GAMECOCKS LOSE HARD FOUGHT GAME

Bulldogs Unable to Gain Thru Line or Around End.

Citadel is Forced to Use Aerial Tactics Which Prove a Success.

In one of the fiercest games ever played on the University field, each team struggling with all their might against the other, the Citadel eleven defeated the Carolina eleven, on Thanksgiving day, by a score of 20 to 2. During most of the game it was drizzling rain and consequently the art of forward passing was more difficult.

Dick Kerr was the star for Carolina. After forcing the ball down the field on straight line plunges to the Citadel's thirty yard line, he punted to Marshall who attempted to run the ball out from behind the goal line. He was tackled and thrown for a Carolina safety. He hit the Citadel line time and again for consistent gains. Kerr was the only backfield man in the game who could split open the line of opposition. Seaborn at the other half, streaked like a meteor around either end for several long gains. Frank Simril, tho playing with a broken hand, pulled off some pretty end runs. Clark, at end for the Gamecocks, flashed down the field like a streak on the slow field and hit Captain Johnny Weeks in his tracks on many a punt.

The chief feature of the Citadel players was their forward passing which they have been developing thru many seasons of play. And it is well for the Bulldogs that that style of play has been drilled into the eleven, for it was the forward pass that won the game. Carolina's line held the Citadel players back and frequently threw runners for losses. But the Bulldogs were too well trained in their aerial attacks.

Boland and Q. Jefford's were the Citadel's best men in the line. Jeffords at guard was in every play, charging hard and fast and breaking up all runs in his territory. Captain Weeks at quarter for the cadets, threw the forward passes well and did some beautiful punting. Marshall at half and Switzer at full battered the line with all their force.

Gamecock Routs Tiger

For the second time in the history of Winthrop the Cadets have lost to the Carolinians on this campus.

Last week two notices were on the Athletic Association bulletin board. One read: Those who wish to play for Clemson sign below; the other, Those who wish to play for Carolina sign below. Eleven girls were needed for each team and about thirty signed up for each, including most of our best hockey players. Those who signed tried out for the team. Where two girls were trying for the same position and were well matched, one was put in for each half. The lineup was as follows;

Carolina		Clemson
Trotti, V.	r w	Lyles, F.
LaBoon, K.	r f	Edmonds, W.

DIXON FOSTER TO COACH BASKET BALL

Famous Coach of Freshmen Will also Tutor Baseball.

Many Men Report for First Practice.

W. Dixon Foster, efficient coach of the Carolina Freshman eleven and former instructor of athletics at Porter's Military Academy, will coach the varsity basket ball and baseball teams this season. The position was offered him several days ago by the advisory board, but he did not decide until Tuesday to accept the offer.

Mr. Foster has had much experience in coaching various athletic teams. He is an alumnus of Hampton Sydney where he was a star in all lines of athletics. Since this time he has coached many teams. He was instructor at Greenbriar and then came to Porter's where he developed one of the best prep school football machines in the South.

First regular practice was announced for Wednesday afternoon, and as a result about thirty men reported in the Gym for try-outs. Several of last year's players were in uniform, and many new men were on the floor. Practice will be held every afternoon at five o'clock.

The prospects are bright for a winning team this year, as all of last year's varsity are back except Captain Farrell.

The schedule has not yet been announced, but they will take at least two trips; one of which will be to Charleston, while the other will be thru the upper part of the state and possibly into Georgia. The Columbia and Mills Y. M. C. A. will probably be played before the Christmas holidays. Neat uniforms have been ordered and the team will be well equipped this season.

TURKEY DAY DANCE WAS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Sponsor's Ball Given by Student Body and German.

Good Music Adds Spirit to Occasion as the two Student Bodies do the Light Step.

Thanksgiving day ended fittingly by a dance given by the student body and German Club in honor of the football sponsors. The music was furnished by the Davis Orchestra. One German figure was danced. The rest of the engagements were given to snappy one-steps, fox trots, and entrancing waltzes. There was a general display of "pep." When, at one o'clock, "Home, Sweet Home" was played a rebellious murmur rose from the assemblage. Twice during the evening the lights went out, but Prof. Carson and Prof. Coleman each time came to the rescue and threw light on the subjects.

The Carolina sponsors were most attractive. They were as follows: Misses Louise Rucker, Lillie Currell, Georgia Manning, Mary Craig, Ellen Douglas Boykin, and Lula Fewell.

The Citadel brought with them the following sponsors: Misses Maude Weinheimer, Caroline Simons, Annie Bissell, Margaret Welling, Ruth Harvey, and Margaret Moore.

Some of the visiting girls present at the dance were: Misses Virginia Mosely, Myra Roof, Myrtle Gray, Marian Robertson, Annie Louise Gelzer.

BREARLEY WINS ORATOR'S MEDAL

The Euphradian Society Oratorical Contest, held in the society hall Monday night was won by C. D. Brearley. The central thought in his speech, "Our opportunity," was America's chance to promote peace in the future thru the Hague Peace Conference.

The other speakers follow: F. B. Simkins "Our Greatest Danger;" G. K. Rich—"Here and Hereafter."

J. B. Bates presided and B. H. Barton was Chief Marshall. The Judges were: Thos. H. Peeples, Robert Moorman, and J. B. Murphy.

Dr. A. C. Moore made an address on the "Boll Weevil" at Lykesland November, 24.
