TO SPEAK AGAINST BRITISH BLOCKADE

Hoke Smith Will Make Series of Speeches Demanding Action by U. S.

Atlanta, Sept. 18.—Senator Hoke Smith is coming south within the next couple of weeks, it is announced from Washington, to make a series of speeches for the purpose of solidifying sentiment on the question of demanding a cessation of the British cotton blockade.

Backed by what he believes the universal sentiment in the south to be, it is stated that he will return to Washington for the winter session ready to push a retaliatory resolution through congress as soon as it convenes.

The situation with regard to cotton has been materially strengthened, it is believed, by the attitude of the middle western meat producers and packers over the recent seizure by Britain and confiscation of several million dollars worth of meats destined to Denmark and other neutral countries.

The meat people and southern cotton growers, it is believed, will combine to urge upon their representatives in congress and upon the administration some action that will force Great Britain to change her attitude.

BOMB THROWERS GET VICTORIA CROSSES

London, Sept. 4.—(Associate Press Correspondence.)—The award of five additional Victoria Crosses is announced in the London Gazette. Four of them were won by "most conspicuous bravery" in connection with bomb-throwing exploits which now constitute such an important feature of trench warfare. It was during operations southwest of Krithia on the Gallipoli Peninsula that Captain Gerald Robert O'Sullivan, First Battalion, Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, won the highest award for valor. This is what he did, as narrated in the official report:

"On the night of the 1st-2nd July, 1915, when it was essential that a portion of a trench which had been lost should be regained, Captain O'Sullivan, although not belonging to the troops at this point, volunteered to lead a party of bomb throwers to effect the recapture."

"He advanced in the open under a very heavy fire, and, in order to throw his bombs with greater effect, got up on the parapet where he was completely exposed to the fire of the enemy occupying the trench. He was finally wounded, but not before his inspiring example had led on his party to make further efforts, which resulted in the recapture of the trench."

"On the night of 18th-19th June, 1915, Captain O'Sullivan saved a critical situation in the same locality by his great personal gallantry and good leadership."

"On the day following this announcement came another, more sinister, in the official casualty list, giving Captain O'Sullivan in the list of "missing."

"Sergeant James Sommers of the same battalion won the Victoria Cross at the same time. "When, owing to hostile bombs, some of our troops had retired from a sap," says the report in the London Gazette. "Sergeant Sommers remained alone on the spot until a party brought the bombs. He then climbed over into the Turkish trench and bombed the Turks with good effect."

"Later on he advanced into the open under very heavy fire and held back the enemy by throwing bombs into their flank until a barricade had been established. During this period he frequently ran to and from our trenches to obtain fresh supplies of bombs."

"What Second Lieutenant Herbert James of the Worcestershire Regiment, did to win the cross in the Gallipoli operations, is thus described: "On the 28th June, 1915, when a portion of a regiment had been checked owing to all the officers being put out of action, Second Lieutenant James, who belonged to a neighboring unit, entirely on his own initiative, gathered together a body of men and led them forward under heavy shell and rifle fire. He then returned, organized a second party and again advanced. His gallant example put fresh life into the attack."

"On the 2nd July, on the same locality, he headed a party of bomb throwers up a Turkish communication trench, and, after nearly all his bomb throwers had been killed or wounded, he remained alone at the head of the trench and kept back the enemy single-handed till a barrier had been built behind him and the trench secured. He was throughout exposed to a murderous fire."

The Service of the Sanitary Barber Shop is Absolutely Sanitary

IN EVERY DETAIL

It is an easy matter and costs nothing to name a shop "Sanitary" b-u-t to render a PERFECTLY SANITARY barber service is different

In shaving, the lather is first made from Soap Powder, sifted into an absolutely Clean Mug and Brush, which was first scalded out with boiling water; this avoids the use of the "leavings" of the lather from the man who was shaven just before you. The Razor is emerged into a Carbolic Acid solution before it is used on any patron. All Towels are taken from our Famous Buffalo Sterilizer, where in each towel is sterilized just as a Surgeon sterilizes his instruments before a serious operation. The Combs, Brushes, Clippers, Shears, etc. are all kept in Formaldehyde Antiseptic Sterilizers.

This Means Much to You But Costs You Nothing Extra

You, Mr. Particular Man

You shave yourself because you are in the habit of doing it, and get it off your mind the first thing in the morning when you arise. You cannot, however, cut your hair. We have a corps of expert barbers who pay particular attention to particular men. We will give you a head-barber's cut every time, sanitary in every detail, and one which will please you, no matter how fastidious your ideas may be. Try it next time! You'll be glad, and so will we.

Basse, in France, on August 3rd, of this year, that Second Lieutenant George A. B. Lockhart of the Scots Guards, displayed "most conspicuous gallantry" and won the V. C.

"At 2 a. m. a German trench mortar bomb landed on the side of the parapet of the communicating trench in which he stood close to a small working party of this battalion. He might easily have stepped back a few yards round the border into perfect safety, but, shouting to his men to look out, he rushed at the bomb, seized it, and hurled it over the parapet, where it at once exploded.

"There is no doubt," adds the official report, "that this splendid combination of presence of mind and courage saved the lives of many of the working party."

The wish is expressed in the London papers that some enterprising film producer turn out a series of moving pictures depicting various exploits by which the V. C. has been won.

POLICY LOST

St. Louis, July 2nd., 1915.

Mr. Geo. E. Black,
General Agent, Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., City.

Dear Sir: Referring to the check for $891.35 received from you yesterday, in payment of amount due on your company's policy 27,256, taken out by my father, M. F. Boswell, in 1864, I wish to take this occasion to express to you my appreciation of the manner in which this matter has been handled by your company and the courtesy extended to me in connection with it.

As administrator of my father's estate I failed to find among his papers the above mentioned policy, or any reference to it, so that I was unaware of its existence when your Mr. C. B. Carman called at my office on June 17th, and learning that my father died in November, 1910, left word, in my absence, that such a policy was in force and that your company was prepared to make prompt settlement of it.

On June 24th, last, I left with your Mr. Carman the papers necessary to establish my right to receive payment on this policy, and, yesterday, just seven days later, I received such payment.

The foregoing shows, I think, the integrity of purpose of your company and its diligence in carrying out the same.

Yours truly,
Geo. W. Boswell,
Administrator.

AFTER 44 YEARS

Olathe, Colo., July 19, 1915.

Mr. G. A. Newkirk,
General Agent,
The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., Denver, Colo.

Dear Sir: I desire to acknowledge through your Agency, the receipt of a check for $140.55, in payment upon a policy taken by Mr. Kendall P. Stone, in the year 1867, on which he paid only the first premium, allowing the policy to lapse in 1868.

For only this one payment he was credited with a paid-up policy for $100.00, which you now pay me, 44 years since my husband's death, and $40.53, in dividends.

This is truly generous treatment, as I had no claim whatever, not knowing of the existence of the policy, as Mr. Stone had not told me of the facts.

I hope this wonderful settlement will be a guide to those desiring life insurance that insures. Again thanking you and your Company, I beg to remain,

Very respectfully,
Mrs. Maria Stone.
