

Upset-Minded Trackmen Meet Powerful Clemson

CAROLINA'S BEST sprinter, Mike McGuinness will have his hands full Saturday with the likes of Cecil Huey. Mike has not run as fast a time as the lanky Clemson quartermiler, but he is a great competitor and will be out to beat the Clemson ace.

TEAM CAPTAIN Carl Hendricks has been hampered with a bad knee since his sophomore year when he ran 14.8 over the 120-yd. highs, but the gutsy senior is a valuable second man behind Dave Gatch, and is expected to place well against the Tigers.

Huey vs. McGuinness Matches SC's Fastest

The competition will be fast and furious up in Clemson tomorrow when the Gamecock tracksters meet head on with undefeated Clemson College.

Last year the meet came down to the final event, the mile relay, before Clemson clinched a victory. If the meet goes according to schedule Saturday's competition may come out much the same way.

The Tigers are loaded in the sprints with ACC champion Jimmy Wynn and his running mate Carl Poole. The two dashmen combine to give Clemson a tough one-two punch in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Carolina sprinters Sonny Dickenson, John Hemmer and Mike McGuinness must break up this Tiger duo for a team victory.

RACE OF THE YEAR

The 440-yard run could be the race of the year in the Carolinas with USC's Mike McGuinness matched against the long lanky Cecil Huey of Clemson. Last week Huey stretched his way through a very fast 47.3, 440, to set an unofficial ACC record. Jack Shaw and Doug Adams also shaded 48.0 for the Tigers to give them a terrific trio of quartermilers. A Gamecocks victory will also be riding on the fleet heels of Bland Addison.

The 880 is not a strong event for the Tigers with only T. J. Drown a serious threat to break into the top two. The Gamecocks will need a strong finish in the half to make up for Tiger domination in other events.

The Gamecocks have an edge in the 120-yard hurdle events with Dave Gatch and Carl Hendricks. Gatch and Neil Atkinson will compete in the 330-yard intermediates, but they will be well matched by O'Caïn of Clemson who also runs the highs.

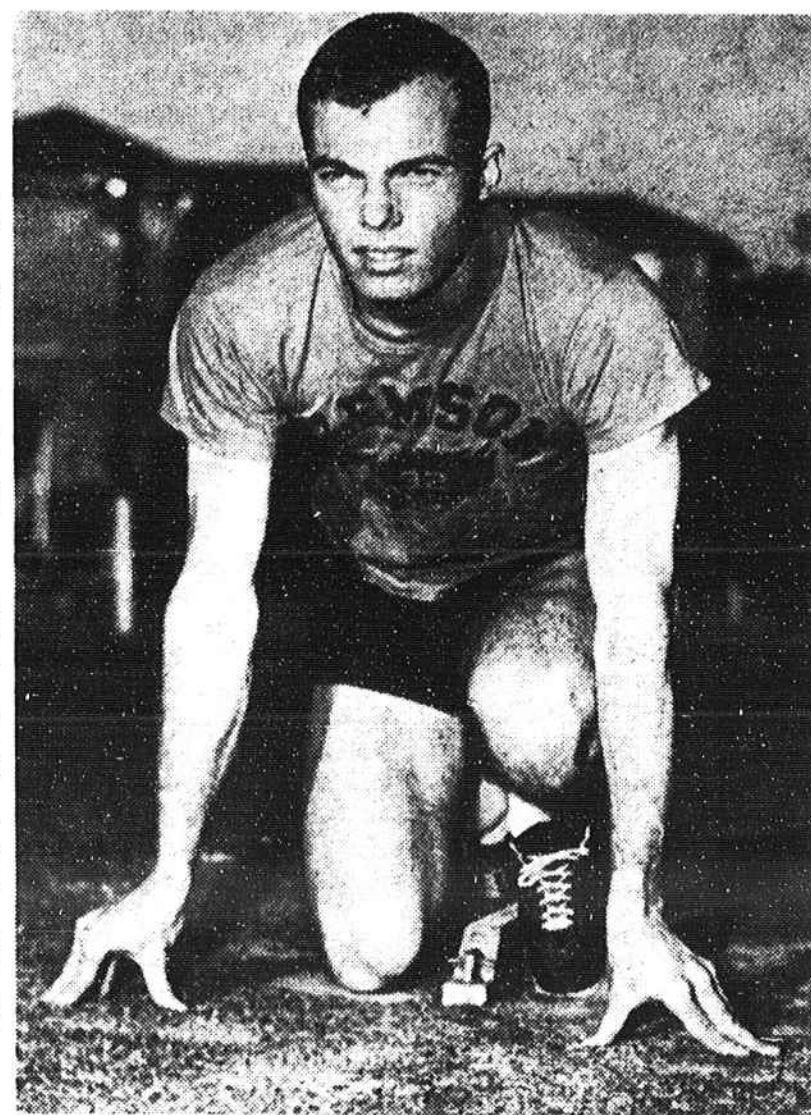

BAD FOOT

The mile is wide open. USC's Alan Rose has not yet performed as well as expected, but Saturday the Aussie could come up with a good one. His running mate Ken Smith is still recovering from a bad foot and his condition is still questionable.

Rose will probably double with a mile and an 880, while Smith will compete in the mile and 2-mile.

Jim Poulos who is just beginning to show some strength over the 2-mile circuit can expect competition from Drown of Clemson. Jim will be fresh for this event and could win some needed points for the Birds.

The Tigers are stronger in the field events than Carolina with ACC Champion Cater Leland a favorite to win two events. Leland has gone 43.9 in the triple jump and is now beginning to return to the excellent form which he showed in the broad jump last year. His stiffest competition in the ACC CHAMPION Jimmy Wynn leads the Clemson Tigers against the Gamecocks tomorrow at Clemson. Wynn won both the 100 and 220 in last year's meet and is a favorite to repeat in both. He also runs a leg on Clemson's record breaking 440-yd. relay team.

Gamecocks Clinch Victory Over Duke With Relay Win

It took three school records and a sensational finish in the mile relay, but South Carolina crushed the hopes of upset-minded Duke with a 77-68 win in Duke Stadium Tuesday afternoon.

Mike McGuinness caught the Duke anchor man going into the final turn and then flashed on to the finish and victory in the bitterly contested meet which had come down to the final event.

John Hemmer had cut down the distance on the Duke third man after the Blue Devils took over the lead during the second leg. McGuinness' 48.0 leg and Hemmer's 48.8 were two of the reasons for a new record of 3:18.2 in the event.

Bob Crombie, who earlier extended his string to seven for the year, ran the first leg of the record-breaking relay with Ed Kenyon in the number two slot.

J. R. Wilburn came through with a school record in the triple jump with a leap of 43-10. Dave Gatch ran a fast 38.5 in the intermediate hurdles despite hitting the last hurdle.

McGuinness was the iron man with wins in the 220 and 440, along with an anchor leg on the winning 440-yd. relay.

Aussie Alan Rose came through with a brilliant finishing kick to win the mile in a very creditable 4:16.2.

When the Gamecocks walked out of Duke Stadium in their somewhat soiled white jerseys with the flaming red stripe into the gathering afternoon gloom they had smiles on their sweaty faces, but the biggest smile of all was on the visage of a man named Baskin who was chewing on an unlit cigar.

Baseball Team Loses To Wolfpack And NC

USC's baseball team lost valuable ground in the ACC race last weekend, losing games to North Carolina and N. C. State which set the overall mark at 10-8 and conference standings at 2-4.

UNC's Ken Willard, a Gamecock nemesis in football, provided the punch in baseball to edge out a 7-6 victory in Friday's game.

Willard drove in Jim Speight, who had reached base on a throwing error by USC third-baseman Joe Tonelli. Speight stole second and advanced to third on a ground ball.

Les Evans, who relieved starter John Coleman in the ninth inning, was the loser. It was Evans' first loss of the season.

Centerfielder Bill LaMotte led the Gamecocks at the plate with two hits and two runs batted in.

Six of UNC's seven runs were unearned as eight errors were committed by South Carolina.

N. C. State took little off the Gamecocks in Saturdays game as they held the Birds to five hits in winning 4-1.

State righthander Buck Johnson retired the last 11 batters in a row to finish the old ball game on a sour note for the visiting SC. Johnson yielded only one hit in the last six innings.

Carolina scored their big run in the third when Hoke Greiner, Jack McCathern and Dick Moseley got together for three singles and thus provided the only real trouble for the opposing righthander.

On the other hand the Wolfpack teamed up on southpaw Loveard McMichael for seven hits and four runs in the first four innings. This was McMichael's second loss against seven wins this year. Rick Grich came in to hold the hungry 'Pack to one hit over the remaining four innings.

Again errors paved the way as merciless State took full advantage of three big ones in the first inning to give them a 2-0 lead.

The big gun for USC was Dick Moseley who collected three of Carolina's hits.

Coach McClain Says Howard Finest Ever

By JOHN LOTTICH

"He's the finest boy I've ever had the privilege of working with. He's a good student and is conscientious in everything he does. He wants to be the best in everything he does, and I think he'll do a lot more with his ability than most people."

These words of high praise are straight from the lips of USC tennis coach Bill McClain, and the coach bestows them on his new number one singles player, Kay Howard, a 20-year-old rising Junior from Darlington, South Carolina.

Kay, a biology major, attended Darlington's St. John's High School and played on the tennis team that won the Pee Dee Conference title four years in a row. This is even more remarkable when you consider that he did not begin to take tennis seriously until he entered the ninth grade.

Kay has come along well, and he displays such effort and desire in a match that other players and coaches have to comment on him.

Said University of Virginia Coach Ned Neely, a great player in his own right, while watching Kay in action last Saturday afternoon, "You can tell that kid came to play."

Concerning this season Kay Howard himself remarks, "I don't know whether to say we're satisfied or not. I don't believe we are. We did better than in the past couple of years, but we certainly did want to win a team match."

"I hope we'll make a good showing in the State meet, but Clemson and Presbyterian and The Citadel will be tough to beat."

As for his future plans, the lean Sophomore plans to enter medical school at Charleston upon graduation from USC.

USC Sailors Capture Old Dominion Regatta

BY GAIL BROUGHTON
Sailing Editor

The USC Sailing Club, which is sponsored by the University, scored a victory for Carolina this past weekend at Old Dominion College Spring Regatta in Norfolk, Virginia.

USC took first place honors. In second place was the College of Charleston; in third place was The Citadel; and in fourth place was Old Dominion College.

The USC Club sent two teams to compete. They were Henry Cheves with crew Carol Molten, and Tom Timberlake with crew Gail Broughton. Each team sailed every other race, and ten races were sailed altogether — seven on Saturday and three on Sunday. Penguin class boats were used in the regatta.

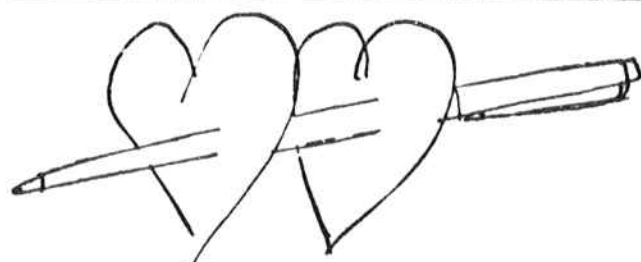

This weekend the USC Sailing Club will send six or eight of its members to represent Carolina in The Citadel Annual Spring Regatta in Charleston. Competing in the regatta will be USC, The College of Charleston, The Citadel, Old Dominion College, and several others. Lightning class boats will be sailed.

Besides participating in Inter-collegiate racing, the USC Club promotes competitive sailing among Club members. Two weeks ago a Club Championship was held at The Columbia Sailing Club at Lake Murray.

Tom Timberlake and Pete Souther tied for first place honors. Jim Anders came in second and Henry Cheves received third place honors. Y-Flyers, eighteen-foot scows, were the type of boats used in this race. Trophies for this event were given by Mr. Molten, the club faculty advisor, Lisbeth Wolfe's Lindsey's, Sharpe's Formal Wear, and Hal Flinch, proprietor of the Purple Onion.

The USC Sailing Club meets regularly on Thursday afternoons and would like to invite anyone who is a sailor or who is interested in sailing to attend the meetings. The club has as its main objective the creation of new sailors out of novices.

love and marriage—college style

The bridge from student to married student is a long and very narrow one, laced with parental opposition, financial burdens and immaturity. Yet, thousands of young men and women cross it every year.

How well do they make the transition from carefree, fun-loving "dates" to responsible husbands, wives...and often parents?

A recent nationwide study by Redbook magazine brings to light some of the strains, the dangers and the possible benefits of college marriages. It's must reading for every undergrad!
