

County Club Chatter

Both old and new County-Carolina clubs had a busy week of activities last week. The goal of 46 clubs (one for each county) has yet to be reached but more and more county clubs are being organized with each passing day.

Anderson-Carolina Club

This club is the daddy of them all, having originated the county club idea early last spring. The newly re-organized club elected the following officers for the present semester at a recent meeting: Harry Agnew, president; J. B. Woodson, vice-president; John Martin, treasurer and Mary Etta Taylor, secretary. Betsy Moore was chosen chairman of Public Relations.

The club will hold a drop-in party after the Clemson game from 5:30 to 8 p. m., at Valley Park Community Center at Five Points. It will play host to Clemson students and Carolina alumni from Anderson County. The organization plans to make the Carolina-Clemson party an annual affair.

Sumter-Carolina Club

Carolina students from Sumter held two meetings last week for the purpose of organizing a Sumter-Carolina Club.

During the first session (October 15, Room 201, Harper) Edgar Klapp was elected temporary president and a committee was named to draw up a charter for the club.

The second meeting (October 17, Room 101, Legare) was devoted to approving the new charter and electing officers. New officers are: Edgar Klapp, president; J. B. Littlejohn, vice-president; Bobbie Hester, secretary; Wade Kolb, treasurer; Marion Smith, social chairman and Irene Sanders, publicity chairman.

There are approximately 125 students from Sumter County attending the University. About 50 students attended each of the meetings.

Charleston-Carolina Club

The Charleston-Carolina Club held its first social gathering, a drop-in, last Wednesday at the Sons of the Legion Hut in Maxey Gregg Park. The affair, under the auspices of Jack Conway of the entertainment committee, turned out to be a tremendous success. About 50 members and their dates were present and a good time was had by all.

Chester-Carolina Club

On Thursday, October 17, the students of Chester County started the wheels turning in their own organization by submitting and approving a constitution. Freddie Strickland acted as president pro tem and Saye Gaston as acting Public Relations officer.

All publicity chairmen of the various County Clubs are urged to turn in all material on their respective clubs to Mike Karvelas, Box 2166, campus mail.

"SCALPER'S" TICKETS

well in advance of ticket offerings. This year, however, Anderson said that no blocks were sold until all normal priority sales (i.e., BAM Club, Alumni Association, etc.), had been satisfied.

"The men to whom these blocks of tickets were sold have supported Carolina and Carolina football through thick and thin," Anderson said, "and I see no reason for denying them the right to support the team financially in good years as well as bad. Most of the tickets bought in this way are intended for free gifts to business associates."

In a formal statement to officers, Governor Williams said, "I am today calling upon all law enforcement officers of the State to use all precautions possible to detect and prevent the unsavory practice of scalping tickets for the annual state fair football game."

"Though the officials in charge have exerted all possible precautions, it has been called to my attention that tickets for this game are now being offered at the exorbitant price of $20 each, and this practice, to my mind, will do more to disrupt and discredit this game than any one other thing."

Williams said that officers should arrest both seller and purchaser in any scalping deal they notice, turning the offenders over to federal authorities for prosecution of federal tax evasion charges.

"Corsettes" Will Parade At Half In Powder Bowl

By JEAN DAVIS

Hup, two, three, four-hup, two, three, four- and twenty-six high-stepping Kappa Delta "Corsettes" will snap into military drill tonight between the halves of the Powder Bowl football game. Dressed in navy blue jackets, white shorts and gloves, and jaunty navy hats perched on their curls, they promise to provide one of the highlights of the evening.

Margaret Ready, platoon leader, has been aided by Harold Hewell, former member of the NROTC unit, in drilling the "Corsettes" for tonight's performance. Since September 16, the girls have practiced every week-day afternoon with the exception of Saturdays.

Independents To Give Halloween Dance Next Week

Opening the pre-Citadel game festivities, the Men's and Women's Independents will sponsor a blue jean dance in the Naval Armory, October 30th, 8:00-11:30 p. m.

The Halloween motif will be carried out with apple-bobbing, a sack race, jitterbug contest and many other entertainments. In charge of the arrangements are Anne Bishop and Jack Mallard.

The entire student body is invited with admission at the door placed at 25¢ stag or drag.

Heisman Trophy To Be Awarded Top Grid Star

By TOM EVANS

The conditions under which the Heisman Memorial Trophy Award of 1946 will be given to this year's most outstanding gridiron star, have been announced by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York. The winner of this award, the highest individual honor presented to football players, will go to New York in December with his coach, where the top player of the year, chosen by 750 sportswriters and broadcasters, will receive the award before a galaxy of football stars, past and present.

The award, begun in 1935, has since been given annually to the great names in football. The first trophy, a bronze replica of a running player, was given to Jay Berwanger of Chicago. Some of the other well-known stars that have received the Memorial Award in recent years are: Tom Harmon, Michigan, 1940; Frank Sinkwich, Georgia, 1942; and Felix Blanchard, West Point in 1945.

The trophy was named for John W. Heisman, Director of Athletics at the Downtown Athletic Club. Heisman had coached football for thirty-seven years from 1892 through 1927 at eight different colleges. One of his teams, Georgia Tech of 1916, ran up what may

Dr. Orin F. Crow Named By Kiwanis As Lieut.-Governor

Dr. Orin F. Crow, director of the University of South Carolina summer school, was named lieutenant governor of the Carolina district of Kiwanis International at a recent convention in Greensboro, N. C.

The convention met Sunday through Tuesday of last week in the North Carolina city.

In his capacity as lieutenant governor, Dr. Crow will travel to all Kiwanis Clubs in lower South Carolina at least once a year, representing Kiwanis International. Another member of the university faculty, Ray A. Furr, English instructor, attended the three-day meet with Dr. Crow.

Hyman Wins Over Molony In Freshman Presidential Race

By GEORGE STANLEY

Pete Hyman of Florence won out over Joe Molony of Charleston yesterday in the closely contested race for Freshman president. Hyman polled 195 votes and Molony, 164.

In the vice-presidential contest, Mary Lee Pender defeated Jean Allsbrook, 198 to 159.

The race for the office of secretary-treasurer resulted in a tie between Jackie Parsons and Maxine Todd, the results reading 176 for each. A run-off for this office will be held in the near future.

In another close contest Walter Roberts triumphed over Bill Seals, 177 to 173, to claim the office of Freshman Historian.

Preceding the run-off election and climaxing a week of vigorous campaigning, the first elections were held on Wednesday, October 16. With ten candidates in the race for president, Joe Moloney and Pete Hyman received 95 and 85 votes respectively to oppose each other in the second election. Other presidential candidates received the following number of votes: Riser, 65; Kay, 49; Smith, 45; Greer, 34; Avant, 33; Reeves, 10; and Wallace, 2. Jordan withdrew from the race.

In the race for vice-president Rebecca Allsbrook with 184 votes and Mary Lee Pender with 136 votes were eligible for the second race. Matney, the third candidate received 94.

For Historian, Walter Roberts polling 147 votes and Jack Seals receiving 144, were in the run-off race. Whitescarver with 118 votes was the other candidate.

The Tri Deltas, lighter than the Pi Phi's but speedy, will use as first stringers Senior Boots Clarke, a fullback from Estill . . . brunette, 5'6" and 108 pounds and a fine little runner . . . Boots majors in biology, hates to get up in the morning and refers to Converse College as one of her alma mummies.

Right half June Henry of Springfield, Mass., boasts of being the most enthusiastic equestrienne in the chapter . . . a plunging fullback, June also picks up some tips for her phys. ed. major . . . her hair is long and honey colored and she'd be a whiz at tutoring Spanish.

Mary King of Tampa, Fla., plays left half . . . teammates refer to her as the best on the squad . . . she's a sophomore, a commerce major and one of the cutest co-eds ever to possess blue eyes . . . she weighs in at 128 pounds and is 66 1/2" tall.

Five feet, two inches of sparkle is petite Delores Shuler from Orangeburg . . . lovely to look upon, she also has brains for she has to quarterback the "big team" . . . a commerce major, Delores is beginning her sophomore year, and is having a wonderful time at Carolina.

Nibbie Forbes of Upper Darby, Pa., is Tri Delt captain . . . a veteran of the '45 bowl game, Nib is an SAE fan and thinks red-headed Navy veterans are tops . . . she's president of Pan-Hellenic, has a lovely singing voice and a razor edge wit . . . Nibbie is feared by the Pi Phi line.

Left guard Rose Ann Boliver of Columbia, understudies Max Walker, Gamecock guard . . . transfer from Brenau, Rosie has blonde hair, green eyes and tips the scales at 124 pounds . . . a good gal, too.

Columbia-bread Jean Lumpkin fleetly left end, is also the campus sweetheart . . . blue eyes, blond hair, 5'7" and 120 pounds . . . check? . . . a sophomore, Jean has two more years of Powder Bowl ball to look forward to . . . she's one of the finest receivers on the squad.

Barbara Dukes, another coed from Columbia, holds down right end spot . . . small but fast, Barbara gets all over the field after those passes . . . a Brenau transfer, Dukes is lots of fun . . . she effervesces with personality.

Georgetown sent sophomore Martha Parker to Carolina . . . slender and brunette, Martha is as graceful a football star as you'll find . . . good looking and fast on the field . . . tips the scales at 110 pounds and is 5'6" tall.

Substitutes are Kate Ellison of Winnsboro, Virginia Woodruff of Pawley's Island, Mamie Dowe of Columbia; Byrd Murray of Sumter, Jessie Lewis of Columbia, and Sara Edwards of Columbia, Patsy Fortinberry of Columbia, Betty Fisher of Pelzer.

The powder girls may steal the game from the rough and ready pigskin toters. They have specific instructions to come to the girls' aid and repair make up during time out periods. Cookie Van Ben-

McGee Delivers Lectures To Engineering Students On Manufacture Of Steel

Students of the School of Engineering were given a series of lectures recently on the Manufacture of Steel by Robert N. McGee of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation.

Mr. McGee presented several of the most recent of his company's films in color. They included material showing not only steel manufacture from raw materials to finished products, but also the extent to which Jones and Laughlin is participating in research.

He predicted that students who are seriously interested in the manufacture, distribution, research and development of steel and its alloys will find a fertile field in which to begin a successful career upon graduation.

emphasis on agriculture, amusements, and fashions. The grandstand show, "Fantasies of 1946," has been received enthusiastically by fairgoers. The hogs and cattle show has also been a major attraction.

Saturday will feature "Thrill day" with Jack Kochman and his hell drivers. These dare-devils, one of whom was injured in a crash in North Carolina recently, will perform unbelievable accomplishments with their speed smashing automobiles.

The possibility of a power strike will not interfere with the carnival since the company has enough portable generators to supply the fair's requirements. The fair also has its own transmission lines and transformers.
