

B. E. Geer Is Installed

Becomes Furman Head

Baker And Crawford Represent University At Formal In- stallation Ceremony

The University was represented by President L. T. Baker and John A. Crawford at the installation of Dr. Ben E. Geer, as president of Furman University on October 28. Geer succeeds Dr. William J. McGlothlin, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident early last summer.

The installation program included the formal installation, an alumni banquet, and a visit to the Furman-Mercer football games.

helpful? Man has solved many other problems, but this problem still baffles him."

"Many things stand in the way. Some say, however, that human nature is against a solution of the problem." But that it is possible for humans to be as mean, if not meaner than animals, and more brutish, as it is possible for them to be saints, which is human nature, was clearly pointed out by Dr. Morse in refuting the argument that human nature

Flags Given To Library

Several old Confederate flags have been given to the University library along with the records of the camp Wade Hampton Confederate Veterans, by Harry M. Lightsey, and Mrs. E. Preston Carpenter of Columbia, who was aide to the camp Wade Hampton Confederate Veterans, commander of the Sons camp of the Confederate Veterans.

These records were turned over to the library after the death of the last camp Wade Hampton veteran.

is against a solution of the problem.

That Jesus of Nazareth was constantly thinking about this problem, seeing how men dealt with each other in his own time, having as a law of the age, "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," was stressed, in showing how too often they considered others as mere human cattle.

"So he preached a simple gospel of brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God."

"This gospel was not accepted then and has been emphatically repudiated ever since... even as today," said Dr. Morse.

That the Germans at the present time are paying lip service to Christianity while living as pagans, was distinctly shown by Doctor Morse, who also stated that Germany is not the only country

Children Mimic Big Bingo Outfits At Fair

All-day-suckers, cellophane spectacles, pasteboard whistles, and tin crickets were the enticing prizes displayed on the shelf of a shed, supposed to be a miniature reproduction of those which house the gambling games, such an important part of every carnival. Behind the shed sat three happy, dirty little boys into whose mischievous heads the State Fair had put money-making ideas.

living in like manner today.

"Jesus taught not to overcome evil with evil but to overcome evil with good."

"Many people say that they are sick and tired of hearing 'What Jesus would have done.' They say that this is fine for Jesus, but we hardly think that he intended for us to really live like that. He did not intend for us to take that literally. It will be easy to live that way in heaven but not here on earth."

"Jesus did intend for us to live that way. He intended his message to be absolutely literal. Whatever we may think of Jesus in other ways it must be conceded that he understood human nature as few men have. He knew their capacities, and limitations and in view of his knowledge of these limitations and capacities he said. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your father in heaven is perfect. Love your enemies. He says

"Take your chance!"

Two little girls, after a lengthy conversation pro and con had decided to risk a penny.

"One! eighteen! five!"

"Bingo!"

"She wins a whistle!"

A minute of hushed expectation—

"It don't blow!"

"That's all right. Got another penny? Well, try for this one. I know it blows."

that these things are not beyond the capacities of man. They are not easy—but they are possible. It demands a daily self-lifting.

"It is not easy to be a Christian. The most difficult thing on earth. You can't have sympathy with evil doers and be a Christian. It comes through self-discipline, a yearning to be the very finest and best that we can. If you walk that path of spiritual development, some day you may deserve the title of Christian."

"This kind of life will work. The way of Jesus is the only way that will work. Men have rejected it. They have repudiated it. They have destroyed several civilizations by so doing and they are in the process of destroying our own civilization. But they are wrong. There is no other way to overcome evil except by good. Hate destroys the soul of the hater. Forgive our brothers who do us wrong.

"I ask you, what good has hate ever done?"

"The way of Jesus is the way of love, not hate, the way of peace—not war."

"Jesus pointed the way."

COSTLY TOBACCOS?

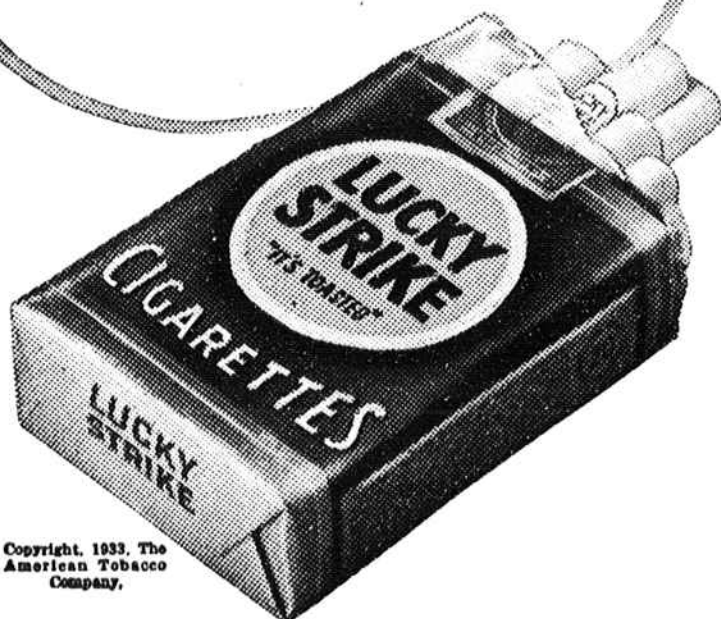

Airplane view of American Tobacco Company warehouses at Reidsville, N. C.

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos

ALWAYS the finest workmanship

ALWAYS Luckies please!

One Hundred Million Dollars worth of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are being aged by the makers of Lucky Strike

In fine warehouses like these—open to soft Southern breezes—a huge reserve of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos is aging and mellowing. 27 different kinds of tobacco, "the Cream of the Crop"—for nothing but the best is used to make Luckies so round, so firm, so fully packed—free from annoying loose ends. That's why Luckies are always so mild, so smooth.
