THE EDGEFIELD LYNCHING.

Extenuating Statements which are Made in Behalf of the Accused.

(Special to the News and Courier.)

AUGUSTA, GA., October 22.--This beautiful city is so near to Edgefield and is so intimately connected with the county that no day passes that several Edgefield men are not seen on the umbrageous streets. It is easy, therefore, to obtain the gossip concerning the Edgefield affairs which rarely finds its way into print. The all-absorbing topic in Edgefield at this time is the lynching of Culbreath, and it must be admitted that the statements which are made in Augusta upon the subject change materially the aspect of the deplorable affair.

It is asserted that Mr. Culbreath treated his wife with the utmost brutality after her father's death, and that his conduct was so offensive to the people that it is surprising that he was not lynched at an earlier day. Among his other offences, it is said that in a drunken fit he lashed his wife severely with a buggy whip, and when remonstrated with by her mother lashed that lady in the same way. As a consequence of his behavior, a separation took place. Mr. Culbreath, however, continued a surveillance over his wife's actions, and without any reason whatever was furiously jealous. As is known, Mr. Hammond was assassinated in the yard of Mrs. Culbreath's house where he had gone at the request of her son to remain for the night. One of my informants says that he knows it to be a fact that Mr. Culbreath caused Hammond to be assassinated, and that he was as much the assassin as though he had actually pulled the trigger. This, at all events, was believed in the county and was the immediate cause of the lynching. The people of the county felt that such conduct should be tolerated no longer, and they unwisely took the law into their own hands. An Edgefield man whom I talked with said, with great emphasis, that he held that lynching was never justifiable, but if ever it was to be justifiable it was so in Culbreath's case.

There are now in Edgefield jail more than thirty persons who are accused of participation in the lynching. The accommodations are altogether insufficient, and the prisoners are threatened with disease by reason of the condition of the buildings in which they are confined. They did not apply for bail, but have suffered severely already, and their suffering is not in their confinement alone. The accused form the bulk of the adult male population of two or more townships in Edgefield county. They are taken from their plantations at a busy season of the year, and in their absence it is impracticable to control the colored laborers, who are filching the cotton from the fields right and left. It is asserted in all seriousness that many families will be deprived of bread and meat by the arrest of the accused, all of whom, it is said, are ready to give bail to any amount that may be required.

I give these statements in order that the public may know what is said by those who are acquainted with the lynchers, and who feel that the act was so nearly justifiable that there is no reason to keep the accused in jail, and who maintain, further, that the facts to be developed before the grand jury or in open Court will satisfy the public mind that no great wrong has been done. When it is urged that the Courts should have been resorted to, it is shown that the original offences of Culbreath could not have been made the subject of a judicial investigation without a public scandal.

As regards the assassination of Hammond there is a feeling, I am sorry to say, that whatever the evidence, Culbreath would not have been convicted, and that lynch law was the only law that would meet his case. The accused are said to be highly respectable, industrious and well-behaved citizens, who would never, save as a last resort, be guilty of an act of violence of any kind.

All this is given to the readers of the News and Courier, without comment, and in order that they may know what is the opinion held by those who claim to be familiar with the facts of the case.

More Lynchers Committed to Jail.

EDGEFIELD, October 22.—Sheriff Ouzts brought to jail last night Morgan Dorn, Elbert Dorn, Richard Hammond and W. H. Hammond, charged with being accessories to the Culbreath lynching. He had warrants for two other parties, but could not find them.

The sheriff was arrested to-day by Coroner Johnson under a warrant charging him with official misconduct in permitting and allowing prisoners to escape. The sheriff gave bond for his appearance at Court. Two prisoners, Collier Hammond and Reuben Johnson, were granted permission last night to go to their respective homes under charge of a constable, the party to return to-night. For this offence another warrant was issued against the sheriff, charging him with maliciously permitting prisoners to escape. He was again arrested and again promptly gave bail.

The Salvation Army.

The good people of the South will learn with regret and with feelings of dread and disgust that the so-called "Salvation Army" are accumulating what they call a "Southern fund," for the purpose of sending a detachment here for the purpose of making converts. They will come with all their silly parade, brass bands, banners, gaudy uniforms and pernicious practices, with which they falsely affirm they are doing God service and promoting the cause of Christianity. They have become a public nuisance in all lands, have been pelted and abused by mobs and driven pell mell out of cities and countries. Now they propose to invade South Carolina and other Southern States, to prove to us through eye and ear that they are a despicable, unmitigated public nuisance, and that the treatment they have received by the populace in Europe and America is in many respects well deserved. What has the South done that we should be punished thus?—Columbia Record.

Burned to Death, and Restored to Life.

I know of a man near Maxey's, Ga., who for ten or twelve years was almost a solid sore from head to foot.

For three years, his appearance being so horribly repulsive, he refused to let any one see him. The disease after eating his flesh, commenced on his skull bones. He tried all doctors and medicines without benefit and no one thought he could possibly recover. At last he began the use of B. B. B., and after using six bottles, his sores were all healed and he was a sound man.

He looks just like a man who had been burned to death and then restored to life. The best men of the county know of this case, and several doctors and merchants have spoken of it as a most wonderful case.

JOHN CRAWFORD, Druggist,
Athens, Ga.

—Six murders in one month is the homicidal record of Fayette county, Pa., in which it is said a perfect reign of terror prevails. If some of the reformers up in that country gave more attention to home and less to the South, they would be living to better purpose.

GRANT AND JOHNSON.

An Improbable Story of the Early Period of Reconstruction.

Chauncey M. Depew has written to Col. F. D. Grant, giving particulars of a conversation with Gen. Grant four years ago at a dinner. Mr. Depew says that after President Lincoln was killed and President Johnson inaugurated, the latter wanted to reject the terms given by Grant to the Confederacy, and wanted all the officers who had left the regular army to take sides with the Confederacy summarily dealt with by court-martial. President Johnson also wanted to take extreme measures with all the leaders of the Confederacy. Grant determined that the terms of the agreement should be adhered to, and if there were to be any courts-martial, Gen. Grant would be the first tried, as he intended to stand by the parole. Johnson afterwards changed his views. Grant ascribed Johnson's course to his hatred of the slaveholders, and when the war started, believing in the power of the government, he saw his opportunity to defeat his enemies, confiscate their property, and humiliate their pride. Johnson's absorbing ambition had been to be received by the slave-holding oligarchy as one of them, as he had not been able to break down the class barrier. While Johnson was looking for means to break the agreement o Grant, the leaders of the oligarchy called on him, and acknowledged that as President of the United States he became, regardless of birth, not only one of them, but their leader. After this Johnson became as anxious to save as he had been to destroy. President Johnson even wanted Grant to sustain him in a scheme to allow all the States recently in rebellion their full quota of Senators and Representatives, but Grant threatened to drive such a Congress out of the Capitol a the point of the bayonet. Johnson afterwards tried to get Grant to go on a mission to Mexico, to get him out of the way, but Grant refused and the matter was dropped.

THE ALMIGHTY DOLLAR.

How the Unsuspecting are Often Gulled.

CAPITAL VERSUS MERIT.

It is possible that money dipped into a bounteous supply of printer's ink, is to be used to teach false ideas.

Why is it that such persistent anathemas should all at once be hurled against the use of "Potash and Potash Mixtures?"

Those who insist that Potash is a poison do so because that is the way they have of fighting B. B. B., as the latter contains potash properly combined.

Opium, morphine, strychnine, aconite, whiskey, etc., are all deadly poisons, and are daily destroying the lives of people, and why do not these men cry out against them? It is because there is no money in sight to do so. Potash is not regarded as a poison, and very seldom harms any one; but those who abuse it are using a vegetable poison ten times as violent. Iodide of Potash, in proper combination, is regarded by the medical profession as the quickest, grandest and most powerful blood remedy ever known to man. Those who believe in revealed combinations and Indian foolishness are surely in a condition to become rather "cranky" in their ideas at any time. We assert understandingly that Potash, as used in the manufacture of B. B. B., is not a poison, and the public need not place any confidence in assertions to the contrary. Why is it that in one thousand letters which we receive we never hear a word against its use? The truth is; B. B. B. is working such wonders in the cure of all blood poisons, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, etc., that others are trembling in their boots, and cry aloud, "poison," "fraud," because they fear its triumphant march. Let any man or woman ask any respectable doctor or druggist if we are not right. Do not be deceived, but go right along and call for B. B. B., and be cured. It is making five times more cures in Atlanta than all other blood remedies combined. We don't say that others are poisons or frauds; we are not that easily alarmed, but we say ours is the best, and we have the proof. Send for our 32-page book, free, and be convinced.

MOTHERS' FRIEND.

NO More Terror!
No More Pain!
No More Danger!
TO Mother or Child.

The Dread of Motherhood
Transformed to HOPE
and JOY.

Safety and Ease
—TO—
Suffering Woman

This invaluable preparation is truly a triumph of scientific skill, and no more inestimable benefit was ever bestowed on the mothers of the world. ☞ It not only shortens the time of labor and lessens the intensity of pain, but, better than all, it greatly diminishes the danger to life of both mother and child, and leaves the mother in a condition highly favorable to speedy recovery, and far less liable to flooding, convulsions, and other alarming symptoms incident to lingering and painful labor. Its truly wonderful efficacy in this respect entitles the MOTHERS' FRIEND to be ranked as one of the life-saving appliances given to the world by the discoveries of modern science.

From the nature of the case it will of course be understood that we cannot publish certificates concerning this REMEDY without wounding the delicacy of the writers. Yet we have hundreds of such testimonials on file, and no mother who has once used it will ever again be without it in her time of trouble.

A prominent physician lately remarked to the proprietor, that if it were admissible to make public the letters we receive, the "Mothers' Friend" would out sell anything on the market.
