Wade Hampton's Farewell to His Soldiers From His Piazza Last May.

My Comrades: I have indeed as Maj. Hart has said, heard that Rebel yell often before and when I heard it from my own men, from the men whom I had the honor to command, I knew that we were safe. I think it is one of the British poets who said: "The kites know well

The long leaguer's swell

That bids the Romans close."

I might paraphrase this by saying:

The Yanks knew well

The Rebel yell

That bade the Johnnies close.

My old heroes, I hope it never will be forgotten. I hope it will be transmitted to your children and to your children's children—if not for them to use to tell how it used to ring from the forests of Virginia, how it rang from Gettysburg to the west, and how it always told of men who were willing to die for their southland, to die for truth, for honor, for manhood, for chivalry and for a great truth. I want you to try and teach to your children and to your children's children that ours was not a lost cause. I want you to tell them that we were fighting for the right. George Washington was a rebel, but Lee was not. When Great Britain recognized the independence of this country she did not recognize the independence of the United States, but of each sovereign State as independent and sovereign. There were 13 independent and sovereign States. They founded this union and they had the right to withdraw from it whenever they chose so to do. We were not successful—it is not given to mortals to command success. You have done more—you have deserved it.

And now in your declining years and when mine have extended long beyond the period allotted to man, you, my old comrades, whom I loved, whom I trusted and with whom I felt as safe as I do now, I want to say to you all that all the love you have given me has been more than reciprocated; that all that I have ever been able to do for you, for any one of you, or for South Carolina, has been more than repaid by the honors you have unsolicited conferred upon me and by this the crowning honor of my life. I may not see you again. I remember a story of an old bishop who, when ready to retire from public life, went to the abbot and said: "Father abbot, an old man whose heart is broken by the storms of state is come to lay his weary bones among you."

That is all I shall ask of South Carolina—a few feet of earth where my kindred for six generations are resting. And I am proud to say that one or more of each generation, since they were known in South Carolina, has filled a bloody grave for South Carolina. (Applause.) I claim no credit for that. Every South Carolinian who was true was willing to give his blood and his life for the old State. I am sure that I was willing to do so. I think I can say so to you, my men, that I never turned my back upon any of you when your faces were turned toward the enemy. The greatest honor that I felt during the war was once when I came upon a poor private who was dying. I stopped beside him and he said: "I am happy to die fighting and I am proud to die fighting under you."

I pray God will bless you and will give you peace and prosperity, give it to the old State, give it to each one of you and that you will go home and tell your kindred that you have seen your old comrade and that he thanks them through you.

Dangerous if Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankee town, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. McMaster Co.

Dispensary School Fund.

The comptroller General is now at work apportioning the first instalment of dispensary profits in some time that have been paid for distribution to the school fund. The dispensary a short time ago paid over $25,000 and under the law the first thing is to make up the "deficiency," so that each school in the various counties shall receive at least $75 for the year and run for at least three months. The amounts that are indicated are what is necessary for every school in the various counties to get at least $75 for the year. It is manifestly necessary that a school should get at least $75, but it is equally as important that schools should not be multiplied simply to get this $75, or that this should be largely made up by the State.

The following are the amounts that are necessary to give each county $75 per school:

Abbeville	$ 163 00
Aiken	490 72
Anderson	Nothing
Bamberg	156 59
Barwell	146 00
Beaufort	148 00

After the deficiency fund is distributed the remaining dispensary fund received during the present year will be divided pro rata, based upon the number of children enrolled in the schools of the various counties.

What Thin Folks Need

Is a greater power of digesting and assimilating food. For them Dr. King's New Life Pills work wonders. They tone and regulate the digestive organs, gently expel all poisons from the system, enrich the blood, improve appetite, make healthy flesh. Only 25c at McMaster Co.

The Reason Was Evident.

The Youth's Companion tells of a young man who failed to pass an examination for a government position. He had influence, in the way of a senator, who took him to Secretary Long to see if anything could be done to rerate his grades and get him in. "It's no use," said Secretary Long; "that young man has failed three times. Look at his fingers; that yellow stain indicates that he is a cigarette smoker and as such would never do the work required of him."

Wants Others to Know.

"I have used DeWitt's Little Early Risers for constipation and torpid liver and they are all right. I am glad to endorse them for I think when we find a good thing we ought to let others know it," writes Alfred Heinz, Quincy, Ill. "They never grip or distress. Sure, safe pills. McMaster Co."

The Plowman Plows On.

Meanwhile Mr. Appelt has a postoffice, which is a plenty for him, and Senator Tillman has a senatorship, which is a plenty for him. And the plough-boy plows on, and is paying higher taxes to-day than he has in twenty years.—Lamens Advertiser.

From Cotton to Cattle.

Poor crops, low-priced cotton and the overflowing of bottom lands are causing many farmers to turn their attention to cattle. It is a wise conclusion they have reached and they should wisely make the change. Such a change is a revolution and it cannot be accomplished in a day. The first of April in a certain town in the upcountry a man was inquiring for one or two good milk cows. He said he knew where there were some young ones with first calves, but they were so poor that they could hardly stand up. The owner of these heifers was not ready to go into the cattle business. If one wishes to raise fat cattle for beef he should secure a thoroughbred bull of one of the large breeds. He should then keep only as many cattle as he can feed well through the winter and up to the first of May. The cheapest roughage for cattle is hay made from pea vines and sorghum, unless one has a meadow well set in good grass that requires no reseeding. If one has no winter pasture it will require about two tons of hay to feed a two or three year old cow six months. That hay will be worth about $3, but the manure, if properly cared for, will be equal to a ton of the best commercial fertilizer. If a farmer wishes to raise milk cows he should get the Jerseys or Guernseys. The Holstein is better suited for those who sell the milk as they give more than the other two breeds. Get the best breeds. Do not attempt to winter more than you can feed well. Do not overcrowd your summer pasture. Work at this business by degrees.—Carolina Spartan.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a linneal cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J. H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." McMaster Co.

Wagener Day.

Thursday, May 22, has been set apart as Wagener day at the exposition. No citizen of this State has ever displayed such public spirit as Capt. Wagener, the president of the exposition company, in promoting the success of the exposition. It is the wish of the people of Charleston to make Wagener day at the exposition the greatest day of the entire period. The railroads have promised to make the lowest rate for Wagener day that has ever been known in this State, and the people of Charleston trust that they shall have thousands of persons from all part of South Carolina in their midst on that occasion to testify their appreciation of Capt. Wagener's work.

Reveals a Great Secret.

It is often asked how such startling cures, that puzzle the best physicians, are effected by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Here's the secret. It cuts out the phlegm and germ-infected mucus, and lets the life-giving oxygen enrich and vitalize the blood. It heals the inflamed, cough-worn throat and lungs. Hard colds and stubborn coughs soon yield to Dr. King's New Discovery, the most infallible remedy for all Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at McMaster Co.

We take the following prediction from the Charleston Evening Post: "And will McLaurin be in the race when the flag drops? Not if he knows himself. By that time there will probably be two federal judicial districts in South Carolina and Judge Brawley will likely have a colleague by the name of McLaurin."

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESIE PINKEY HAMD, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by McMaster Co.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find it if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The Home of Swamp-Root, dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsi and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. McMaster Co.
