Carolinian Out Soon

The Carolinian, literary publication of the University of South Carolina, will present next month, as its first issue of the school year, a special football number dedicated to the 1938 season. The cover will be in colors garnet and black.

In addition to the general literary contest of last year, the magazine will contain a greater number of cartoons, photographs, candid campus shots and various other features of particular interest to college students. The staff recently has added a new syndicated page on men and women's wearing apparel, and an enlarged sports department.

Alex McArthur, Business Manager, has as his associates, James Tomlinson, Irene LaBorde, Alex Davidson, and Eleanor Lykes.

The price of 50c now being offered for a year's subscription will continue for two weeks. After that time the cost will be 20c a copy. The slight advance in price has been made to take care of the increased volume of the magazine which will be double the size of last year's publication.

Any literary contributions may be brought to the office and will receive due consideration. Persons who are interested in applying for the positions of assistant art editor are asked to get in touch with the editor-in-chief.

N. Y. A. HELPS LARGE GROUP

Thirty more students are receiving NYA aid this year than during the last session, Otis F. Kelly, assistant treasurer and NYA director, announced this week. There are 160 employed now as compared with 130 last year.

This year, $1,905 a month will be paid to 115 boys and 45 girls, two of whom are graduate students. This shows an increase of $207 a month over last year's allotment of $1,635 per month.

The first payroll will close October 18 at 5 p. m. All NYA workers are required to hand in their time sheets before the deadline, Kelly said.

Groups Meet Tuesday Nite

Campus discussion groups will hold their initial meetings of the present semester Tuesday night, it was stated yesterday by R. G. Bell, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Students will be given an opportunity to enroll in the groups and elect officers, Mr. Bell said. Leaders for the various groups will also be chosen. He stated that the first meeting would not count in the race for attendance.

As has been the custom, a banquet will be given after Christmas to the group showing the largest attendance for the series of meetings. Members of any group who have attended all the meetings of that group will also be eligible for the banquet.

Mr. Bell said that the lessons used in the current series of meetings will be "The Way of Jesus," by Hodgkin. The series of lessons was used with great success five years ago, he said, and have been rewritten and improved since. They embody a discussion of Jesus' principles and their application to everyday problems.

Probably most famous of all army birds is "Cher Ami" who, though mortally wounded, delivered from the front lines in France the message which led to the rescue of the historic Lost Battalion.

THERE'S A SWING . . .

To the "date" frocks at MANGEL'S. Conform on the campus all that you want to, but be sure and follow the dictates of your crowd for "outside" frocks. At MANGEL'S are frocks that are certain sorority favorites as well as the kind that have plenty of fraternity lure. They are right in readiness for week-end, for "rushing" for "dating" and for just dashing around. So you'd better dash right down to MANGEL'S and see them for yourself as well as the coats, suits, and lingerie that just arrived.
