SHERIFF HOOD AND NEGRO SHOT WHILE ON WAY TO TRIAL

boro telegraphed Governor Manning that three or four men had been wounded in the mob's efforts to lynch the negro and asked for militia. The Winnboro company was ordered under arms, but it is stated that no ammunition was available and the adjutant general's office began preparations to forward the ammunition to Winnboro. Later orders were sent to Columbia for a special train to take Dr. LeGrand Guerry and surgeons to Winnboro, and they had orders to be ready to operate on Sheriff Hood as soon as Winnboro was reached. The special left Columbia at 11:05 o'clock. Later Capt. Doty of the Winnboro militia company telephoned to Columbia for ammunition, saying that his supply was short. Upon orders from the governor's office Major J. Shapter Caldwell left Columbia at 11:25 with 3,000 rounds of ammunition. He was accompanied by a details of 10 men to keep the mob from seizing the ammunition. A report from Winnboro this afternoon said that the sheriff and his 20 deputies had just arrived at the court house when a small mob began firing into the crowd. The deputies returned fire. The negro was almost instantly killed. Sheriff Hood dropped mortally wounded in the abdomen and four deputies fell by the shots of the mob. The special train bearing the wounded men will arrive in Columbia at one o'clock. The situation was reported quiet at noon with the militia in full charge of the situation. No arrests have been made.

Cannot Harm Wilson. Philadelphia Public Ledger: When a case of suicidal mania becomes as acute as Mr. Bryan's, nothing that the most expert political alienist can do is likely to work a cure. Each attempt of the recent secretary of state to kill himself as a public man seems to be more desperate than the last. The letter in which he announced his resignation indicated hardly anything more serious than melancholia. His explanation of "the real issue" closely approaches acute dementia. Sidney Smith's familiar retort to the man who approached him with "Mr. Jones, I believe," suggests the incurable nature of his delusions. "Sir," retorted Smith, "if you believe that you will believe anything." If Mr. Bryan believes that his appeal to the people of the United States can do the president harm, that it will cure a single person capable of straight thinking, there can be no limit to his credulity.

FIVE DISTRICTS HAVE COMPULSORY FEATURE

ALL HAVE ADOPTED THE LAW BY HAVING PETITIONS SIGNED.

MEANS PROGRESS

Anderson Among Leading Counties in Taking Advantage of This Compulsory Law.

Five school districts in Anderson county now have the compulsory school attendance law, in each instance the law being effective by a petition of the majority of the voters in the districts. The first one to adopt this law was the Cleveland district, and Townville, Zion, Neal's Creek and West Pelzer having followed next. It is said that in the Zion district all but ten voters signed the petition. From all that can be learned about the school districts in the other counties of the state, it seems that Anderson is right along in the front in the movement for the advancement of education. Although it is stated that no petitions are now being circulated, it is thought that other districts will adopt this law before next fall.

Should Have Quit Before. Springfield Republican: Mr. Bryan's peculiar work as the indispensable political prop of the Democratic president had seemed finished before the break between them in relation to the war issues with Germany caused the secretary's resignation. The adjournment of the Democratic congress signalled the conclusion of the secretary's political mission. If one may take an impersonal view of the situation, it was high time that Mr. Bryan retired from an office for which he was indifferently fitted and made way for a thorough expert in international affairs. The pity of it is that Mr. Bryan could not have seen the necessity for this unselfish course several months ago. If he could not abide by the requirements of a firm and even stern diplomacy because of his pacifist principles, he should have resigned when the German submarine warfare on merchantmen was announced and the president notified Germany that it would be held to a "strict accountability" was outrageous on America's neutral rights. The People With Mr. Wilson. Norfolk Virginian-Pilot: The people of the whole United States, regardless of party or party affiliation, are behind President Wilson, in full confidence in the righteousness of his position and in his determination to uphold the dignity and honor of the nation.
