posed appropriation and the one requested by the board of trustees. He specifically pointed out the fact that even under the requested appropriation salaries would have to be cut 21.7%. At that scale full professors would draw a salary of $1996.50. Under the House bill they would receive $1,250.

It was also pointed out that since 1926 amounts expended for equipment have been reduced 93%, thus seriously endangering the standing of the University.

Other requests made by the University were for the retention of the pharmacy school, a "hands off" policy on the part of the General Assembly on the question of the student activity fee, and a reduction of the tuition for out-of-state students from the proposed $150 to double the tuition of state students.

As amended the bill now before the Senate committee has the following provisions:

1. An appropriation of $246,600 for the period January, 1933 to July, 1934.
2. The abolition of free tuition and normal scholarships.
3. A tuition fee for state students of $60 and for out-of-state students of $150.
4. No compulsory activity fee of over $10 a year.
5. No change in the fees of students in the University law school or the Medical college at Charleston unless the trustees wish to do so.

theses be filed, one to remain permanently in the library and one to be available to outsiders. At present many schools require that only one copy be filed and since this copy must remain in the library, it is unavailable to a large number of research workers in other parts of the country.

The University of South Carolina requires that two copies of these be filed, one in the library and one with the dean of the graduate school. The latter is available to outside research workers.

The University awards the doctor's degree only in English, History and Education.

Abe Rubinowitz running down Green Street clad only in a pair of trousers.... The Sunday afternoon session on the wall in front of the library.... J. C. Dowling having his picture taken and stating that it was to be used for advertising purposes... Luke Williamson, strolling across the campus clad in a hat and wrapped in his presidential dignity.... Students remarking that there was also a depression as far as campus politics were concerned.... Sarah Mills writing publicity for the Town Theatre.... Miss Clarabel Hiller of the Department of Education busily gathering material for the Department of Education Gazette which she publishes every week.... Annie Lyle Miller taking a sick rabbit out to walk.

Coleman Karesh, former student and at present a prominent lawyer, acting as judge of the Oratorical Contest held in the Euphradian hall.... Euphradians calling each other "Senator" with much dignity since the new system of organization has been instituted.... Archie Beattie, as usual, waxing rhapsodic over the joys of a farmer's life.... Dr. Morse taking up an entire class hour to deliver an oration on college athletics, college publications, and what ought to be done about them.... Delle Goodwyn becoming so convulsed while reading aloud in class, that she had to ask Professor Wagener to pinch-hit for her.... Bonnie Shand riding a bicycle around the block.... Students reading the newspaper publicity about "Edgar Allan Poe" and wondering what a "procession of protracted beauty" was; anyway, it sounds good.... A student entering a famous "crip" class and when seeing the number of football players there, remarking that it looked like a skull practice.... Ella Parr Phillips, graduate of the University, regularly sitting in on one of a certain professor's classes just because she likes to hear him talk.... Herman Patterson, the living proof of "in the spring, etc.".... Jack Fishburne seemingly unaffected by the fact that for two years he has made straight A's.... The Carolinian anniversary party joining the ranks of the unfounded myths of the campus, along with the Alpha Kappa Gamma carnival.

ILLUSION:
In India, the fakirs present a spectacle to tourists. Two lovely performers break bottles and lamp chimneys before the eyes of the audience, and throw the jagged pieces into a box already filled with broken glass. They step barefooted into the box and do an Oriental dance in the glass without injury.

EXPLANATION:
The performers toughen their feet in a strong solution of alum water and thoroughly rub them with pulverized resin before they appear. They throw the freshly broken glass around the edges of the platform. The glass on which they actually do dance is very thick, heavy, and filed or ground so that the sharp edges are rounded off. The girls just pretend to dance on the sharp glass.

One of the tricks of cigarette advertising is to pretend that "Heat Treatment" is an exclusive process, making one cigarette better than any other.

EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use heat treatment. It is a routine process of manufacture. The first Camel cigarette ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment.

Harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat. Heat treatment never can make cheap, inferior tobacco good.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is the most important statement ever made in a cigarette advertisement. Weigh its words. Consider what it means. Then try Camels.

Camels are fresh... in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack.
