to Frank Kiss, but this year he has demonstrated that he is going to play second fiddle to no one. His main ability is his defensive play in which he has shown in every game. In the Duke contest, he was particularly effective in tackling.

At the quarterback position will be Ralph Dearth, another sophomore, who is from Portsmouth, Ohio. Dearth has alternated with Lit Durham at running the team this year, but Coach McCallister announced that Dearth would start the game. However, it is probable that both players will see plenty of service in the fray.

Halfbacks are plentiful on the Carolina squad, but Ed Clary and J. B. Henson will probably be in the starting lineup. Ed, a brother of the well-known Earl Clary, is a triple threat back who punts, passes, and runs for the team. He excels in all three fields and is expected to be at his best in the game tomorrow. Clary has broken loose for long gains against every team played this year. He plays safety man, and comes from Gaffney.

Henson is a sophomore from New Brookland. He is an excellent blocker as well as runner. In the opening game with Erskine, he scored the first touchdown of the year by receiving a pass across the goal line. He scored again in the Florida game on a run of 68 yards.

The fullback position will be taken care of by Big Durham, a sophomore from Greenville who weighs 185 pounds. He is a good blocker and tackler, and backs up the line for the Gamecocks.

Besides these who will take the field at first, there are several other players who are expected to be called to action in the game. Paul Robelot, a senior from Gaffney, will alternate with Dorflinger at right tackle. Jack Lyon will take up his post at halfback for at least a part of the game.

Other reserves are Larry Craig and Chief Myers, ends; Ossie Bramlett and Frank Martin, tackles; Fritz Turner and Hasel Murray, guards; Frank Kiss, center; Lit Durham and Lynn Kalmbach, quarterbacks; Van Edwards, Curry Farnham, Joe Williams, and Art Urbanyi, halfbacks; and Ed Stillwell, fullback.

Paul Gaffney and Joe Berry, Clemson quarterbacks, are the only 1935 all state players who will be in the game. Both of these are making bids for another berth on this team, and Gaffney is also a strong contender for All-Southern honors.

Carolina's team will enter this game with a record of three victories and two defeats for the season thus far.

Opening their year against Erskine, the Gamecocks swamped the Flying Fleet 38-0 as Coach McCallister used every man on the squad except three who were injured.

In spite of the hot weather the Birds pushed across six touchdowns, these being made by J. B. Henson, Tom Hutto, Lit Durham, Ed Clary, Joe Williams. Clary accounted for two markers on runs of 51 and 62 yards.

V. M. I. was not expected to cause any trouble, but the Carolina team found themselves the victims of hard luck and the breaks.

Trailing 7-12, the Gamecocks backed the Cadets into their own territory and forced them to kick from behind their goal line. A charging lineman rushed in to attempt to block the punt, and Trezeciak, seeing that he could not get off the kick, ran around the player and carried the ball for 101 yards and a touchdown.

Another touchdown from an intercepted pass gave the Cadets a 28-7 win over Carolina.

Duke was the next foe encountered, and, headed by Parker and Hackney, they were expected to score at will against the Birds.

A stubborn resistance was put up by the Carolina eleven, and Duke was forced to be content with a hard-earned 21-0 victory.

John Burns, Vincent Kelly, and Paul Gaffney attracted favorable comment from the sportswriters who saw the game and from Wallace Wade, Duke coach.

V. P. I. was set back by the score of 14-0 last Saturday. An intercepted pass which was carried back to the five yard line paved the way for the first touchdown, and Ralph Dearth made the other on a run of about sixty yards in the last half.

The Gamecock squad has been through a strenuous period of training in prepa-

Detroit Coach Says Mentor Gives Yardstick For Measuring Football Ability

Detroit, Mich. (ACP)—Coach Charles E. "Gus" Dorais of the University of Detroit has evolved a new yardstick for the measurement of football players—a yardstick that fans at all colleges and universities will find helpful in sizing up the qualifications of their athletic classmates.

According to Dorais, here are the 10 things that are essential to the ideal football player:

1. Coordination. This implies muscle response and quick reflexes. As Dorais sees it, strength speed and agility are of little use to a football player unless he is able to coordinate these qualities. Fast thinking is of value only when coupled with ability to translate the thought into instant muscular response.
2. Condition. In order to play top-notch football a man must be in such perfect physical condition that he can go through a game, or such part of a game as he remains in the line-up, without slackening his speed or thought of action.
3. Enthusiasm. No man can hope to be a great player without boundless enthusiasm for the game.
4. Mental alertness. The great football player must have a fast-acting mind. He must be constantly on the alert to meet the varying situations that arise both on offense and defense.
5. Courage. Both physical and moral courage of a high order are essential. Football entails a lot of hard knocking and the man who is afraid of getting hurt will never be a success at it. Moral courage implies ability to keep fighting in the face of reverses.
6. Cooperation. A player must be willing to cooperate with his fellows and his coaches.
7. Size. It is a well-proved axiom in sport that "a good big man is better than a good little man." For that reason the ideal football player should have a rugged physique and adequate weight.
8. Mental stability. The good player will be a man who can retain his poise under all conditions.
9. Application. There is a lot of hard work, almost drudgery, connected with learning the fundamentals of football.
10. Susceptibility to instruction. The ideal player must be willing to learn.

NOTICE IS GIVEN TO ALL TRAINERS

Chicago, Ill. (ACP)—Notice—coaches and trainers! In view of the recent fatal accidents that occurred in the Purdue football camp, special precautions should be exercised so that no more athletes will be added to the list.

Doctor Morris Fishbein, in an editorial in the American Medical Association Journal, explains how danger of explosions and burning can be eliminated or at least be greatly minimized by a wise selection of solvents for the purpose of removing adhesive tape from athletes.

"One preparation," says Fishbein, "consists of 98 per cent dichloromethane and is completely non-inflammable. The other, a mixture of about 60 per cent carbon tetrachloride, 40 per cent naphtha, and a small amount of sassafras oil, will burn but will not explode."

Sportsmanship Topic Of Lewis

New York City (ACP)—Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of LaFayette College, thinks that sportsmanship should be substituted for the present "mud-slinging" of political campaigns.

Addressing the closing session of the nineteenth annual convention of the New York State District of Kiwanis International, Dr. Lewis said:

"The mud-slinging, personal attacks, and vituperation now being promoted by certain political campaign leaders is a disgrace, and their under-handed and moronic propaganda is an insult to the intelligence of the American public. Until we put political contests on higher plane, we will find it difficult to persuade men of the finest type to become candidates for office."
