuscade and fatal wounding of Charles H. Lanier, Frisco system shop employee, who with two other men, was fired on from ambush while en route from his home to the Frisco shops in south Memphis yesterday.

Poston, according to a police announcement, confessed to implication in the attack on the automobile in which Lanier, Audie S. Carroll, also a Frisco employee, and Clarence Stevens, a shop foreman, were riding when they were fired on.

Poston, Johns, Moak and Miller, who declared themselves to be striking railroad workers, tonight confessed, according to the police, that they were implicated in the ambuscade which resulted in the fatal wounding of Charles H. Lanier, Lanier, Frisco shop worker, but declared it was not their intention to kill Lanier and that the ambush was arranged merely to frighten Clarence B. Stevens, a shop foreman, one of the two other men in the car with Lanier when he was killed.

Cotton Spinning Industry Progressing

Tokio, Sept. 5.—According to investigations carried out by the department of Agriculture and Commerce the cotton spinning industry in China has been making rapid progress in recent years. At present there are 69 spinning mills with 1,870,000 spindles and 10,800 weaving looms working. The annual output of the spinning mills in China is estimated at 800,000 to 1,000,000 bales of yarn and 3,200,000 yards of cotton fabrics. Besides these, 109 factories are now in course of construction and when they are completed 312,000 additional spindles and 16,000 looms will be working. China's producing capacity of cotton will thus be increased to something like 1,700,000 bales and that of cotton fabrics to 8,000,000 yards in the course of a year or two. At present, 31 spinning mills in China are operated by Japanese, 5 by foreigners other than Japanese, and 109 by Chinese.

It is estimated that when all the spindles now under construction are in operation the yearly consumption of raw cotton will amount to 11,000,000 piculs.

Supervising The Exchanges in Canada

Livestock commission men in Canada are coming under some new regulations which may have been stimulated by our new law respecting stockyards but are different in principle. The new Canadian regulations are being imposed by the livestock exchanges, after approval by the Live Stock Branch of the Canadian Department of Agriculture. They require a license for an exchange for each commission house, a bond of $10,000 given to the government for protection of shippers of stock, and a separate bank account for each commission form into which receipts from sales are deposited and out of which the firm may check only for designated purposes, including, of course, the purpose of making payments to shippers.—The nation's Business.

Tolbert Republicans Meet

Only One White Man Was Present at the Meeting.

Sumter, Sept. 1.

The Republican of Sumter county who affiliated with the Tolbert faction, which has the recognition of the Harding administration and is classed as the regular organization in South Carolina, held a meeting in this city Wednesday that was attended by quite a large number of negro leaders of various sections of the county. There was only one white man in attendance, according to reliable reports—J. Madison DesChamps of Pinewood—and he remained until the meeting adjourned.

It is stated that the speaker who made the keynote address of the day stressed the race issue and among other things declared that he "lived in hope of seeing the day when a negro would sit in the president's chair and live in the White House." The meeting was quiet and orderly and attracted little attention. No information respecting the proceedings or action taken has been given out. There is a rumor, however, that DesChamps may be put up as a candidate for congress on the Republican ticket against the Democratic incumbent, H. P. Fulmer. DesChamps, it will be remembered, was a candidate for the nomination for governor in the Democratic primary a few years ago. At the close of the primary, in which he received only a few votes, he announced in the press that he had gone over to the Bull Moose party. The Sumter Republican club, which was recently organized by white Republicans, residents in Sumter and which is anti-Tolbert, took no part in the meeting.—The State.

Spartanburg District of W. M. S. Meeting

The Spartanburg District meeting of the Woman's Missionary societies of the Upper South Carolina Conference was a most helpful and beneficial one. It was held at Grace church beginning last Thursday evening and closing on Friday evening when Dr. A. M. Trawick, professor of Wofford College, delivered a very fine address on social service.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Daisy Allen, district secretary. Among the state officers present beside Miss Allen were Mrs. D. N. Bourne of Lander College, corresponding secretary; Miss Catherine Mulligan, of Spartanburg, Mission study and publicity; Mrs. W. T. Smith, of Clover, Junior and Children's Work; Mrs. S. T. Lanham of Spartanburg, Bible Study; and Miss Louise Lanham, of Spartanburg, recording secretary.

The out-of-town delegates and visitors numbered 65.

A delightful luncheon was served in the basement of the church at noon on Friday.

Different phases of the work carried on in this district were gone over. Each period allotted to said subject being handled in a most delightful manner by the state officers; special music being interspersed between sessions.

A very able and well-spoken address was made by Mrs. D. N. Bourne on Thursday evening. Her wonderful flow of language and sweet voice impressed all with her message on our being willing to do God's will in our lives.

The Woman's Missionary society and the Johnnie Sanders Missionary society of Grace church were joint hostesses to this District meeting and are to be congratulated on its success.

An informal reception was held in the church parlors for the guests Thursday evening immediately after Mrs. Bourne's address.

WORN OUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out after I cooked a meal, as you would be if it had not been for my Vegetable Compound. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHRIST. PETROFF, 318 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.

Dedicate Monument to Brazil

Washington, Sept. 5.—A massive monument, known as "Friendship," and presented to Brazil by the United States Committee for Brazilian Memorial, will be dedicated shortly after the opening of the centennial exposition at Rio Thursday.

The statue, erected through donations by American business leaders interested in improving commercial relations between the United States and Brazil, measures 25 meters and 48 centimeters in height and resembles in design the statue of Liberty.

John L. Merrill, chairman of the memorial committee, who inaugurated the movement to present Brazil with a lasting memorial as "an expression of friendship on the part of the United States," received the approval of Secretary of State Hughes for it before public contributions were asked.

The selected design for the memorial consists of a colossal figure in bronze, symbolic of Friendship, holding in her right hand a sprig of laurel, and supporting with her left hand the flag of Brazil and the United States intertwined with laurel and palm, indicative of prosperity and peace. The main figure is supported on an imposing pedestal of stone, enriched with bas reliefs and at the base are four standing figures. There is inscribed a statement that the monument is the gift of the American people. Charles Keck, of New York, is the sculptor.

A site for the memorial was provided by the Brazilian government on the Avenida Presidente Wilson near the harbor. The committee which arranged details in this country was formed to act for the American Chamber of Commerce in Brazil in securing nation wide support throughout the United States.

FORGET IT.

Has a friend or a neighbor been strangely unkind, And you're aching to make him regret it? Don't give him in anger a "piece of your mind"—Just hold your tongue, and "forget it."

Are your motives impugned when you stand for the right? It will anger you sore if you let it. Don't roar like a lion that's spoiling to fight—Consider the source, and "forget it."

Is work never ceasing? The way bleak with toil? Does discouragement seem to beset it? They never can overcome who from labor recoil—Keep your eye on the goal, and "forget it."

Has luck been against you in ventures you've made? Has fortune frowned grim when you've met it? Don't give way to senseless, unseemly pride—Keep pegging away, and "forget it."

Does the honor you sought your rival adorn? Just wind up your hope and reset it. There are honors untaken and glories unborn—So turn loose your grouch, and "forget it."

Freight War Resumed

Shanghai, Sept. 5.—Two thousand miles from tide water in the far upper reaches of the Yangtze Kiang where only steamers of special construction may venture a freight war was fought out in the early summer months and ended with a general agreement by American, British, French, Japanese and Chinese interests that operate vessels in these treacherous waters. Then the agreement was broken and the rate war was resumed.

The slashing of rates developed when a considerable number of new vessels were put into service between Chungking and Ichang. When the rate war opened fourteen steamers were actively competing for business, exclusive of Standard Oil and Asiatic Petroleum boats plying these waters. The famed gorges of the Yangtze, one of the greatest scenic districts of China, are located in this stretch of white water.

It is over this route that the rich products of China's most populous province, Szechuen, are brought out. When the rate war was resumed in July ordinary cargo was being shipped on steamers more cheaply than the Chinese junks, which are drawn through the rapids by hundreds of coolies on tump lines, could afford to handle it.

Silk Manufacturers

Warned of Ruin

Yokohama, Japan, Sept. 5.—Japanese raw silk manufacturers who recently decided to withhold thirty per cent of their output from the Yokohama market have been warned by American buyers that this artificial stimulation of the trade might lead to its ruin. A paper prepared by Mr. C. E. Doudy, General Manager of the United States Testing company and read at a meeting of sericulturists and reeler explained how this ruin might be brought about by the use of substitutes unless the Japanese could bring down prices by the means of labor saving devices.

Explaining that the imports to and production in the United States of artificial silks had increased nearly sixfold in nine years and that more factories were being built he declared that prices must decline. He added:

"The flature men of Japan cannot more effectively play their industry into the hands of their rivals than by devoting their energies, skill and business sagacity to the artificial stimulation of the supply of raw silks below the normal demand or by establishing a fixed minimum price for export as was done in 1920. The fact that the New York market begins to hesitate at above 2,000 yen should be evidence that the American manufacturer cannot longer make and sell silk goods to the American public at prices based upon raw silk above that figure. He could in 1919 and 1920 when the prices of finished goods continued to rise.

"The action of the market in recent months would seem to indicate that with a uniform stable market between 1,800 yen and 2,000 yen the American manufacturer can do a fair business but above that he cannot meet competition with other fabrics. In cotton, artificial silk, and mercerized cotton, the cost of raw material constitutes from 16 to 30 per cent of the entire cost of the finished fabric. In silk, it is approximately 60 percent of the cost of the finished fabrics. This causes the silk manufacturer to be more sensitive to fluctuations in the raw material than other classes of textiles."
