POLES HEADING FOR FRANKFURT

The Lublin radio announced Friday, May 11th that 1,000 Poles, the first group to be settled in Frankfurt on the Oder in Germany would arrive there in a few days to assume posts in the local government, industry, commerce and communication. The announcement from a radio operated by the Soviet-recognized Polish regime and reported by OWI, recalled the Big Three's Yalta conference decision to award some German territory to Poland in exchange for Poland's surrender of some of its eastern territory to Russia. The Yalta conferees said the final decision on Poland's new western frontier should await the peace conference.

Frankfurt on the Oder, an industrial city of some 75,000, is 50 miles southeast of Berlin by rail, situated on the west bank of the Oder river in the province of Brandenburg.

Lublin said groups of Poles would be transferred there "in connection with the resettlement of people in ancient Slav land that now returns to the mother country."

Frankfurt on the Oder was in Polish hands before the 13th century, when it became Germanic in the spread of Teutonic influence. It withstood a siege by the Poles in 1450.

Other groups of Poles already have been resettled in German territory overrun by the Russians. A Polish dispatch from Warsaw on April 20 said the first of several thousand of Polish peasants were moving to new homes in East Prussia, western Pomerania and Silesia.

On March 22, the Polish press agency in Moscow said provisional President Boleslaw Beirut had told the first Polish troops to reach the Baltic that Poland would get the seaports of Danzig and Stettin, as well as the prewar sea outlet of Gdynia.

Aull was taken prisoner in Luxembourg in December of last year during the German break through in the Ardennes. After his furlough he will report to Miami, Fla. for reassignment.

This makes the sixth son that Mr. and Mrs. Miller have serving their country.

MARVIN A. GRAHAM has been liberated after being a prisoner in Germany nearly three years, according to a telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Graham of Pomaria, Tuesday morning, through the local Red Cross.

Major Way has just returned to the States from Italy where he was on active duty for the past 29 months.

MAJOR HARRY O. BUZHARDT, U. S. M. C. son of Mrs. Ezzie Buzhardt, was somewhat seriously wounded in action on Okinawa Island, according to a letter from the War Department, received Monday by Major Buzhardt's mother here.

Later a letter was received by his wife (the former Kaller Young of Whitmire) from Major Buzhardt in which he said he was wounded in the side by shrapnel, but was now convalescent and expected to be back with his outfit at an early date.

Lieut. S. D. "BOZO" PAYSINGER, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Paysinger, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant from flight officer and also promoted to "Dead Reckoning" Navigator and leader of a squadron of planes.

Lieutenant Paysinger writes his parents from England: "For the past few days I have been leading aerial sight-seeing tours over Germany. It is really interesting and we get a chance to see what the country looks like."

EARL W. DICKERT, S 1-c, son of John W. Dickert of Pomaria, helped take a new U. S. Cruiser ship into battle for the first time on March 18th against the Japanese in the Pacific.

Her guns sent two Japanese bombers crashing into the sea not far from Japan and the carriers she defended so well are free to launch their planes.

"Business as usual" was the plan of the day, and outwardly the officers and men carried on as if they had no notion of the imminence of battle. But they all knew just over the horizon lay the mainland of Japan.

Within each officer and man there was mounting tension that made itself known in little things. A few Bibles appeared, some new, some dog-eared and worn; there was more loud laughter than usual, more zealous attempts at horse-play. A quiet checking of battle gear, or the studied writing of letters gave evidence of serious thought. Men asked each other what difference there was between a Jap plane and the hundreds of targets they had so efficiently knocked from the skies.

Shortly after dawn, when the first Jap "Betty" stole through a curtain of ack-ack and let loose its bombs, the men knew there was a difference.

The next plane did not get through; it dissolved in the focal fire of a barrage from the ships of the task force. A third one, intent on sowing destruction on the deck of a carrier, broke through, but it was riddled with flack and diverted. Other planes came in to meet the fierce anti-aircraft fire of this cruiser and other ships of the force, but they were repelled. The carriers moved on toward their goal.

That evening the Captain of this newly-baptized cruiser spoke from his station on the bridge to the men at their battle stations. The planes of returning U. S. Airmen speckled the sky as they maneuvered from landings. The Captain's words were proud:

"Objective realized. . . losses of task force aircraft light. . . damage to enemy severe."

"For this ship, two Jap planes; one probable. For you of the crew, well done, shipmates!"

The Jap is aware that a new ship has joined Uncle Sam's first team.

Pope has assured friends here by telephone from his camp in Colorado that he has definitely decided to become a candidate for the House vacancy created by the resignation of Judge Steve C. Griffith. MEETING SUNDAY ON BEHALF 7TH WAR LOAN

A county-wide mass meeting was held at the county court house Sunday afternoon with some 700 people present, representing all sections of the county. They listened attentively to talks about the 7th War Loan drive which began Monday morning.

The meeting opened with the audience singing "Stars Spangled Banner," the singers accompanied by the Newberry band, after which the flag bearer, Howard Parks, entered with the flag and the allegiance, led by Wright Cannon, was repeated. The prayer was by Rev. H. C. Ritter of the Methodist church.

Prof. T. E. Epting introduced Judge Neal W. Workman and the three guest speakers, recently liberated from German prison camps.

In making an appeal for the 7th War Loan, Judge Workman said this drive should be dedicated to the mothers on this Mother's day and to the mothers who have lost sons in the service. He further stated that the firing in Europe was over but that war had not stopped, and would go on for a long time, until the peace people once knew is restored. He said that if there ever was a time which justified buying war bonds it was now.

Following Judge Workman's talk, a solo, "America, The Beautiful" was sung by Ap. Seaman Kermit A-1 person, a Newberry V-12 student, being accompanied by Miss Mazie Dominick on the piano.

The first guest speaker introduced was First Lieut. King. Boyd, who said that the stories of German atrocities were not overdrawn. He said that it would have been impossible for them to have survived but for Red Cross food parcels.

Sgt. Ralph Fellers spoke next. He said he did not know what a good country the U. S. was until he crossed the pond. The only food he got as a prisoner was sugar beet pulp after the sugar had been removed and one potato a day. Sgt. Fellers related how when first taken prisoner he was beaten and treated very cruelly, until a crowd of them got together and went to the prison head and told him they would see that his name went on the list of war criminals unless better treatment was received. They got better treatment as a result. Sgt. Fellers said the first truck he saw after the Russians liberated him was an American Lend Lease truck and he was so overcome by the sight of it that he rushed over and patted it.

Pvt. Larry Bounknight told how he walked 22 miles in one day without food or water and that when guards were not looking they would quickly snatch a handful of snow to quench their thirst. He said they lived four days in a box car, and for the first eight days the only food was a single piece of bread and a small piece of cheese. He said the guards and civilians took all the Red Cross packages. He declared it was "swell" to be back in this country.

The guest speakers were all lavish in their praise of the Red Cross and for the devotion of the home front in producing war supplies. The meeting was presided over by Bond Chairman Mayor E. B. Purcell, who said Newberry had always goes well over the top and that he was not in the least worried that she would not do so again in the "Mighty 7th." "The people of Newberry have always done their part, and they will do it again," he said. "We are not going to let down our fine boys out there fighting and giving their blood to make this a decent world to live in," the mayor concluded.

One of the messages in the stack on a table in the Saluda congressman's office today was addressed to "Butler Haire," another to "Butler Black Hair," and the prize specimen, "Harry Butler, chairman of the House appropriations committee."

Mr. Hare actually is chairman of the subcommittee of the House appropriations committee.
