NOTES ON THE FIRST PRIMARY
Frank King lacked only six votes of getting in the second race.
Did you note the vote polled by S. J. Sellers? Better keep your eye on Sam. He looks like a winner.
It is regretted that W. F. Stevenson, esq., failed of election to Congress. His home county did her duty by him by rolling up a heavy majority in his favor.
Cheraw's failure to give Odom and Hunley a larger vote was the subject of much comment by their friends.
Tom Eddins received the heaviest majority of any candidate in the county. Mr. Eddins is admittedly the most popular officer in the Court-house.

PEACE
By Edwin Markham
Peace, peace, O men, for ye are brothers all—
Ye in the trench and on the shattered Wall.
Do ye not know ye come
Out of one Love and wear one sacred name?
O, brothers, lift a cry, a long world-cry
Sounding from sky to sky—
The cry of one great word,
Peace, peace the world-will clamoring to be heard,
A cry to break the ancient battle-pan,
To end in it the sacred name of man!

SCHOOL AT CONWAY GOING FORWARD
Conway, S. C.—The trustees of the Burroughs High School of this city are planning the construction of a four-room addition to the present building in order to meet the demands of the increased enrollment and to furnish physical accommodations for the teacher-training class which was established in connection with this school some weeks ago by the State Board of Education.
The addition will consist of a brick extension of the present building and will be erected at a cost of approximately $4,000. To finance this proposition the district to-day voted an additional levy of three mills to liquidate the debt within the next three or four years. The issue was carried overwhelmingly, the vote being 60 to 4 in favor of the levy. This was the largest vote ever polled on a school issue in the district, which shows that the patrons of the school are intensely interested in its material progress and that they stand as a unit when it comes to school matters. The contract for the addition will be let within a few days.
The establishment of a teacher-training course in conjunction with the Conway school will mean much, both for the school and the community, since it means that the Burroughs school graduates will be with in easy access of such a course and that the teachers of this and adjoining counties may have the opportunity of better preparing themselves for their profession.
The establishment of such a school at Conway will mean that all persons above the age of 17 in Horry, Georgetown, Marion, Dillon, Florence, Williamsburg and nearby counties who intend to teach can avail themselves of this school free of charge. They will not only be permitted to pursue this course but any other of the courses offered by the Conway school. It is understood that more than 40 teachers have signified their intention of attending the teacher-training course this year.
The Burroughs High School will open Monday, September 18, at 9 a. m. for the fall session. Quite a number of pupils from the rural schools in the county have signified their intention of attending this school and it is expected that the opening will be a record-breaker. The fact that the taxpayers of this district have voted and carried almost unanimously three successive levies, aggregating seven mills, within the past two years not only shows their determination to make the Burroughs High School second to none in the State, but also shows the popularity of the school in the community.

NATURE TELLS YOU
As Many a Chesterfield Reader Knows Too Well.
When the kidneys are weak. Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.
People in this vicinity testify to their worth.
J. W. Bundy, Marion St., Cheraw, S. C., says: "My kidneys were disordered and caused such terrible pains through my back that I could hardly keep going. Mornings, I was sore and lame. My head ached and I had dizzy spells. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, although the flow was scanty. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved all signs of kidney complaint."
Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Bundy had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Didn't Know It Was Loaded."
From The Pee Dee Advocate:
Rubby Baldwin, a negro boy, aged five years, was instantly killed by Buster McIntosh, aged eight years, on last Friday afternoon. The affair happened in the edge of the woods skirting Mr. W. R. Fletcher's place. Buster McIntosh (son of the late William McIntosh, who worked at the A. C. L. depot), unknown to older persons, had possession of the pistol—"unloaded," as usual—and the two children were playing with it. The Baldwin child was killed instantly.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL
Starts Your Liver Without Making You Sick and Cannot Salivate.
Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist—has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.
"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation you have only to ask for your money back.
Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel to-day and to-morrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

THE CROWNS MUST GO.
Henry Watterson, with his old-time vigor, writes of what will come to pass in Europe as the result of the present war:
"It is the belief of the Courier-Journal that there will not be a crowned head in Europe fifty years hence. The course of Democracy is onward and cannot be stayed. As surely as the Hohenzollern and the Hapsburg will be blown to atoms by the winds of a tempest of their own making, will autocracy in Russia and the remains of the right divine of kings in England be made to walk the plank into the waves of the Democratic ocean that already beat against the rotting old hulk of monarchy. The people of all lands will rise supreme. In the matter of personal sovereignty it may be said that, alike in kind, they differ only in degree. So, having stood aghast before murder done by the Germans in the Irish Sea, why should we not raise our voice in horror before murders done by the English in Ireland, premising that "when Kaiserism is made to stand naked in Wilhelmstrasse before offended Deity, and royalty, stripped of crown and robes, is forced to kneel in the Tower of London to ask forgiveness of heaven, both may realize that the voice of the people is alone the voice of God?"

President Wilson, with that far-seeing gift of forecasting the future, says that "the United States will be the chief financial reliance of the world after the war." His policy of preparedness for what ever may happen after the war is a most commendable policy and one that should be adopted regardless of party politics.

THEY WERE BADLY SCARED
When the bill to prevent corrupt practice in elections was introduced into Congress it caused fluttering among Republican Senators. The bill passed the House and when introduced in the Senate, Mr. Owen, one of the Democratic leaders of that body, said to the Republican Senators who were trying to delay its passage, "This matter can be disposed of in twenty-four hours, except a possible Republican filibuster, if they dare face the country with it."
Senator Owen, in further advocacy of the bill said, "All that I want to do is to put a stop to the buying of elections in this country by private citizens who are multimillionaires and who can spend millions of dollars without feeling it."

THRIVING ALASKA
Few people know much about Alaska, thinking of it only as Uncle Sam's ice house, but there's much to be said in favor of that country. Before Uncle Sam took Alaska, its main inhabitants were the walrus and the polar bear. But since Russia sold Alaska to us the commerce of the country has wonderfully increased.
Alaska's sales to the United States in the last fiscal year aggregated $50,000,000—double the annual average since 1912. The chief export was copper, which was valued at $26,500,000. Canned salmon amounted to $18,000,000; gold to $16,200,000. With the construction of the railroad that Congress has authorized, it is likely that the trade with Alaska will be doubled.
The building of this railroad is another of the great achievements of the Democratic administration.
Hetty Green was always looking out for Hetty. Even as to her will she took the precaution to execute it in Vermont, where the inheritance tax on her estate of $125,000,000 would be only $1,250. Had she made the will at her home in New York the inheritance tax would have been $5,000,000. Up to the mouth of the grave Hetty was thrifty. But as was said of the millionaire, Russell Sage, she too, "was a beggar at the gate of heaven."

RELIEF TANLAC GAVE CAUSES MOTHER WONDER
Mrs. Knowles Thinks Tanlac Gave Daughter Almost Unbelievable Aid.
WAS TREATED FOR PELLAGRA
Says Mrs. Benson Ate Only a Few Bites During a Day—Condition Was Very Bad.
"I do not see how any medicine could do as much for anyone as Tanlac did for my daughter," said Mrs. L. Knowles, of 118 Sumter St., Columbia, in a statement giving high endorsement to Tanlac. Mrs. Knowles referred to the case of Mrs. Bessie Benton, who lives at her mother's home.
The relief Tanlac gave Mrs. Benton was remarkable, Mrs. Knowles said. Her statement, describing Mrs. Benton's ailments and the results Tanlac gave her, follows:
"My daughter, Mrs. Bessie Benton, suffered from what was said to be a severe case of pellagra. She was treated by specialists here, and had taken pellagra treatments, but she got no better while doing so. She did not eat anything at all, and I do not see how she lived, she ate so little. Her stomach was in very bad shape, and many a day she did not eat over three or four bites during the day.
"She was run down terribly, had no strength and felt badly all the time. Her head hurt all the time, and she was never easy, her head ached so much. Her nerves were so bad that you could see her shake.
"We read about Tanlac, and she decided to buy it. And Tanlac did her a wonderful amount of good. She has more life and energy now than she has had in years. She has a good appetite, eats a great deal and seems to have no trouble with her stomach. She says she does not tire as quickly now, and she works all day, but before she took Tanlac she was so weak she could hardly do anything.
"She has gained some weight and looks a great deal better. She does not complain of headaches lately. There is no medicine like Tanlac she thinks.
"I am glad to recommend Tanlac, and so is she, for she told me she intended writing a testimonial and sending it to the State agent. I know it is fine, for I know what it did for Bessie. I do not see how any medicine could do so much for anyone as Tanlac did for her."

Texas, on the border of Mexico, shows appreciation of President Wilson and his policies by electing Senator Culberson, who was recognized as the Wilson candidate. His opponent, Gov. Colquitt, has criticized the Democratic administration quite vigorously. Senator Culberson's majority was about 70,000.

SAVES DAUGHTER
Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.
Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.
Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.
At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.
I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."
If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.
At all druggists.
