—PERSONAL.—The Rev. W. P. Du Rose, for many years a resident of Winsboro, and now a professor in the University of the South, paid a short visit to Winsboro on Wednesday. He will return in a short time to Sevanee, Tenn., to resume the duties of his professorship.

—THE NEW STEAMER.—The new steam fire engine purchased by the Town Council arrived on Monday night, and was safely placed in the engine-house on Tuesday morning. It is a substantial and handsome machine, and will doubtless come fully up to the representations of the manufacturers.

—COTTON SPANNERS.—The following is the comparative cotton statement for the week ending March 8, 1882:

Net receipts at all United States ports during the week, $11,118; same week last year, $12,458; total receipts to this date, $4,021,961; to same date last, $4,177,005. —HAZEL KIRKE.—The success which has attended this play is simply marvelous. Nothing equals it except the strong and kindly impression it leaves on all sorts of communities. From Boston to New Orleans, and New York especially, which is the quintessence of the whole country, crowd after crowd have sat in silent rapture and admired this charming domestic drama. What is the reason of all this? Is this play so wonderfully constructed, so full of skillful effects? Is it so witty, so brilliant? Not at all. It is simply so deeply, so touchingly human; so full of promptings that stimulate every honest heart; so moved by emotions that stir every feeling soul. And beyond that, it is presented with the rarest art.

—THE WAVELEY MAGAZINE.—This popular periodical has sixteen large pages, size eleven by fifteen inches, set in small type, and contains double the reading of any other weekly library paper in the country. It will contain no advertisements, but will be filled with stories, music, poetry, anecdotes, enigmas, etc. The music will consist of anthems, songs, dances and marches, which in one year will be worth at least $12. It is the cheapest and best family paper in America. Terms: one year, $40; six months, $20; three months $10. Sixteen back numbers, all different, will be sent, post-paid, to any address for $1. Try it, if only for three months. Address Waverley Magazine, Lock Box 172, Boston, Mass.

—DEMOREST FOR MARCH.—Demorest's Monthly for March has a charming illustration in oil colors and two photo-stereoplates. The literary contents, as usual, are excellent. The continuation of the "Admiral's Ward," by Mrs. Alexander, "Women Doctors," Wall Papers," by Hattie L. Ward, "English Haunts," "March," by Geo. W. Bangay. The first paper on "Women of all Ages," "Poker Sketches," "A Northern Grimm," "The Renaissance of Today," "Evening Company and Decorative Art," are a few of the striking features, with a host of short articles of value to every household. A number of the articles are illustrated in a superior style. W. Jenkins Demorest, publisher, 17 East Fourth-street, New York. Price twenty-five cents, or two dollars a year.

—COLORED STUDENTS ABROAD.—A Washington paper of a recent date says: "The Eureka Literary Society, of Howard University, gave an interesting, attractive and commendable exercise last night. The president's address, by C. Dillard, of South Carolina, pictured in glowing terms the present condition, the aim and intent of the Society. The orations, "Matter and Mind," by D. W. Frazier, and "Cantare Your Success," by E. P. Corbett, both of South Carolina, were masterly productions, and displayed much mental power. J. R. Wilder, of South Carolina, spoke in glowing terms of the good influence that pure ambition had upon the world's progress. The declaimers exhibited much oratorical ability. The discussion between Mr. W. R. A. Palmer and Mr. K. Miller, both of South Carolina, was highly commendable, the one bringing to light the pernicious influence of an unbound, unlimited and unencumbered press upon the masses, and the other the true and good influence it exerts in giving to the public the political, religious and philosophical views of men. The Eureka Journal, edited by Mr. S. D. Fowle, of Virginia, was well received and displayed great ability. The exercise was well attended." Three of the students mentioned, Clarence Dillard, D. W. Frazier and Kelly Miller, are from Fairfield. We are glad to see they are doing so well. They were prepared for college at Mr. Richardson's Normal Institute in Winsboro.

—JOURNALISTIC.—Both of the Spartanburg papers—the Herald and the Spartan—have recently been enlarged from seven columns to eight. We are pleased to see these evidences of prosperity. Spartanburg is a live place, and gives liberal support to its local papers.

—The Spartan Messenger has suspended publication, the outfit and good-will of the establishment have been bought by Major McSweeney, of the Hampton Guardian. This consolidation will prove beneficial alike to publisher and people. Hanover county can support but one good paper, and McSweeney is the man to furnish that sort.

—The Orangeburg Times and Democrat has been enlarged to an eight-column paper, and the increase of space has nowise affected the quality of the reading matter. The enterprising publishers share neither pain nor expense in making the news a first-class journal, and it is gratifying to know that they have been successful.

—SUPERVISORS OF REGISTRATION.—On Wednesday last Governor Haggard made the appointment of Supervisors and Assistant Supervisors of registration for the different counties. The following are the appointees in Fairfield and the neighboring counties:

—Fairfield County—Chief, H. M. Zealy; Assistants, J. F. McDonald and W. T. Scruggs.

Chester County—Chief, J. McDaniel; Jr., Assistants, W. A. Sanders and T. McFadden.

Lancaster County—Chief, K. G. Billings; Assistants, John J. Welsh and J. M. Moore.

Hickman County—Chief, John Meighan; Assistants, John P. Thomas, Jr., and Charles M. Sober.

—York County—Chief, Wm. E. McCorckle; Assistants, George W. S. Hart and John C. Kykordal.

—PERSONAL.—The Rev. W. P. Du Rose, for many years a resident of Winsboro, and now a professor in the University of the South, paid a short visit to Winsboro on Wednesday. He will return in a short time to Sevanee, Tenn., to resume the duties of his professorship.

—THE NEW STEAMER.—The new steam fire engine purchased by the Town Council arrived on Monday night, and was safely placed in the engine-house on Tuesday morning. It is a substantial and handsome machine, and will doubtless come fully up to the representations of the manufacturers.

—TUTT'S PILLS.—The appointments for Fairfield will be fully made to the representations of the manufacturers.

—TUTT'S HAIR DYE.—The appointments for Fairfield will give entire satisfaction. Mr. Zealy is an intelligent gentleman, and in every way qualified to discharge the duties of the office. In every movement calculated to advance the interests of the people of Fairfield, he has taken an active and earnest part, and he will faithfully execute the important trust now committed to him. The assistants, Messrs. McDonald and Scruggs, are exceptionally well fitted for the position, and Mr. Zealy will find them able coadjutors in carrying out the requirements of the law.

—THE SPIRIT OF ENTERPRISE.—Considering the Erection of a Cotton Factory in Winsboro.

—At a meeting held on Tuesday, in President's room of the Winsboro National Bank, to consult as to the propriety of establishing a Steam-power Cotton Factory at Winsboro, for manufacturing cotton yarn, on motion of Col. James H. Rion, H. L. Elliott, Esq., was called to the chair, and on motion of Mr. T. K. Elliott, J. M. Beatty, Esq., was asked to act as secretary. After a full and free discussion, the meeting resolved, on motion of James A. Brier, Esq., to take steps to raise one hundred thousand dollars (one hundred dollars per share) for the purpose of building and equipping a factory.

—Mr. G. H. McMaster moved that a committee be appointed to make preliminary arrangements for organization, and to open books for subscription. Messrs. J. M. Beatty, T. K. Elliott and J. H. Cummings were appointed as the committee. On motion of Mr. D. R. Fleuken, the meeting adjourned, subject to an early call to hear the report of the committee and effect a permanent organization.

—President Hutchinson says Northern capitalists have clamored for stock in the Rock Hill Factory, and wanted the company to increase the stock, but the limit had been exhausted, and they had to be turned off. That is the history of Hercules. If we sit quietly and beg for aid we will never receive it, but just as soon as we commence to help ourselves, will others rush to our assistance.

—President Hutchinson says, also, that he is pleased with steam as a motor, and claims that it is cheap, if not cheaper and more practical water. Mr. Fleming, of the firm of Walker, Fleming & Co., of Spartanburg, says the profit with water as a motor is five cents per pound on cotton, and with steam four and a half cents per pound. In either case what is the percentage of profit?

—Can we not resolve to build a "Cotton Yarn Mill" in Winsboro with a charter capital of $250,000, and complete a mill at a cost of $50,000 as soon after this amount is subscribed as is practicable? The mill company will then be in position to increase the enterprise as the capital increases.

—THE COTTON FACTORY.—Practical Suggestions on an Important Subject—Facts and Figures—How to Make a Beginning.

—Messrs. Editors: It may or it may not be true that our people are poorer or poorer as poor as they think they are; but we doubt it. They are only poor by comparison; and it is by comparison that we know anything. We remember the past, and we recognize in the present the changes, and are disposed to "hang our harps on the willows." The world moves and we must move with it. The habits of the "old South" are rapidly being shorn by the scissars of time; and already we observe her scurfy form clothed beautifully by the meads arts. Beneath her mantle of elder down she carries her busy spindle, and the mysterious wheels with which she intends to teach her children that to them new industry which will bring them great prosperity.

—The cotton mill is not an experiment. We have but to examine this great interest in the frozen and once sterile region of New England, and if we question what we see (for it is not unlike a fantastic vision) let us listen to Mr. Morrill, Senator from Vermont, as he speaks in the Senate of the United States. He said:—

—"In our cotton mills we have—
