Eleven Boxers Answer DeMars' Call For Men

Team Training For First Match Against Maryland; Three Veterans Return

Eleven boys have answered boxing Coach Demars' plea for "more men or no boxing team." One champion, two lettermen, and eight newcomers have begun training for the Gamecocks' first match which will be Jan. 10 against University of Maryland at College Park, Maryland.

Practice is held in the gym daily from 4 to 5:30. Six men, Stevenson, Bauer, Nevils, McMillan and Gibbs have reported for the first time this week. This addition has bolstered the team greatly for they will have plenty of time to whip into shape before the first bout. Heavy-weight, light-heavy, welter-weight and bantamweight divisions must be filled by these men or other new men who report later.

New Boys

Billy Love, last year's intra-mural 119 lb. champion, has been working out since Nov. 1 and has improved steadily but will not be eligible to fight until second semester.

Several of the other new men have looked good in their first workouts. Tom Stevenson seemed to have a real punch packed away in his southpaw style and Francis Nevils showed amazing speed for a beginner. Both played varsity football this year and are already in good shape. Bauer, who boxed in an exhibition bout against Clemson last year and Gibbs who put on the gloves for the first time, both show promise of developing into dangerous fighters.

Only Three Lettermen

The team is headed by Captain Harry Lofton, who last year with his unorthodox style punched his opponents hard and from all angles to win the Southern Conference middle-weight crown as well as the nickname "Windmill." He will fight in the 155 pound class again this year.

Helping to fill Coach Demars' depleted ranks are two more outstanding veterans, Sam King and Kay Kirven. King, a junior, who packs a real wallop in both hands, already has plenty of work behind him. Kirven, a fast, aggressive 127 pounder, has completely recovered from an injury which hampered him all last year.

The site of this year's tournament will be decided at the Southern Conference meeting in December. Director of Athletics Enright will represent the University of South Carolina at the meeting. The tournament has been held here at Columbia for the past two years.

Other matches besides the encounter with the University of Maryland have not been definitely scheduled but will be announced as soon as possible.

Basketball Team To Wear Flashy Suits

Colorful Uniforms To Be Worn At All Home Games

Flashy form will be exhibited by the second edition of Coach Frank Johnson's cage team if they live up to advance prophesying of their newly arrived uniforms for the '42 season.

Spectators at home games will gape at a Gamecock team clothed in white satin, trimmed in red and black. Red letters with a black background will adorn the "T" neck, short-sleeved shirts. Besides this they will wear prisoners stockings, (white and black striped to you), combined with knee pads and black floor grippers with white trimming.

On traveling expeditions into enemy territory the Bird ball-hawks will really put on the dog. Uniforms for foreign eyes will be garnet, colored satin, trimmed in black. Black letters trimmed in white will adorn the front and the back of the "T" neck and short sleeved shirts. The same white and black striped knee length stockings will be used.

With all this color dangling before his eyes, Coach Johnson was still mournful. Remember Wildcats of Kansas State cracking Roskie's elbow, and the Nittany Lions of Penn State chewing on Stastica's ankle? Well, both of them are crackerjack guards, and will be missed until they cast off their injuries.

Penn State Overpowers Birds In Final

Football Intra-murals In Full Swing; Sigma Nu's Play KA's This Afternoon

Varsity Football Players Officiate For Game

Football intra-murals, under the direction of J. A. Crawford, physical education head of the University of South Carolina, started last Monday afternoon with tenements 10 and 12 defeating Sigma Chi. This afternoon at 3:30 Sigma Nu plays KA on Melton Field.

During the entire month of December, the football teams from tenements and fraternities will play each other. Just before the Christmas holidays, a game will be played to decide the winner.

"Varsity football men from my physical education classes 25 and 57 are officiating at all games in order to get some practical experience in refereeing," exclaimed Crawford.

No plays are to be run through tackle. All running plays are run on the outside of the tackle.

Tenements 10 and 12 won the first game of the intra-mural season by winning handily from Sigma Chi, 20 to 0. In the first quarter, Wilkinson blocked a punt behind Sigma Chi's goal line and Howey fell on it to score the first touchdown. Kirk kicked the extra point. Walter Carns scored the second touchdown from the 15 yard line on a reverse. The final score came as Kirk caught a pass and raced 30 yards for the touchdown.

Last Wednesday afternoon, Delta Sigma Pi defeated Phi Kappa Phi 8 to 6. At the end of four quarters, the score was tied at 6-6. A Montana playoff was held to determine the winner. Delta Sigma Pi gained four more yards than Phi Kappa Phi and were the winners by two points 8 to 6. Beatty Kemp scored for Delta Sigma Pi, while Phi Kappa Phi scored their touchdown by a pass from Dave Morris to Gordon MacLaurin.

Outlook Of Tennis Squad Is Dubious

Coach "Dutch" Wagener is facing the 1942 tennis season without the services of two very valuable men from last year's team. Stanley Brose, who held down the Number 1 position on the 1941 team is lost via the draft. Roy Dennis, who was in the Number 3 position last year, graduated last June.

Returning to the team this year is Gordon MacLaurin, junior from Dillon, who held down the Number 2 spot on last year's squad. MacLaurin is slated for the Number 1 position this year. Jack Hatch, Oscar Mims, Bert Hill, and Irving Chaplin, a newcomer to the team round out the rest of the team.

A schedule is being arranged with schools throughout the State, but no definite schedule has been made out as yet.

Penn State Movies Shown To Bammers On Wednesday Nite

Euph Literary Society Makes First Donation From Students To Club

The Buck-A-Month club of the University of South Carolina held their weekly meeting last Wednesday night as clubbers viewed pictures of the recent Carolina-Penn State gridiron clash.

The pictures were proclaimed by Tatum Gressette, secretary-treasurer of the BAM club, to be the best this year. The conflict of the white jerseys of the Nittany Lions and the dark red jerseys of the Gamecocks, and the variations between the Notre Dame and "T" formations of the Gamecocks against the Warner system employed by Penn State also added color to the movies.

Mr. Gressette announced that a contribution for the BAM club has been received from the Euphradian literary society. This is the first contribution made by a group of students to the organization.

Freshmen Cagers Appear Favorable

Prospects for one of the best freshman basketball teams in history are bright at the university this year with the cream of last season's high school hardwood crop awaiting the opening call to action from Coach Frank Johnson.

The daily grind for the first-year basketballers will not begin until after Christmas but the brilliant array of talent at Coach Johnson's command draws attention to the hardwood Biddies at this stage of the coming season. About 25 of the finest high school cagers in the State last season are expected to report for practice.

Two experienced net-swishers expected to shine for the Biddies are versatile Fred Snoddy, brilliant forward, and Albert "Bulldog" Fares. Snoddy, selected on the South Carolina all-state quintet for two straight seasons, hails from Parker High and Fares, one of the best floor men in the state last year, was voted the most valuable player on Greenville's fine quintet of last season.

Little "Mouse" Halsall captained Charleston's strong hardwood combine last season and Bob Sideman held down a regular berth with Charlotte. Kelly Mote played fine ball in the Cracker state and flashy Paul Balamoutis acted as captain for Spartanburg's Red Birds last cage year.

The schedule has not been completed as yet but opponents for the Biddies five will probably be drawn from other first-year teams of South Carolina with a few high school tilts thrown in.

Interest In Bowling Picks Up

Frat League Enters Sixth Week As Keen Competition Prevails

Pi Kappa Phi rolled the highest single game and the best total score in the six-weeks old competition of the University of South Carolina Inter-Fraternity league at Capitol Bowling Centre, Wednesday afternoon, hitting 445 on its second game and 1239 for its total.

Only three games out of the 12 found the Pi Kappa Phi's under the coveted 100 mark.

Alpha Tau Omega was only slightly behind as it rolled a total of 1194, with Billy Lyles high at 335 pins. Billy had games of 104-122-109. He was also high for the afternoon and his 122 second game was the best single game.

Smaltz And Krouse Pace Winners; Carter And Sossamon Are Bird Defensive Stars

Stastica Scores On Most Brilliant Run Of The Year, Throws Pass To Blouin For Other Tally

Paced by the passing combination of Smaltz to Krouse, the Penn State Nittany Lions defeated a fighting Gamecock eleven, 19 to 12, last Saturday afternoon at the Carolina stadium in the season's finals for both teams. Sparked by Stan Stastica, the Bird eleven gave a fine account of themselves against the Easterners.

Swimmers Might Be In For Good Year

Three Veterans Expected To Be Team's Backbone

When USC's swimming team opens its season with Clemson, in early February, it will have three experienced men and an equal number of men from last year's freshman team.

The hopes of the current team rest largely on the shoulders of Roger Kirk, Bert Allen, and Robert Harris. These boys were swimmers on the varsity team last year.

Both Kirk and Allen have worked all summer, keeping in training by life guarding either at beaches or at state parks. They've studied new techniques which they will use in the coming season.

Those men who have been promoted from last year's freshmen squad were Hubert Cox, Frank Groydon, and Bobby Blakely. These men will carry much of the burden of the team when it swings into action. Those men were very promising in their swimming for the Frosh team.

The team's schedule includes: Clemson, at Clemson, on February 7; Virginia Tech, at Tech, on February 20; Virginia Military Institute, at VMI, on February 21; Washington and Lee University at W&L, on February 23. The team will entertain the University of Georgia here on February the 28th.

Coach Kirk states that anyone who knows anything about the breast and back strokes and who doesn't mind working, is urged to meet him in the pool on Monday afternoon at 4:30. A special need has developed for these types of swimmers.

Gym Classes Will Bring Back Feather

Coach Frank DeMars' freshman and sophomore gym classes will bring turkey feathers—if any—back to school from Christmas holiday banquets.

The feathers will be used to make arrows for the proposed archery tourney to be held by the classes. All gym groups are now playing basketball, handball, and volley ball with the new equipment bought recently for these games.

Johnson Whips Basketballers Into Condition

Four Lettermen Return To Lead Birds Through Long, Tough Schedule

Coach Frank Johnson is gradually whipping his 1942 basketball team into shape by drilling the fundamentals into four letter-men and several other candidates for a berth on the varsity.

Lofdahl, Westmoreland, Anderson, and Dunham represent the letter-men who turned in brilliant performances in the last season according to Coach Johnson. These men are expected to show their opponents such a type of ball that will be hard to break up, regardless of the excellency of the opponents' guards.

Westmoreland, the star forward of last year's team, is developing into fine form. From all signs, he will be somewhat better than last season. His scoring ability is unsurpassable and his defensive play is almost as outstanding.

The excellent playing of guard by Dick Anderson has been noticed by spectators and fellow-players alike. Dick is constantly breaking through the offense and running many an otherwise excellently executed play.

Rogers, a sophomore whose height rises above his fellow basketballers, will probably be placed at center. He played outstanding center last year on the frosh squad.

Ken Roskie, sustaining injuries from football season, is expected to whip into shape by January, but at present time, he's taking it easy due to these injuries.

Stastica, the sophomore football sensation, is expected to join the squad after his ankle injury improves. He turned this ankle last week-end while he was playing his best game of the season.

The team's schedule includes 20 games which will include two trips into the middle west and North Carolina.

Smaltz scored over tackle, and kicked the extra point. Neither team scored in the second quarter.

Opening up early in the third quarter, Carolina scored its final touchdown, and came within one point of tying the score. Stastica started around right end and threw a pass to Harvey Blouin on the Lions' 30-yard line. Blouin stiff armed one tackler and went on to score. Patrone missed the extra point. The Lions scored their third touchdown in the last quarter when Petrella went over from the five yard line.
