Items of Interest Gathered in the Local Business World

Mr. Chas. Prevost, the up-to-the-minute, and then some, groceryman, has bought and installed a handsome McCrary refrigerator in his South Side Grocery, with which he will now be able to keep vegetables and other perishables in perfect condition. This is what you call "good service." The customers who order by phone don't have an opportunity to see the trouble and expense that a merchant goes in order to give them perfect goods and the best of service, but the merchant who is striving to give his trade the best service looks after the details of his business in a manner that will insure the best of service at all times, whether the customers are aware of the extra expense and trouble or not.

Mr. W. S. Ramsey, the genial manager of the Anderson Cash Grocery, not to be outdone by Mr. Eugene Brown, his co-worker. He has dressed the south window of their store with a display of Grape Juice (unfermented) that is worthy of a cracker-jack window trimmer. It is really a beautiful window, and whether you are William J. Bryan or Josephus Daniels, that window of grape juice will make your mouth water, so "here's to you, Brother Ramsey!"

Mr. John Madden, the top-notch window dresser of T. L. Cely Co., certainly has outdone himself this week, with a very neat display of Palm Beach suits, and other Keep Kool Kiothes, etc. He has gone to the trouble and expense of some pretty porch furniture with which to help dress the window, which adds greatly in carrying out the idea of cool clothing for hot weather.

"What's the matter Pinkston with your vaudeville—why haven't you any vaudeville troupe today?" This, and many others like it, were fired at Manager Pinkston of The Palmetto yesterday.

"Please tell the public for me," said Pinkston Monday afternoon, "that I was lucky enough to learn before they reached here that the company which I had booked for the Palmetto this week was not up to the Palmetto standard, and I cancelled them."

"You may also tell the people that while I will not have any vaudeville this week, I will have the best selected pictures ever shown in the city."

Manager Henry Frierson was jubilant yesterday afternoon about having secured Robert Cooper and his excellent orchestra for the Paramount theatre. He says that Mr. Cooper, who led the Anderson theatre orchestra until a few days ago, when he left the city, going to Spartanburg, has positively been engaged for the Paramount, and the lovers of good music in Anderson may rest assured that by tomorrow afternoon Robert Cooper will be dispensing sweet music at the Paramount.

The people of Anderson will be delighted that Robert Cooper, the young violinist, and excellent orchestral leader, is to return to Anderson, for while he has only been here but a few months, he has made numerous friends, and charmed everybody with his sweet music.

Heavy Rains and Wind Sunday.
The city of Anderson and the country generally was visited by a rather severe rain and wind storm last Sunday evening. While no serious damage was done in the city, or in the country, so far as has been learned, streets and roads and fields were washed and cut up to a considerable extent. The Southern Public Utilities company had one or two feed wires blown down, but these were soon readjusted. WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, But Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I could die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

Crackers—a la National Biscuit Co.

Cotton should be side dressed just as soon after it is thinned out and clear of grass as can be done, so that the plant will get the full benefit of all this extra fertilization and of all the early rains. It does a great deal more good when applied early.

Fertilizer was used lightly this spring, and side dressing will pay handsomely this year if put on early. We are making a 652 and a 472 especially for side dressing. You will find it profitable to use it. It should be applied last of May if possible, if not then early in June.

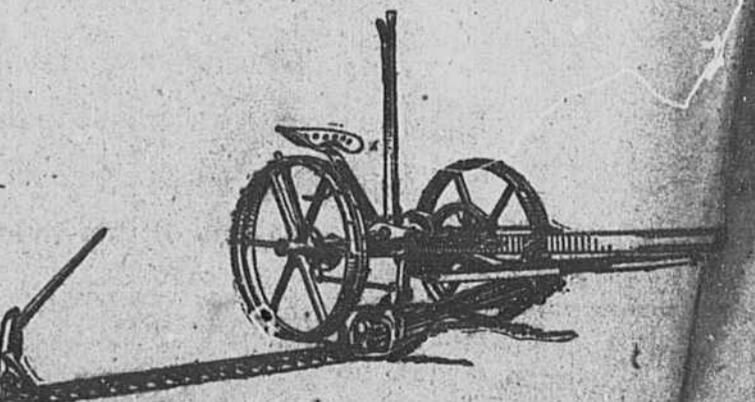

If cotton is cheap the more you make to the acre the better you are off. If cotton is high the more you make to the acre the better you are off. For every dollar you pay out for side dressing you get back from three to five dollars. But apply it early. These goods are ammoniated with soda, blood, tankage and fish.

Mr. J. S. Fowler says that one advantage you get in side dressing your cotton is that if you sow your cotton lands in oats next fall, you will have enough fertilizer left in the soil to give the oats a good "send off," and he says that will be all in the world your oats will need to start them off in fine shape. So you see you can fertilize two crops with one application—killing two birds with one stone.

McCormick Vertical Lift Mower

The McCormick vertical lift mower has all the good features of the regular McCormick mowers, and, in addition, it is so made that the cutter bar can be raised to a vertical position and lowered without stopping the team. This makes the McCormick vertical lift mower one that is meeting great demand for cutting on rough and stumpy ground. It permits the driver to cut close to the tree, stump or rock, and save all the hay without loss of time or inconvenience. The cutter bar also can be raised high enough to pass over stones and stumps by means of a very convenient foot lift. While the McCormick vertical lift mower is an exceptionally good machine for cutting in rough and stony ground, it is practical for all kinds of grass cutting. It will do good work in any place where the machine can be drawn by horses and under conditions where an ordinary machine could not be used. As an all-purpose mower it is unsurpassed.
