

DISTRESS CLOTHING SALE

Distress Clothing Sale Means a Sharing of Profits with you. It means more than that. It means that you will not have to go without the things that you really need, even though the price of cotton is very low. Even at market prices you can sell cotton to supply your needs, bring the money here and get clothing in exchange for that money that will bring the price of cotton up to a reasonable and just price. It's not charity on our part; no, it's business. We realize what it would mean for us to try and hold prices up and get them all during this season; we would suffer and our customers would suffer. Better to devise a plan for help all the way around. This is just what we have done in this great announcement. And, without any restrictions whatever, we send to the whole countryside a generous welcome to partake of this great profit-sharing sale. Come when you can, the opening day if possible, Saturday, Dec. 5. The doors open at 9 a. m.

Not a Thing Held Back in this Stock; It All Goes for 13 Days.

The Union Clothing Company Will Do Their Share

The thing was looked square in the face. No hesitation in deciding what to do. We waited until this time, knowing that the people would need the goods more now, just at the approach of real winter. It's important that you get the right place. Look for the big distress clothing signs. A mistake may cause you to lose money, for in all the wonderful bargain opportunities that this store has offered you in the past there was never one that would even approach this one before for real, genuine values. Remember that the real, genuine, money-saving sale does not open until Saturday morning.

DON'T DO IT! Don't get this sale confused with some every-day hurry-up sale. This is a bonafide Distress Clothing Sale and we are not going to spare a single article in our whole building. You get the benefit of our loss. Don't wait, for your friends are coming, and they might get here before you do and get the pick. It always pays to be the early bird.
