Happenings of Interest About Town.

"A man is as good as he has to be, a woman as bad as she dares."

Mr. V. S. Gage, of Birmingham, Ala., attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. P. E. Fant.

Mr. L. G. Young and wife attended the banquet of the State press association at White Stone last Friday night.

Mr. W. Clyde Drummond, of Spartanburg, is on a vacation and is spending a part of it among his many friends in Union.

Messrs H. A. Copeland and Joe Daly, of the Bailey-Copeland Co., at Columbia, came up and assisted during the rush of the "Yellow Ticket" sale at the Bailey-Copeland Company.

The Western Union Telegraph Co. is putting in a leased wire from Spartanburg to this place for the cotton exchange, this office will also be connected with the Atlanta Cotton exchange.

Mrs. M. W. Bobo and Mrs. C. T. Boyd accompanied by their sister, Mrs. Garner, and children of New York, have gone to Cross Anchor to visit their father Col. A. T. Farrar.

Mrs. John G. White and daughter, of McComb, Miss., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown. Mrs. White was Miss Lillie Harris, daughter of the late Robert W. Harris and granddaughter of the late Holman Thompson.

Messrs. George Ubele and Carl Kraft, of Savannah, Ga., who have been visiting their uncle, Mr. L. Ubele, returned to their home Saturday. Mr. L. Ubele accompanied them and will spend a week with relatives and friends in that city.

The many friends of Capt. F. M. Farr will be pleased to know that his son Dr. James M. Farr has been elected vice-president of the Florida State University, which institution he has been professor of English for the past two years. This is no empty title but a deserved honor and in the line of promotion for which he is eminently qualified to preside over institutions of higher education.

Capt. J. T. Douglass went to Columbia Monday. He will be there this week with the other members of the investigating committee, inspecting and checking the books of the State officers, Secretary of State, Treasurer and Comptroller General.

Mr. R. A. Jones will not be with the Ratliff Dry Goods Company after August 1st having resigned as treasurer and sold his interest in the business to Mr. J. C. Ratliff, of Gaffney, S. C. Mr. Jones intends to embark in the dry goods business for himself alone in some town south. He says if he can get a nice storeroom here that it will be Union.

ALL DISPENSARIES MUST COMPLY WITH THE LAW.

State Board Issues Orders About Failure to Observe Regulations.

Columbia, July 18.—The State board of directors of the dispensary today passed a strong resolution calling upon the county boards of control to enforce the law. The resolution cites that there is complaint as to the neglect of the request books and of drinking on the premises in many counties and the county boards are informed that failure to comply with the law is the reason for removal of the dispensers. The county board can also be removed for cause and the State board calls attention to that section of the law covering the use of request books and drinking on the premises.

Recently a dispenser in Clarendon county was presented by the grand jury for failure to use the books and a member of the State board said today that this feature of the law would be looked into very closely from now on.

The only other important business done by the board was in regard to the special prices on case goods. Heretofore the dispenser would often make a special price on certain lines of goods by the case, the object being to get some of the business that had been going out of the State. It was found, however, that there were several ways to violate the law under this plan and the special price will be discontinued. There is an exception in regard to clubs, but the requests must come in through the county dispenser and signed by the officers of the club.

Our Macadam Streets.

The expert road builders sent out by the agricultural department of the U. S. government have completed 1498 lineal feet 40 feet wide of most excellent macadam road, beginning at the brick stable on Bachelor street to Main street thence east on Main street to the new Baptist church. This work is an object lesson for the town and county to be governed by in the future. Mr. A. N. Johnson highway engineer and Mr. J. H. Dodge experts have been in charge of the work. They have done an excellent piece of work and it will prove a most lasting benefit to the city, and the knowledge gained by this practical demonstration will also prove to be a great advantage to the road builders of our city and county. To read how to build a macadam road and to see it done are two very different things, for when we read of it, we can form a very good idea of how it can be done, but we lack the practical side, which is given us in the demonstration, when we see it done. The completion of this work, in the most improved and modern manner of road building is of great importance to this county, and we hope our road builders will profit by the lesson taught by these experts. There is much to be considered in road building, first, the proper grade to be given, second, the selection of proper material, 3d, the proper manner of putting on the material to make a good, substantial, lasting and permanent road, such as will not wear by weather or travel, all of this can be done, if the example set by these experts be faithfully followed.

Jonesville Jottings.

July 15, 1905.—The farmers time has come, the good time, when he can sit back in the shade, eat water-melons and look out at the fresh and growing crops, lol around with his good wife and babies, go to big meetings and have a good time generally. All this we enjoy and are thankful that the Lord has so blessed us.

'Tis true, we have had tight times with the grass for the last three months, when grassy fields lay out before us demanding our attention. It seemed that we would have a hard time in clearing it up, but now we are out and cotton bringing fancy prices. We ought to be happy and glad it hasn't been any worse.

Now let us all go to church and get good and stay that way, fill our souls with best wishes and love one another, especially the good women that have toiled and had the good dinners ready when the fathers and sons get hungry. With the baby in her arms they often have to stand over the hot stove and cook the good meals, but Mrs. Jack says she enjoys all that, so it pleases me and the babies, but we would enjoy it better if she would take better care of herself. We know what a time we have when she gets sick, the piglets in the churn, cat in the butter, biscuit burn and the baby falls about and we have a time generally. Some are laughing, some crying, but we try to be merry. Our good friend and neighbor that wears long beard comes down and has a good conversation, then everything gets calm. It is a great thing to have good neighbors that will cheer you up and make you feel better.

I thought I had better say something about our Sunday School convention, but as some other has given you an account of it I will not say much. You failed to mention Mr. T. H. Gore's speech in your article, which I thought was very interesting and eloquent. He outlined Sunday School work generally and referred to teachers that had done good and lasting work on that spot who have long since passed over to the shores of eternal bliss. I don't know who is doing most for the orphans and widows, the orphan home or Mr. Gore. The only trouble with Mr. Gore's part, the men don't dye quite fast enough, but 'tis all good when it comes in. The orphan home in my judgment is the next place to heaven, on earth. To have a place to send a little motherless babe where it will be cared for and trained up to usefulness is certainly a grand institution. Let us stay out of the dispensary, let alone so many cold drinks and send it to the orphan home where it will be a help to them and a blessing to us all. Remember somebody had to train us to what we are today, and you know some of us didn't get much.

Jonesville town and township is on a "boom" now. Our friend, Brother B. W. Whitlock, has just put up a good store where you can get most anything you may need in the way of "bought" living. Mr. Whitlock is a useful man, good farmer and a good church member. We wish for him a great success in his store. Jack is always glad to see the country growing. Let us have more enterprise, more improved farmers and homes, better schools, churches and roads. The roads are something that need our attention at once. I move that Jonesville be set off as a separate county, anyway, as we can get a representative, and Godfrey be appointed sheriff and Billie judge.

I am sorry to state that we have some fever in our town and country. Mr. E. F. McWhirter, Mr. Jim Gore and Miss Lizzie Whitlock have all had fever but are all doing well. Mrs. J. W. Scott is also suffering with throat trouble, which we hope will not prove fatal.

JACK THE FARMER.
