Hypatian Program Given To Freshmen

Talks Made On Differences Between High School And College Life

The freshmen had charge of the Hypatian literary society program Wednesday afternoon. Miss Annie Laurie Mitchell spoke on the differences between a senior in high school and a freshman in college. Miss Maud Brazzelle gave a complete description of Hyatt Park school, her Alma Mater. Miss Hattie Mae Still pointed out the disparity between high school and college boys. All members taking part in the program of the afternoon were graduates of Hyatt Park.

Last week, Miss Carrie Nell Goff discussed the honor system, defining it as the transference of the honor of the home to the college campus.

"The honor system does not apply to examinations alone," she explained, "but to all phases of college life.

A man's word is as good as gold until proved otherwise. The only hope for the honor system is to educate or work up public sentiment in its favor. If the students do not report each other, how can the honor system succeed, since it is not to report students? As it is, the honor system has failed, and we must face the fact."

Miss Minnie Mitchell told the funniest story which, in her opinion, she had ever heard—the difference between an optimist and a pessimist—"An optimist (she declared), is one who pursues joy; a pessimist is one who pursues pain."

Miss Scarborough Attends Convention

Secretary Of Gamma Omega Pi Is Delegate To A.D.R. Celebration

Miss Hattie Scarborough, secretary of Gamma Omega Pi circle, has returned from Farmville, Virginia, where she went as a delegate from the circle here to attend Founder's Day celebration of Alpha Delta Rho, honorary leadership sorority at Virginia State Normal, and to make plans for nationalizing the two honorary leadership sororities at the two schools. Detailed plans are being worked out, and a delegation from both schools will meet to complete the plans and to establish a similar circle at Queens College, Charlotte, N. C., May 11 and 12.

G. O. P. has been presented with a silver-bound cedar gable bearing the names of "Blood" Hildebrand, "Preacher" Edwards and Tom Moore Craig, the donors of the gift. The gable, presented to Tom Craig when he was six years old, is made of cedar that grew in the yard of Theodosia Burr at Murrell's Inlet, the famous daughter of Aaron Burr, at one time vice-president of the United States.

Miss Cone President Of Euphrosynean

Misses Stoddard, Heyward, Turner, Mikell And Fowles Named Officers

Miss Mildred Cone of Ulmers was elected president of the Euphrosynean literary society at its meeting Wednesday afternoon. Other officers elected were: Misses Floride Stoddard, vice president; Elizabeth Heyward, secretary; Rosalie Turner, treasurer; Alice Mikell, critic; and Emily Fowles, censor. Committees will be appointed by the new president at the next meeting.

Miss Cone is a member of the rising senior class, and has held several important offices in the society. She is also a member of the Y.W. cabinet.

It was decided by an amendment to the constitution that the medal that has been awarded annually for the best poem, essay or short story be changed to a jeweled society pin.

Y.W. Cabinet Spends Week-End at Camp

Miss Reed Of Sumter Acts As Advisor—Miss Johnson Attends

Following precedent the new Y. W. C. A. cabinet was initiated by spending the week end at Camp La-a-Lot last week. The group was taken down on Friday afternoon in cars by some of the professors who returned for them on Sunday afternoon. The week-end was profitably spent, and Miss Eloise Shepherd, president of the Y. W., expressed herself as very gratified at the results of the camp. Many questions that are facing young students everywhere, and some of local importance, were discussed to advantage by the girls.

A great asset to the cabinet was the presence of Miss Rebecca Reed of Sumter who came over as counselor, and who conducted many of the discussion groups. Miss Reed is a former regional secretary, national secretary, and has accompanied several groups on tours to Europe. Her experience with young women has been extensive, and she is well equipped to work with Y. W.'s. Miss Leila Johnson of the faculty was also present, and helped greatly by her suggestions and the splendid spirit with which she met all the problems facing the girls.

Those attending were Misses Eloise Shepherd, Ida Johnston, Catherine Remley, Selina McGregor, Virginia Muller, Gertrude Rigby, Elizabeth Heyward, Edna Earle Kirton, Rosalie Turner, Mildred Cone, Roberta Plowden and Mayre Wall.

The girls are indebted to Misses Helen Smith and Claudia Cantey, Dr. Murchison, Dr. Morse, and Professor McCutcheon for transportation.
