

Opening German Will Climax Gala Fair Week

The opening German of the year, first of a series of three leading social events, will provide a keenly anticipated climax to the annual Clemson struggle when Dave Ellison and his partner, Miss Cornelia Jackson, lead the dancers in the Grand March about the University Gym tomorrow evening.

Ellison's partner, Miss Jackson, is a sophomore in the University, and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Her home is in Sumter.

The president will be assisted by John Marion, senior leader, and Bobby Woods, junior leader. Marion's partner will be Miss Jane Bratten of York. Miss Margaret Douglas, daughter of the former president of the University, will lead the junior figure with Woods. The decorations this year will be simple, with the aim of producing a reserved, congenial atmosphere. The ruling pertaining to the use of the gym for dances has been changed to allow German and Damas dances and some Social Cabinet dances. Buster Spann and his Gamecock orchestra will play.

The German Club, one of many similar organizations in colleges all over the country, is, nevertheless, the oldest college dance club in America. Its three dances are always the leading social events of the college year.

The officers for this year, elected a few weeks ago, are as follows: president, David Ellison of Columbia; vice-president, Henry Gooding; secretary, Belton Boyle; treasurer, Dwight Cathcart; assistant treasurer, Joseph McKeller; senior leader, John Marion; junior leader, Bobby Woods.

Social Cabinet Gives Dance In Gym Tonight

The Social Cabinet will give a dance in the gymnasium tonight in order to raise money to pay the expenses of sponsors for the Clemson game tomorrow. In the past it has been the custom to pay the expenses of sponsors for the game from the proceeds of the student activity fee but this year the Social Cabinet's allotment was so cut that no money was on hand for this purpose.

The Clemson Jungaleers will furnish the music for the affair which will last from nine until one. A grand march will be held just before the intermission. It will be led by the sponsors of the co-captains of the Carolina team and their partners.

Sponsors for the dance will be the following: Mary Wright Shand, Martha Tompkins, Cornelia Jackson, Dell Goodwyn, Maxine Walker, Katherine Bush, Miriam Lander, Harriet Connor, Louise Cathcart, Betty Horton and Juddie Knox.

Members of the Social Cabinet have asked that it be stressed that these dances are on probation and any abuse of the gymnasium of the apparatus there will result in the banning of future dances from the gym completely.

Lost And Found Bureau At Postoffice

The University's postoffice in its handling of the mail has been compared to that of a small town handling the mail of 2,500 people.

The postoffice has two in-coming mails a day, at 8 a. m., and 2 p. m., three out-going mails at 10 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. The office is open from 8 a. m. to 12, and from 2 to 5 p. m.

About 300 students receive their mail through the window and about 200 through the postoffice boxes. This is as much mail as an average little town of 2,500 persons handles.

The postoffice sells stamps for the convenience of the students, and also handles registered and insured mail.

A lost and found bureau has been established by Mrs. Moon, the postmistress, where lost articles may be returned to the loser. Lost articles are given back to the finder, if they are not claimed in a reasonable length of time.
