Free Cut Program Outlined

At a recent meeting of the faculty of the University the following attendance rules were decided, according to Dr. J. T. Penney, dean of men.

Absences on basic courses listed on pages 12-13 of "Carolina Community" are turned in weekly by the faculty to the dean of women or dean of men on these particular courses.

A student is allowed four unexcused absences. The intent is not to give four free cuts, but these absences are to take care of emergencies, not given on page 12 of the "Carolina Community" for which absences are issued, Dean Penney said.

The fifth unexcused absence drops a student from class.

On all other courses above the basic ones 75 per cent attendance is required. Class attendance is the student's responsibility and it is not intended that he should cut the class 25 per cent of the time, Dean Penney added.

However, on these courses a student will be dropped when he has used his 25 per cent cuts with a grade of FA.

Normally, 12 cuts are considered 25 per cent of a three-credit course and 14 cuts are considered 25 per cent of a four-credit course, Dean Penney concluded.
