Group Rating In Scholarship Made Known

Delta Eta Sigma Leads
Registrar Announces Ranks Of Fraternities, Sororities, And Student Body Groups

Delta Eta Sigma, local sorority, led the fraternities and sororities at the University in scholarship average the first semester of the present scholastic year. The average for the sorority was 1.70 or about a "B" plus average. Pi Delta Phi, local sorority, came second with a 2.11 average; while Pi Beta Phi, national sorority, came third with an average of 2.17.

Phi Sigma Kappa, led the fraternities with an average of 2.51 and came fifth in the list of fraternities and sororities. Phi Beta Delta, came second on the fraternity average roll, with 2.60; followed by Phi Epsilon Pi in third place with 2.66.

The all student body average was 2.87 as compared with the all fraternity and sorority average of 2.85. The all women's average was 2.54, while the all men's average was 3.05. The all women's average is the highest average of any group of students considered separately from the fraternity and sorority averages.

The highest rating possible under the system is 1.00, according to Registrar John A. Chase, Jr., who prepares the figures for distribution. In this way "A" is 1.00, "B" is 2.00, "C" is 3.00, "D" is 4.00, while "E," the lowest rating allowed, is 5.00.

The averages in full are given below:

Fraternity or Sorority	Average
Delta Eta Sigma (L) (S)	1.70
Pi Delta Phi (L) (S)	2.11
Pi Beta Phi (S)	2.17
Delta Delta Delta (S)	2.34

Banquet Will Be Eliminated

Junior-Senior Celebration To Be Featured By Dance; Plans Get Underway

The banquet feature of the annual Junior-Senior celebration will be eliminated for the first time in many years, according to Jim Galloway, junior class president.

Tentative plans of the committee, composed of Jim Galloway, Bill Cante, Harry Singletary and Carolyn Burnet, include a prom at one of the city hotels.

During the grand march favors will be presented to the guests. Souvenirs for the girls will probably be novelty compacts and boutonnières for the boys.

A short program of toasts and songs will be an interesting feature of the entertainment.

"Tickets will be very reasonable due to the fact that the junior class treasury will be able to bear a great part of the expenses," Galloway stated.

Tempting refreshments will be served throughout the dance amid an artistic and modernistic atmosphere.

Spring Holidays To Begin Friday

"Spring holidays will begin at eight o'clock Friday morning, March 25th, and will last until eight o'clock Tuesday morning, March 29th," announced Registrar John A. Chase, Jr., this week.

"Students will be at liberty to leave the campus after they have furnished their classes on Thursday, March 24th, but the holidays do not begin until Friday morning and remember: double cuts count for two days before and after the holidays."

Holidays came last year about the middle of April. The difference is due to the date of holidays depending upon date of Easter season.

Studies Reveal Inner Passion In Confession

"Get My Man", Co-Ed Males Interested Primarily In Future, Not In Juliet Just Now

"My own desire is to get the man I love." That in ten words expresses the unexpressed—or rather suppressed—desires of two-thirds of the co-eds interviewed on their big ambition.

The consuming passion of the majority of Carolina's daughters then is either a blonde, brunette, or red head. And what are the chances for these desires to be fulfilled? Not so good, if these maidens are planning to marry their old schoolmates. At least of all of the boys interviewed, not one professed himself to be concentrating supremely on getting a wife. Or maybe they just take it for granted that any woman would jump at the chance to be the wife of the president of the United States, the moll of a really good gangster like Scarface Al, the mate of a Flying Eagle, or the editor of Ballyhoo.

For such is the diversity of ambitions held by the male citizens of the campus. The last was second only to those ambitions of finding the Lindbergh baby. Nor were these pursuits confined to the boys. They were shared by several co-eds who professed a desire to take the air, run for president, and one ten-minute egglette even said she would like to take up a racket.

One enterprising journalism co-ed declared she was going to be a really successful Winchell.

And men who think they have a corner on the vagabonds would be amazed at the number of itching feet enclosed in dainty suede and alligator skin slippers—or what are the chicshod sporting this season?

Blue Key Has Luncheon Meet

Several Students And Alumni Elected Into Group; Discuss Worthy Matters

Several students and alumni were elected to Blue Key fraternity last night at a luncheon meeting at the Rose Mary Tea room at 7 o'clock. The names will not be disclosed until the men acknowledge acceptance of the bids. John Bolt Culbertson, president, presided.

Several matters of service to the University were brought up and discussed. The fraternity adopted a number of amendments to its constitution.

Initiation of the newly-elected members will probably take place the middle of April at a formal banquet.

Steward's Hall Matron Passes

Annie Witherspoon Dies After Brief Illness, Due To Acute Attack Of Heart Trouble

Miss Annie Reid Witherspoon died Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. L. Latimer, 2211 Wheat street. Her death came after a brief illness and was due to acute heart trouble.

"Miss Annie," as she was affectionately called by the students, had been for 20 years assistant manager of Steward's Hall of the University, and had gained the love and respect of all she came in contact with. The University students will universally mourn her passing.

Lilium Will Be Next Play Here

The next production of the Palmetto Players of the University will be "Lilium," by Franz Molnar. This is by far the most ambitious project yet to be attempted by the Players but it is hoped that it can be made an even bigger success than "So This is London."

Rehearsals began Wednesday night and the initial performance will be put on sometime early in April.

South Carolina's Debating Squad

Senior Class Meets Today

Plan Protest Of Changes In The Requirements For Graduation And Honors

A meeting of the senior class has been called today, according to Frank Bostick, president, in order to consider matters relative to the recent raise in standard for graduation honors and the class gift. Bostick stated that many of the seniors have protested strongly against the change, which was approved by the faculty recently. The revised ruling raises the requirements for both the rating "magna cum laude" and "cum laude."

When approached on the subject, Troy T. Stokes, president of the student body and a member of this year's senior class, said that he considered the move unfair to the prospective graduates, since no advance notice was given of the proposed change. He stated, that in his opinion, he thought that at least a year's notice should be given.

Registrar John A. Chase, Jr. refused to comment on the situation, except to say that he felt sure that the protests of the students would have much to do with any action the faculty might take on the matter.

R. V. Magoffin To Talk Here

Dr. R. V. Magoffin, professor of Ancient Languages in New York University, will talk in chapel Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock. He will talk on "Sweethearts and Wives of the Greeks and Romans."

The speaker is being brought here by Eta Sigma Phi, national honorary Greek fraternity which has a chapter located on the campus.

Students Express Views About Baby Kidnapping

University students offered many different opinions when so questioned by a Gamecock reporter. Many thought he was hidden in a spot near the estate, others that he was on a ship at sea, and one in New York City. Some believed that the kidnapping was done by gangs, but others said that a friend of the family was implicated. Some put forth the idea that he was dead and one said that his fate would remain a mystery for years.

Ted Tharin: "I think that the person who knows a great deal about the whereabouts of the Lindbergh baby is not being permitted to help in the search. I feel that the crime was committed by a person who is very close to the family. I think the child is not very far from New Jersey."

Brown And Stokes To Debate North Carolina Team Over Air Today

Affirmative Debaters Lose To U. Of Florida

Carolina's affirmative debating squad lost to a negative U. of Florida team last night at 8 o'clock in the Clariosophic hall. T. R. Finley of Laurens and L. A. Williamson of Aiken represented the University.

A good audience of students and out-of-town people heard the argument.

Greeks To Give No Easter Ball

Pan-Hellenic Not To Levy Blanket Assessment To Cover June Ball This Year

No Pan-Hellenic Easter ball will be staged this year as the result of a motion passed March 7 by the Pan-Hellenic council. Objection to this dance which has been given at previous Eastertides was based on lack of funds. Others suggested that the event could be financed by those attending, not by the whole social fraternity group, as has been done in the past.

Another motion carried requiring only those attending the June ball given by the Greek body to pay for the dance, although this, too, has been supported in the past by a blanket assessment laid on all social fraternities.

By ignoring the statement of the annual officials that each fraternity page will cost $30 if it goes into the yearbook, the council decided that there would be no social fraternities section in this year's Garnet and Black.

Galloway And Hankins Defeat College Of Charleston Debaters Wednesday

J. Wiley Brown and Troy T. Stokes will debate an affirmative team, John Wilkerson and Donald Seawell of the University of North Carolina, over radio station WIS this afternoon at 5:45 o'clock. This will be a non-decision debate on the Pi Kappa Delta query: "Resolved, That Congress Should Enact Legislation Providing for the Centralized Control of Industry, Constitutionality Waived."

Thomas C. Hankins and Jim Galloway, on the affirmative of the above query, won a decision over C. R. Ulbern and W. T. McLaughlin, members of a negative team representing the College of Charleston, in a debate held Wednesday evening in the Clariosophic hall. J. Wiley Brown presided.

An affirmative team composed of L. A. Williamson and T. R. Finley dropped a decision to Bucknell University on this same question here. This debate also took place in the Clariosophic hall. Williamson and Finley will soon take a trip to Georgia, meeting Tech and Mercer, while Stokes and Brown will make an extended trip into Florida.

Seminary Men Will Speak Here

Episcopal Seminary Representatives To Conduct Services In Chapel Soon

Religious emphasis week on the campus will begin next Sunday, according to R. G. Bell, executive secretary of the local Y. M. C. A.

This activity will be conducted by three students of the Episcopal Theological seminary of Alexandria, Va., Matthew Warren, a graduate of West Virginia, where he was prominent in student activities, and a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity; Harry Doll, a graduate of William and Mary, and an outstanding student; and Richard R. Beasley, University of Virginia, a letter-man in track, and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Want And Giles Attend Meeting

LeRoy M. Want of Darlington, editor, and John A. Giles of Greenville, business manager, will represent The Carolinian at the annual meeting of the Association of College Comics of the East in New York today and Saturday.

The Carolinian was only admitted to membership in the association this year.

German Frat Honors Goethe

Program Planned To Commemorate 100th Anniversary Of Death Of German Poet

Commemorating the one-hundredth anniversary of the death of Goethe, celebrated German poet of the 18th and 19th centuries, the Sigma chapter of Delta Phi Alpha, honorary German languages fraternity, will present Dr. W. S. Currell on a public program in the University Chapel at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Everyone is invited to attend.

The program is designed to impart information concerning the life and works of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, the world-famous author. The entertainment was arranged by Fannie Cooper, under the supervision of Dr. Francis Bradley, head of the German department. Ellis Crapps, president of the fraternity, will preside over the following program:

"Jubal Overture" by the University Symphony Orchestra conducted by Madame Felice de Horvath, lecture on

Yellow Sheet Is To Appear Next

The next edition of The Gamecock will be the Yellow Sheet, appearing on the campus the minute the clock announces April 1.

Any material may be submitted for this issue by any member of the student body or faculty subject to the approval of the editor before being published.

Cross contributions will be thrown in the waste basket with no hesitation, while a premium will be placed upon original humor that appeals as such to everyone. The articles may be left at the campus post office addressed to The Gamecock.

SCANDAL! Let's have it!
