THE SELF-SUPPORTING COLLEGE MAN

Interesting Discussion of the Working Students.

"Where there is a will there is a way." When this quotation comes to our mind, we at once think of the self-supporting student, who has from day to day kept these words constantly before him. Words which have become second nature as he struggles on toward the realization of his ideals. This quotation looks gloomy at first, but when he gets into the fight, the mist seems to roll away and the vision becomes clearer.

The student who is making an effort to obtain an education at any price is the one that we wish to commend. If the young man who goes thru college on flowery beds of ease, financially speaking, gets his praise, then ten fold should he be praised who gets his knowledge by the sweat of his brow. If that be the case many deserve special commendation right here in the University of South Carolina. At present about 25 per cent. of the entire student body are earning part or all the money necessary to carry them thru college. We should be proud to state these statistics. Not because they are poor boys having to work for an education, but because of the fact that there are so many in our University endowed with that element called "pluck."

There is still a far greater thing in store for the self-supporting student—the laying of a foundation for his future life that cannot be excelled. He is brought face to face with "father time." He knows the value of money, something that not every student can boast of.

The State also gets its proportionate share from this student, for he is the one that generally makes the best citizen. He is willing to work for his State as he worked for his education. He also helps his State by inspiring other young men to get an education.

So there is no reason why a working student should become despondent because he has to labor for his education. He should look on it as a privilege instead of a burden, and remember, "There are no gains without pains."

"Contributed."

THE GAMECOCK will act as undertaker for the following campus expressions:

"Get a shovel."

"You know it."

"Funny world."

"Got me Steve?"

"We should worry."

"You know me. Al."

It's often a great deal easier to get out of financial trouble than the trouble our tempers get us into, and man has never invented any better smoother-out of ruffled tempers than VELVET, The Smoothest Smoking Tobacco. ## Two World's Records in One Day with the .22 Savage Hi-Power

At the Bisley Matches of the British National Rifle Association—the biggest rifle match in the world—the .22 Savage Hi-Power rifle and Savage ammunition in the hands of Mr. Walter Winans on July 25, 1914 made the highest possible score on the Running Deer target—six straight 5's. This is a World's record.

On the same day, with the same rifle and ammunition, Mr. Winans made the highest possible score on the Running Wild Boar target—six straight 5's. Another World's record.

This merely clinches what other shooters have prayed—that the Imp's wonderful accuracy (25 consecutive shots in a 20-inch circle at 500 yards), tremendous velocity (2800 feet—more than half a mile—a second), long point blank range (200-yard trajectory less than three inches), and trifling recoil (4.6 foot-pounds) make it easier to hit moving game with than any other rifle.

And it has killed Alaskan Brown Bear, Grizzly, Buffalo, and man-eating tiger, besides the deer and black bear it was originally designed for.
