

Baptists Stage Free Banquet

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church will give a free banquet to all members of the College department tomorrow night in the Sunday School building. All members are cordially invited, and plates for anyone other than members of the department will be twenty-five cents in advance.

Chester Swor, of Mississippi College, will be the guest of honor, and Col. J. Rion McKissick and other notables have been invited.

Mr. Swor, who will be with the department Sunday morning and will have charge of both morning and night services at the church, is considered one of the outstanding leaders among students in the Southern states, having held student conferences in all the Southern states. At present he has charge of the social and religious activities, is an assistant in musical and dramatic activities, and instructor in the department of English at Mississippi College.

Carolina Flashes

One of the most unusual occurrences in the first semester examinations held recently at the University of South Carolina was a night examination held on French. This is one of the few times in the history of the University that an examination was held after dusk. Judging from the marks made by the students, the light of the moon must have had a good effect on them.

The new wings to Thornwell college at the University of South Carolina will be numbered 21 and 24 1-2 according to J. M. Cantey, marshal at the University. Tenement 25 has been so numbered for years and to number the new wing "25" would necessitate changing four others. Marshal Cantey said that this change would probably be effected in the future but not soon.

What has happened to tenements 8 and 13 at the University of South Carolina? One can start at tenement 1 and continue through seven and suddenly discover that the next tenement is number 9. He can then continue through 12 and discover that the next building is tenement 14. Tenement 21 disappeared years ago but has reappeared in the form of ten. 21 in the new buildings.

Clemson scouts are as prevalent in Columbia during the graduation days of Columbia High school as ducks in a lake or feathers in a cushion (you try one). Coach Bob Jones almost was run over by a bus in one of the local mill villages as he searched diligently for material for his football team.

Ed Brown, brother of "Pott", who will be remembered as the president of the student body and an all-star athlete, is entering school at Carolina for the second semester. He plays end in football and finished Columbia High school at the end of the first semester.

Richard Horger has been elected manager of the baseball team. Our hats off to you, little Dizzy.

Spring practice brought out only 40 gridsters the first day but the number was increased to 50 on the second practice. With the aid of the freshman stars and returning lettermen, we will have to get a paymaster to handle the pay checks.

The cage battle between Clemson and the Gamecock quintets on Friday night is labeled as the choice plum of the basketball season. Two strong teams, stepped in color and tradition, with the battle for state and conference honors, cannot be equalled, with Tom Hutto in third place in Conference scoring and the team in seventh, this game is important from many angles.

Social Hangovers

BY BETH COMSTOCK

The Tri Deltas, noted for their taste and ability to throw swanky dances, started the 1937 social swing with a formal at the Jefferson Hotel Tuesday night. With exams and registration once more in the past, the campus turned out for the Delta's yearly formal. The sorority colors, silver and blue, were used in all the decorative details—chandeliers, wall panels, mirrors, fringe, and flowers. Large silver Delta Delta Delta Greek letters were placed at either end of the room.

Just before intermission, about 100 red, white, green and blue balloons were dropped from the rafters. Essie Davis and Jennie Clarkson led the grand march, carrying big bouquets of white and blue carnations and yellow daffodils. During the evening, four no-breaks were played, one of which was for tri-deltas and their escorts only.

The committee in charge of the dance was composed of Frances Hart, Helen Townsend, Margaret Ashe, Jennie Clarkson, and Mae Maner.

Buster Spann's music was up to par, the girls were above par and the dance was better than that.

Kappa Alpha

The Kappa Alpha's started the new year right by initiating three members recently. The initiates are Allan Holmes, Charleston; H. B. Workman, Goldville; and Bratton Davis, Hartsville.

Following up the initiation, the K. A.'s gave a rush party Wednesday night, entertaining the new men who appeared on the campus with the advent of 1937.

House Dances

Very much in the social swing this week were the Kappa Sigma's, who threw a house dance Wednesday night, with two more coming up, tonight, and Saturday night.

The Alpha Tau Omega boys are among those swinging it at their house—time of the affair: last Thursday night.

Pi Kappa Phi

Pi Kappa Phi began a series of rushing parties with a cocktail party before the Tri Delta dance Tuesday night. Winding up a week of informal entertainment, the boys have planned a fish fry—the fish to be fried tomorrow night at Lexington.

Officers of Pi Kappa Phi for the new semester are as follows: Emmett Smith, president; John Coulter, secretary; Bowers Parker, treasurer; Bill Rhame, historian; Bill Gettles, warden; and Ben Fishburne, chaplain.

Kappa Kappa Kappa

Sylvia Stern, head of Kappa Kappa Kappa, held a post-exam party the other night, to revive tired Carolina crammers. Several out-of-town guests from Greenville and Charleston were present.

Jean Berman spent the week-end with Judy Greenberg in Florence, Jean, a freshman here from Passaic, N. J., reported Florence as up to all her expectations.

Incidentally, Jean and several other Triple K girls plan to journey to Charleston this week-end for dancing.

Alpha Delta Pi

Not too exhausted from exams, were the A. D. Pi's. Katherine Cain, who was among the debutantes presented at this season's Assembly Ball, was honored Monday night with a delightful ball, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Cain. The affair was held in the ballroom of the Jefferson Hotel, and the Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations. At midnight a buffet supper was served on the mazzanine floor. Several hundred guests attended the ball, and there were many out-of-town guests present.

Katherine attended Mary Baldwin last year, but is now a student at the University and a prominent member of Alpha Delta Pi.

Trekking to P. C. for the week-end dances are Leila Mayes and Jane Harris. Betty Lumsden will visit Clemson.

Wednesday night found the A. D. Pi's entertaining with a drop-in, from 8:30 to 9:30. The house was decorated with spring flowers and punch, crackers, and sandwiches were served the dropper-inners.

Polumathian

The Polumathian Club, honorary scholastic group, is planning a tea in the very near future. The club is made up of the brighter campus girls who made high scholastic ratings their freshman year. The tea is to be for all freshmen who are eligible for membership.

Full Week

Perhaps the busiest boys on the campus are the gentlemen of Sigma Nu. Starting with a house dance last Saturday night, they followed up with a smoker Sunday night. Wednesday they adjourned to Bobby Bruner's farm to roast oysters. After the boxing matches Thursday, they had another smoker, and to climax the week, two house dances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights.

W. A. A.

A picnic was given Thursday afternoon by the Women's Athletic Association, in honor of new members. The scene of the affair was Sheriff Heise's pond. A bon fire was built, games were played, and a picnic lunch, of course, added to the general enjoyment.

Spaghetti

While fraternities were roasting weiners, frying fish, and stewing oysters, the Chi Omegas were dining on spaghetti at their chapter house, Wednesday night.

Tuesday afternoon the Chi Omega alumni, actives and patronesses were guests at a formal tea at the home of Mrs. Jeff Hunt, a patroness. Doll Hunt, daughter of Mrs. Hunt, is a member of Chi Omega.

Saturday night the Chi O girls will roast weiners at Sheriff Heise's pond.

More Rush Parties

Pi Kappa Alpha varied their program of rushing entertainment with an intermission party, Tuesday night, between sessions of the Tri Delta dance. Another party Wednesday night, and Thursday the boys all took their evening meal at Lake Murray.

Week-Enders

Week-ending at various towns throughout the State, were the Phi Beta Deltas. Stanley Slessinger went to Bishopville; Julius Ness made a hunting expedition to Andrews; George Rogol visited Charleston and Leonard Kaplan spent his time at Camden.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Several weeks ago the Zetas were guests at a formal tea at the home of Margaret Mobley. Tuesday afternoon they had an interesting party. The high spot of the afternoon was a Z. T. A. broadcasting skit, by Frances Smith, who presented Zeta songs and facts. Mildred Doe provided the touch of humor by reading her philosophy on "Men."

Wednesday night, which seemed to be a busy night for all the greek girls and boys, also marked another party for the Zetas.

French Talkie Given Here

At Carolina Theatre

Beta Pi Theta, Honorary Fraternity, Sponsors Production of Popular Comedy

Starring Louis Joune, Paris sensation for the past few years, "Knock," a French talking picture, will be presented at the Carolina Theatre at eleven o'clock, Saturday morning, February 6. This picture will be presented through the courtesy of Warren Irvin and the management of the theatre. Beta Pi Theta, Honorary French fraternity at the University, will sponsor the production.

"Knock" deals with problem of a young doctor who bought a non-existent practice in a community whose inhabitants are unusually healthy.

The play, by Jules Romains, from which the picture is adapted, scored a tremendous hit in Paris, according to Mrs. Grace Sweeney of the University department of Romance Languages.

French students from Columbia College and Coker College, and the Columbia and University high schools have been invited by the sponsors to see the picture. There will be a small admission charge.

Campus Personalities

One of the most outstanding of the co-ed personalities on our campus is Josephine Philson, president of Alpha

Josephine Philson

Kappa Gamma. During her four years at the University she has participated in social activities, maintained a high scholastic average, and taken active part in sports, and therefore it is fitting that in our series of informal studies of campus personalities we should consider her first.

A list of her activities during her four years at the University would be quite imposing. Josephine is also president of the Y. W. C. A., holder of the McDuffie scholarship, member of the honor committee, pan-hellenic representative, and member of W. A. A., Damas, Non de Script, and Beaux Arts.

Josephine likes sports—especially tennis, swimming, and horse back riding. But she admits that she is superstitious, and a black cat or a ladder will send her in the other direction. For the past two summers, she has been a volunteer worker at the Dogteam Tavern in Middlebury, Vermont, a combination gift shop and team room owned by Sir Wilred and Lady Grenfell.

Josephine is a good sport and has no particular aversions—except exams. She says she is heartily in favor of a movement for the abolition of exams.

To Miss Philson, we are ready to assign the role of Carolina woman, number 1.

—U. S. C.—

boys, also marked another party for the Zetas.

Religious Week

Something new in the state is Religious Emphasis Week, which originated at the University when Dr. Stanley Jones was here. Students from all South Carolina colleges were invited to Coker College on Tuesday where the conference was held. Representing the University were Mary Sutton, Dorothy Benedict, Wilds Gillespie, James Walsh, Harry Spann, John Turnbull, Tom Jolly, and Morgan Arant.

Phi Kappa Sigma

The Phi Kappa Sigmas were among those roasting weiners Wednesday night for new men. Friday night they will swing it at the chapter house and Saturday night a stag dinner at Lake Murray is in order.

Phi Sigma Kappa

The Phi Sigma Kappa's, who flaunted all the new pledges in September, started their mid-winter rushing with a house dance Friday night, followed by a smoker Wednesday and another scheduled for Saturday night.

Sigma Chi

Pledges and actives of Sigma Chi supped at the Friendly Cafeteria Wednesday night. Thursday they danced at their house. Bill Draffin will entertain the gang with a smoker Friday at his home. A house dance Saturday night will do up the week's rushing.

William H. Harth. Quote: "We are improving every day and the squad is growing larger. We will be farther up the ladder within a month." Unquote.

MAIL

Some students have been depositing letters addressed to outside points in the new box at the University post office, Mrs. Moon, postmistress says. The new box is for campus mail only.

This practice may cause a delay of half a day in sending out the letters involved, she said.
