OUR STANDARD-BEARERS.

FOR PRESIDENT:
GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:
ALLEN G. THURMAN,
OF OHIO.

The Political Standard-Bearers.

The Democratic and Republican parties have both now named their standard-bearers, and it may be truly said that the great national contest has opened. It may be of interest to know something of the men who are to lead the opposing forces and the platforms upon which they stand soliciting the suffrages of an intelligent and enlightened nation.

Grover Cleveland hails from the great State of New York, and by his words and actions for the last four years as the chief executive officer of the United States has approved himself to the people as no other President has done in the past quarter of a century. His record is open for the inspection of the world, and it challenges every man of whatever political faith to a careful and studious scrutiny. Upon that record alone he could go before the country confident of success. His associate, Allen G. Thurman, the "old Roman," of Ohio, has a record of which any man should be proud. He, too, is no stranger to the people, having served in a number of capacities of honor and trust, and in honoring him the country has added new honor to the official positions which he filled. Here we might rest contented, so far as the Democratic standard-bearers are concerned; but another and perhaps a stronger reason why the people of the country should support them is found in the broad and statesmanlike document adopted by the St. Louis Convention as the party platform. There is no mistaking the honest, straightforward principles announced in it, and which must appeal to every man of reason. It assumes the aggressive and demands a reform of the tariff and a ceasing of the present robbery whereby millions are annually drawn from the people to be added to the already overflowing national treasury. This, briefly stated, is how and why the Democratic party will win.

Our friends, the enemy, have chosen as their leader the Hon. Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana, a man of character and brains, but an aristocratic Republican, who has already gained the title of the "kid glove" man. Besides, he is a great friend of the Chinee, and by his vote, recorded in the proceedings of the United States Senate, not only favors unrestricted Chi- [illegible] them with all the rights of natural born citizens. His associate, the Hon. Levi P. Morton, of New York, has gained only a reputation for his wealth and the magnificent dinners given abroad, particularly while representing this government in Paris. He is the leading member of the well known Wall street banking firm of Morton, Bliss & Co. He was doubtless nominated for the money he would contribute to the Republican campaign fund, as he did in sending a bale of new crisp $2.00 bills to carry Indiana for the G. O. P. in the contest of 1880.

The platform upon which these notable representatives stand, while unmistakable, is confessedly weak. They want protection whereby the rich grow richer and the poor poorer, and like wolves in sheep's clothing seek to blind the laboring class, and by their unfledged sophistry delude them into supporting such men and such a doctrine. They want free whiskey instead of free blankets, free tobacco instead of free clothing.

What a contrast! We are impressed with the old adage, that comparisons are odious.

The Republicans say it makes no difference who the men are or what the platform, they must win, and in their last hope say they must win at any sacrifice. On the other hand, in the men named by the Democratic party all can rely with confidence and assurance, and the platform must command the respect and support of all men who favor the onward progress of our already great and glorious nation.

The Church and Politics.

An anonymous communication, which appeared in a recent issue of the esteemed contemporary the Columbia Register, in regard to the religious faith of our State rulers, we think both untimely and improper. In it the writer assails the Episcopal church on account of its fortune in securing a number of prominent positions for its members in our State government. We regret very much to see an exhibition of such feeling even from any one of our worthy citizens, for we believe that such a thing as the religious belief of the candidates for the various State offices was never dreamed of when the nominations were made.

The gentlemen who have been promoted to these important places of honor and trust have not been elevated on account of their religious belief, but on account of their services to the Democratic party and their prominence in the politics of the State. It will be an unfortunate day for South Carolina when its officers are nominated on account of their religious belief, for it will then in a manner unite the church with politics, an unholy alliance. Let candidates stand upon their merits, no matter from what religious faith they hail.

The allegation of this correspondent that the Episcopal church has been favored by conventions composed of the representative men from all the counties of the State is simply a creation of his own futile imagination and finds existence only in the small intellectual world of the author. Let candidates stand upon their record, whether they be Episcopalians, Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians or representatives of any other denomination.

Caught Again.

The Kansas zebra has again been using his pen on political matters and has again been exposed. He wrote to a friend in Chicago during the Republican circus, and the letter in some way fell into the hands of the Chicago News. It is as follows:

VICE-PRESIDENT'S CHAMBER,
WASHINGTON, June 16.

Yours of 13th at hand. It does not make much difference who is nominated, in my judgment. The candidates will cut but a small figure in the fight. We can elect anybody, or we shall fail. The least conspicuous, and therefore the least complicated, man will be the best; somebody like Hayes, in 1876. Among all the men there is not one "leader"; no one whose personal or historical relation to the people would make a difference of 1,000 votes in the canvass. Sherman, Allison, Harrison, each have records that would be awkward on the tariff, the currency, the Chinese question &c. Depew's connection with railroads and corporations would be a heavy load, especially in the agricultural States. We might as well nominate Gould or Vanderbilt at once. My impression is that Alger or Gresham come nearer filling the bill than any of the others, with some fellow like Phelps, of New Jersey, who could reach the conservative forces of the East and get contributions from the manufacturers and Wall street. But you can judge much better than I what is best, after consulting with the delegates. I have the use of the wires during the Convention, by the courtesy of the company, and you can, therefore, telegraph me fully at all times if anything of interest transpires.

Truly yours,
JOHN J. INGALLS.

When a New York World reporter asked him about the letter he replied that it was a deplorable thing to have such rascals in the newspaper profession; that the letter was stolen and that such action embarrassed all honorable men in it. We are rather of the opinion that it embarrassed the political demagogue from Kansas. He should be more careful in the future.

Formally Notified.

On Tuesday the committee appointed by the recent Democratic Convention to formally notify President Cleveland of his unanimous nomination for re-election by that Convention, performed that pleasant duty at the executive mansion. After the formal notification had been read and the secretary had handed him a handsomely engrossed copy of the broad and pointed platform upon which he was nominated, he stepped to the front and in a graceful manner accepted the sacred trust reposed in him. He said in conclusion:

I shall not dwell upon the acts and the policy of the administration now drawing to its close. Its record is open to every citizen of the land. And yet I will not be denied the privilege of asserting at this [illegible] exercise of the functions of the high trust confided to me, I have yielded obedience only to the constitution and the solemn obligations of my oath of office. I have done those things which in the light of the understanding God has given me, seemed most conducive to the welfare of my countrymen and the promotion of good government. I would not if I could, for myself, nor for you, avoid a single consequence of a fair interpretation of my course.

His language is manly and statesmanlike, and in him the people, the great tribunal which will decide the coming contest, will find a man worthy of the trust, and one who will perform the high duties of the office without fear or favor.

Where Does He Stand Now?

In 1882, when representing Indiana in the United States Senate, would-be President Harrison voted against the restriction of Chinese immigration, and in defending his position among his associates he said that the Chinese ought to be enfranchised, and if the Republican party would do this it would give them the Chinese vote. Then, by adopting unrestricted immigration from China the party could populate America with Chinese votes to suit any emergency, so long as they were true to the party that granted them the right of suffrage. The Chinese question was not as well known then as it is now, and doubtless he would now exchange the title of "courageous man" which his then action gained him for a blank page in the history of his actions. It will be an important question on the Pacific slope, and they will want to know how he stands now before the intelligent people will give him their support.

The Gubernatorial Contest.

The nomination for Governor, which has heretofore been conceded to Gov. Richardson, begins to be doubtful. The Union Times, in a strong editorial, comes out squarely for Sheppard for Governor. A correspondent of the Register also nominates the Hon. Giles J. Patterson, of Chester. All of these gentlemen are of the best quality, and either would make a most excellent Executive. But we believe that where one man has done his full duty that there is no necessity for a change. Gov. Richardson, during his term of office, has met the expectation of of his friends and the Democratic party. This is sufficient. With this record we see no reason for a change in the office.

How Men Die.

If we know all the methods of approach adopted by an enemy we are the better enabled to ward off the danger and postpone the moment when surrender becomes inevitable. In many instances the inherent strength of the body suffices to enable it to oppose the tendency toward death. Many however have lost these forces to such an extent that there is little or no help. In other cases a little aid to the weakened Lungs will make all the difference between sudden death and many years of useful life. Upon the first symptoms of a Cough, Cold or any trouble of the Throat or Lungs, give that old and well-known remedy—Boschee's German Syrup, a careful trial. It will prove what thousands say of it to be, the "benefactor of any home." *

THE Indian council just held at Fort Gibson, in the Indian Territory, took important action in seeking to unite all the so-called civilized tribes. There is little doubt that if they should take the proper steps for this purpose they could before long obtain, should they desire it, the formation of a territory substantially under the same kind of government as Dakota and Montana, with men of their own race in nearly all offices. Hitherto, however, the policy of the five civilized tribes and their allies has been to keep up the old tribal relations and the holding of land in common. Under this system the powerful and rich in a tribe can grow richer and more influential; and everything tending toward division of lands by severalty ownership and the merging of Indian tribal relations into American citizenship has been discouraged. Now they may begin to see that, even although especially excepted from the operation of the severalty law, they cannot hope much longer to stand in a merely negative and obstructive attitude toward the general projects which look toward Indian advancement by breaking down tribal barriers. Already plans are rife in Congress to organize a territory which shall include both them and whites. The Fort Gibson council seems to have realized at least the necessity for some combined action among the allied tribes of the Indian Territory.

THE New York Times (Ind. Rep.) and one of the leading New York dailies wisely supported Cleveland in the last campaign, and in a recent leading editorial says that it has considered the candidates and the platforms, and prefers the Democratic nominees and their platform and will use its utmost efforts to make them successful. It concludes as follows:

For the working out of the reforms which the Times believes to be the chief issues of our politics the Democratic party, with its present candidates, is the "better instrument," to use Mr. Tilden's expression. Its candidates are incomparably superior to those of the Republicans, and the announcement of purposes with which it enters the contest is more satisfactory, and in respect to the dominant issue is firmly right when the other is hopelessly wrong. As regards civil service reform, though we have had occasion to criticise the present administration for some of its errors and failures, we have greater confidence in Mr. Cleveland's sincerity and fidelity than in the written professions of a party whose leaders are unable to speak of the reform without a sneer. The Times will give Cleveland and Thurman its hearty support, and will do what lies in its power, and it is not commonly an inactive newspaper in a Presidential contest, to make their majority such that there will be no doubt about it the morning after election.

That has the right ring about it, and doubtless other journals will follow the wise example.

WE publish reports from eighteen correspondents on the condition of the crops. Bottom corn seems to be a failure and upland corn not as good as last year. Wheat is a failure, but the oats crop is as high as ninety per cent. in some sections. Cotton is late, but has been rapidly improving during the past two weeks. A worm is reported from Ridgeway as injuring corn. Can any of our readers tell anything about it, and if it can be gotten rid of? We are glad to note that the Longtown farmers are making an effort to raise their own meat. Full smoke-houses and corn-cribs will send the obnoxious lien law into "innocuous desuetude." The patches of the prize club of Upper Oakland are reported "fine," and it is thought that the prize acre in most instances will produce more than a good many other acres on the farm.

THE rumor in regard to cruelty to convicts on the Blackville, Alston & Newberry Railroad has just been investigated by the penitentiary authorities and found to be greatly exaggerated. Instead of two convicts being beaten to death, it appears that only one was slightly chastised, and at the time it was done the party administering was not aware that he was the least unwell. The attending physician certifies that there was no cruel treatment, and the convicts themselves endorse his statement. The authorities are alive to the matter of cruel treatment and are determined that contractors shall treat convicts as they should be.

THE German Reichstag was formally opened on the 25th ult. with great pomp and ceremony, such, it is said, as has not been seen in half a century. The new Emperor was to make an address and it drew a large concourse of citizens. In his address he announced that he would strive to imitate the peaceful rule of his illustrious grandfather. The Emperor may even surprise his enemies as well as his friends and give to Germany a government which will compare favorably with those of his illustrious predecessors.

MR. KELLEY, one of the leading protectionists of Congress, when the Democrats tried to fix a time for a vote on the Mills bill, proposed to the Democrats to let the bill stand over until after the election, promising if the Democrats were victorious in their platform not to oppose it then, and asking a similar concession from the Democrats. The offer was promptly refused.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe Cold, attended with a distressing Cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottles free at McMaster, Brice & Ketchin's Drug Store. *

A LARGE fire in Fort Mills on Tuesday morning destroyed over eighteen thousand dollars worth of property, while there was only eight hundred dollars of insurance. The recent fires in different towns of the State are able commentators on the value of insurance. It is not only a protection to property, but a protection to one's credit abroad.

WE are seldom called upon to give advice, but we are going to offer two men of this country a little just for a change. They are Messrs. Blaine and Sherman, and the advice is that they never again enter the Presidential field. They are both doomed to misfortune and defeat, as it should be. We advise the G. O. P. to "trot" in another horse,

SOUTH CAROLINA will doubtless compare favorably with any other State, if not excel any other, in its number of high grade colleges. Outside of Charleston, with its number of well known institutions, and the South Carolina College, there are four denominational institutions. This speaks well for the people of the State.

MR. LEROY SPRINGS, of Lancaster, well said to Mrs. Cleveland that the Palmetto State would give her husband forty thousand majority. Let us double it just to show the party what sensible men can do.

MOSSY DALE NEWS.

The prospects for crops are better at this time, as we have been visited by rain which will possibly increase the yield. The cotton crop is showing marked improvement, as it is growing very fast and putting on its limbs and forms. The general condition of the crop is good, as farmers have been utilizing dry weather and cleaned their crops.

I attended an evening picnic given by the croquet party at Mr. T. C. Camak's on last evening. There was quite a crowd and a very nice supper The young folks exercised considerable skill after supper, in consequence of its being dark, to secure their partners, and scattered off for "that particular social talk." So you may look for results.

There was a ghost seen in this neighborhood a few nights ago by a young man at a point on the road where it makes its appearance sometimes. He was very much frightened and would have run away had it not been that he was held back by the wing of a better angel who was accompanying him. He has since recovered from his fright, and enjoys it very much after finding out that it was only a man he saw.

There was quite a nice entertainment at Bethel church a week ago, which was children's day. A picnic was given by the friends representing the different Sunday schools. Speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Garris and Hon. S. R. Rutland, the day was very pleasant and I hope profitably spent.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phœbe Chesley, Peterson, Clay county, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." CUTTLERY.

WE OFFER A NICE LINE OF Pocket Knives, which we can recommend for their cutting qualities. The Rodgers Knife became famous as a cutter, but here is something better. The Rodgers Knife is made in England, but the American is getting ahead of the English in many of its manufactures. The American watch has driven the English watch entirely out of our market, and it is the same case with cuttlery. You can scarcely find a Rodgers Knife anywhere now. Our people make a finer article for the same money.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR THE DAVIS MACHINE

A few months ago we had the pleasure of in[illegible] that the Davis Sewing Machine Company has bee[illegible] at London and the first order of Merit at the Adelaide [illegible] tion, to say nothing about the minor awards in America a[illegible] globe, which, although unheralded. have necessitated an increa[illegible] at the factory at Watertown, N. Y., in order to keep up with [illegible] American public is pretty well acquainted with the merits of the [illegible] chine, and the indefatigable travelers and agents are doing excellen[illegible] ing up the novel mechanism and proving the worth and capacity of the Da[illegible] ing Machine. The management of the Davis Company has not only looked for and secured a good market for the machine in the land of its birth, but has kept a watchful eye on the export trade. The Davis Machines are now in use in every portion of the globe, and the company is spreading its business in all lands where there is use for sewing machines, both in Eastern and Western Hemispheres.

The Davis Sewing Machine is a hard machine to meet in a competition, and, as we have before mentioned, no employee of the company fears to meet a rival, for it is safe to say that every one who is connected with the Davis Sewing Machine Co., and is employed in its sale, whether at wholesale or retail, not only understands his own machine thoroughly, but is pretty well posted regarding the good points and defects of competing machines.

We started out to say that the Davis Sewing Machine has scored another triumph. "Good wine needs no bush," and we will reproduce a letter recently received by the company, a copy of which has been kindly furnished us:

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION OF 1887
MAYOR'S OFFICE, TOULOUSE, Feb. 2[illegible], 1888.

Davis Sewing Machine Co.: I have the honor to inform you that your productions have been awarded at the International Exposition at Toulouse a Gold Medal.

The same has been deposited, subject to your disposition, at the Mayor's Office, 2nd Division, 10 to 5 o'clock, on presentation of the annexed receipt, to which you will have the goodness to affix your signature, and the seal of your house.

Should you desire us to send the medal to you, please send us a money order, in the name of the Mayor, for 1 franc. 60, for postage and packing.

The medal should be removed before the 20th of March. I have the honor to remain, etc.,

(Signed) E. CARTAILHAC.

This is sufficient to show that the merits of the Davis Machine are recognized abroad; and in Uncle Sam's domain the machine is sold by good people, to good advantage and to good customers. In the hands of the able salesmen, both at wholesale and retail, it is a terror to competition.—S. M. News.
