

GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Perform in Chapel Next Friday—Good Program Assured.

On next Friday night, March 13, the Glee Club will give its first performance in Columbia this season. The performance will begin at 8.30 in the University chapel.

The club has recently returned from a very successful trip on which they visited Laurens, Greenwood and Greenville.

Mr A. J. Garing, who made a tour of the world with Sousa's Band, and who for the past seven seasons has played with them, will play a euphonium and a trombone solo. He made a big hit with those who heard him last year.

The hand-out will consist of the latest songs, sung by quartettes and soloists. Hoyt Cook will perform on the violin. One of the features of the entertainment is the Mock German. The female characters in this act are played by Dick Reeves as Miss Simpleton, and Foster Marshall as Miss Vercute. This act generally brings down the house. The University orchestra will be in great form for the concert.

We want a big crowd out to this concert. Talk it up among your friends. The Glee Club deserves our support as much as any other organization. The admission for students, will be 25 cents, for outsiders, 50 cents.

A Correction

Editor of Gamecock: Will you please give me space for a correction? In the issue of The Gamecock reporting the talk I made in Flinn Hall on Law as a profession, the following reference was made: "In Speaking of the field of law the speaker stated that the law profession is not over-crowded. In fact there is a lack of earnest, efficient lawyers." What was said is as follows: "Every profession is crowded to one who expects an easy time. The opportunities for intellect and thorough training to come to the front are as great now as in the past." And then later on, "Honesty and morality are of prime importance." It was not my intention to give the impression that there is a lack of honest lawyers, for the standard is high in the profession. I shall thank you for aid in the correction of what might well have seemed to many an incorrect assertion. The files of The Gamecock constitute a record, and I wish to keep the record straight.

MOOT COURT CONVENES

Interesting Criminal Case Tried by Young Lawyers.

The regular weekly meeting of the Moot Court was held in the law room on Wednesday night. This meeting was the first at which a case has been tried for some time. Considerable interest was aroused, but it is urged now that the proceedings are being regularly conducted again and cases tried; that a larger number of men attend and thereby benefit themselves and help the association continue its good work.

A departure was taken at the last meeting from the usual custom of trying civil cases, and this time a criminal case was tried before a jury, each side offering testimony in evidence. Another new feature was the appearance of a junior on each side as counsel. The juniors performed their duties well.

The case tried was that of the State vs. Frank Herman, charged with assault. Two witnesses were introduced by the State, and three by the defence. The case soon resolved itself into a question of facts, very little law being involved. The court was presided over by Chief Justice Rucker; while Associate Justice Reynolds delivered an able charge to the jury. These gentlemen retired, and after some deliberation reported that they were unable to agree, and the court ordered a mistrial. The prosecuting attorneys were Messrs. McLeod and Bellinger, and the defendant was represented by Messrs. Brockington and Shuler.

Law Building Refused

The item for a $40,000 law building for the University of South Carolina met its death on Tuesday in the Committee on Free Conference between the two branches of the General Assembly. Its death Tuesday ended a somewhat adventurous career, for the item was recommended favorably by the House committee on Ways and Means, and passed through the House successfully some weeks ago. The Senate stricken with a sudden passion for economy and remembering its bread-hungry constituents whose vote its members will have when summer comes, killed the item.

Hope was revived when the House failed to concur in the Senate amendment, omitting the item. It was then referred to the committee on Free Conference, which action proved fatal to it.

The measles patients are: Cridder, Bell, Rollins, Lee, Adams, Crawford, and Crow.

THE SMOOTHEST TOBACCO

PINK! That's our recipe for taking the bite out of good tobacco leaf. We hang the leaf in the warehouse for two years—temperature and ventilation perfect—all harshness disappears. A mellowness prevails that gives superb flavor and a smoothness seldom found. This is the good old fashioned way of maturing good leaf—and Velvet is a startling example of tobacco goodness. Sometime when your pipe is burning hot and the taste is flat—try Velvet! At all dealers.
