

Ruggers top Tigers in 'beautiful' victory

BY MARK LEARY
Sports Writer

"Beautiful, just beautiful" is how player coach Dr. Jim Wynn described the Carolina rugby club's play against Clemson, as the Gamecocks destroyed the Tigers 41-0.

This win put the team at 7-0 on the season and extended their winning streak at home to 19 games.

Dr. Frank Walton started the scoring with a minute gone in the game, as he booted a penalty kick to make the score 3-0. A few minutes later Walton dove across for another score.

Burke Hayes closed out the scoring in the half, scoring twice. First, he scampered 35 yards and the second came after an excellent pass allowing him to score easily. Both conversions were good by Walton, making the score at the half 19-0 Carolina.

Hayes picked up where he left off, as he started the scoring in the second half, breaking away and running 80 yards for the score.

High scorer for the game Frank Walton (with 17) scored next picking the ball up from Wynn and touched the ball down in the end zone.

Wynn scored the next two touches, both coming on excellent passing plays. The second play was easily the superior, as it brought the crowd of 300 to its feet. Nick Canizares lateralled to Hayes who lateralled to Wynn, who went across the goal line untouched.

Warren Muir went across for the last score of the game as he received an excellent toss from Hayes.

Next week Carolina goes back on the road and plays N. C. State at State.

Gamecock golfers leading tournament

Carolina's golf team is leading Clemson, Furman and Wofford after two rounds of a four-round, four-team round robin golf tournament among the state schools.

USC's total of 1070 strokes leads Clemson's 1114, Wofford's 1117 and Furman's 1121. One round is played every week with each school hosting one round of the tournament.

USC also has the top two individuals in the tourney. David DePre, 142, and Bob Boyle, 146, have been the class of the four state schools. USC's Chip Allen, 154, is in a deadlock for the third spot in the tournament with Bruce Keel of Wofford. Other golfers for Carolina in the tournament are Os Hillman, 156, Wylie Ramsey, 157, Chip Prezioso, 158, and Larry Mattox, 158.

In a separate match with Georgia Southern on Oct. 29 at Augusta, Jim Ellis led Southern to a win over USC with a score of 69. Carolina's best score was 74 by Prezioso, Hillman and Boyle.

Ellis won the medalist honors at the All-Dixie Classic earlier in the year when the Georgia Southern finished second to Wake Forest in the team standings.

USC also participated in the All-Dixie Classic and ended in fifth place with DePre and Mattox sharing the USC medalist honors with scores of 77.
