

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.
TUESDAY, JULY 17, 1883.
Farm Machinery—R. J. McCarley & Co. Sheriff's Sale—Jno. D. McCarley, S. F. C. Turnip Seed—McMaster, Brice & Ketchin.
—R. J. McCarley & Co. keep at their office samples of the Frick Eclipse Engine, Daniel Pratt Revolving Gens, Van Winkle Gens, Feeders and Condensers, and will keep a full line of machinery as soon as their machinery is finished. Give them a call. They will take great pleasure in showing all parties their machinery. See testimonials in another column. July 17.
THE CHESTER FAIR.—We have received a copy of the premium list of the next annual fair of the Chester Agricultural, Horticultural and Mechanical Association, to be held at Chester, commencing October 18 and continuing four days. The number and variety of the premiums are greater than ever, and no pains will be spared to make the exhibition a success throughout. We trust that Fairfield will be well represented, both in visitors and exhibits.
THE LOAN ASSOCIATION.—We are requested to state that there will be a meeting of the "Winnsboro Savings and Loan Association", the company recently chartered by the Clerk, in the Town Hall to-night at half-past eight o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to perfect the organization of the Association and take steps for its active operation as soon as possible. It is therefore requested that all who have subscribed to the capital stock of the company, and all others who may wish to subscribe, will attend promptly at the time and place indicated.
COTTON STATEMENT.—The following is the comparative cotton statement for the week ending July 13, 1883: Net receipts at all United States ports during the week 11,000; to same time last year 6,771; total receipts to date 4,896,947; to same date last year 4,594,752. Exports for the week 25,466; same week last year 22,573; total exports to date 4,558,520; to same date last year 4,347,317. Stock at all United States ports 363,579; stock at all interior towns 35,099; same time last year 17,617; stock at Liverpool 995,000; same time last year 828,000; stock of American cotton for Great Britain 50,000; same time last year 35,000.
BURGLARIES.—On Friday night last the parlor of Mr. F. W. Habenicht was entered and robbed of between twenty and thirty dollars, besides a lot of cigars, liquors and other articles, making the entire loss about a hundred dollars. The burglary is thought to have taken place about midnight. The thief must have been familiar with the place, as he selected the best whiskey and the choicest cigars. He has not yet been caught.
On the same night—towards daylight, it is supposed—a package of money, about forty dollars, was stolen from a bureau in a room in the residence of Mr. J. M. Elliott, Sr. Here, too, it is apparent that the thief was quite familiar with the premises and with the arrangements of the family. We hope he may be caught.

A PRIVATE GENTLEMAN'S HEALTH.—The singular dispute about the condition of Mr. Tilden's health ought surely to cease. Ever since Mr. Waterson went to Greystone and reported on the condition of the master of that country house the papers have been filled with contradictory rumors. Mr. Tilden had half killed himself with patent medicines and he had never taken a drop; he is feeble and shaking with palsy and he is robust and runs up stairs two steps at a time; he is in the last days of an infirm and painful existence and he is as vigorous as a young man of, say, fifty or fifty-five; and so on. Is there not a certain indecency in thus persecuting an old gentleman who, according to the reports of his closest friends, has permanently retired from active life and is devoting himself now to those pleasures of house building, house furnishing and the enjoyment of fruits, flowers and the fine cattle at his country place which befit a leisurely old age? We think his friends make a mistake in so zealously contradicting all the rumors spread abroad about him by malicious or malicious people. Such contradictory only serve to keep alive these reports, which cannot but be annoying to Mr. Tilden. Why disturb his old age and quiet? It was not a gracious return for the hospitality he had rendered that Mr. Waterson should rush into print with an account of his friend's condition. Mr. Tilden's health is in no sense a matter of public interest, except so far as every once in a while it becomes a matter of public interest. We hope Mr. Tilden will no longer be exposed to this annoyance, and we advise him to order his servants to refuse admission to his house to all, friends or opponents, who are capable of misusing such visits for purposes of senseless gossip.—New York Herald.

Summer Fruit.
June apples red are nice, Just like a maiden's cheek, Whom the roses hint, Are painted gently, meek, But prettier and better than all, Is Norman's harmless Cordial.
Old man Watkins of Piedmont, S. C., says Norman's Neutralizing Cordial beats anything he ever heard of. He came near making a speech on the wonderful cure two 25-cent bottles made on his baby. He says the mere sight of that baby would convince the most doubtful as to the efficacy of Norman's Cordial.

—AND BUY YOUR—
ENGINES, GINS, PRESSES, SAW MILLS, GRIST MILLS, AND ALL OTHER KINDS OF FARM MACHINERY!
BELOW WE GIVE A FEW TESTIMONIALS.
MESSRS. R. J. McCARLEY & Co.—The Frick Eclipse Engine we bought from you last fall have given entire satisfaction, and we take pleasure in saying that we think the Eclipse Engine has no superior as a farm engine. It takes less wood and water to run than most engines, and has all the power that is guaranteed. We cheerfully recommend it to any parties wishing to buy an engine, as the best in the market.

MESSRS. R. J. McCARLEY & Co.—Gents: I am well pleased with the Van Winkle Gin, Feeder and Condenser I bought from you. It is all that you represented it to be. It makes the best sample I ever saw, and turns out a good yield. I recommend it to all who wish to buy to be sure to purchase the Van Winkle Gin.
Wishing you abundant success, I am yours, &c.,
HENRY BOYKIN.
MESSRS. R. J. McCARLEY & Co.—Gents: The fifty-saw Daniel Pratt Revolving Head Gin and Feeder I purchased from you the first of last August, far exceeds anything that I have ever seen. I have never been better pleased with the working of any machinery. It runs lighter than any other gin, makes a better sample and the arrangement of the breast is so you can gin the seed as clean as one would desire. The Feeder works like a charm, feeding regularly, fast or slow, as you please, thereby lessening the draught. My gin was burnt last fall. I shall buy another Pratt next season.
Yours, &c.,
