Grantz Keys USC Attack

BY JIM HERSH
Asst. Sports Editor

Jeff Grantz sat in the Carolina lockerroom after Saturday night's win over Georgia Tech trying to explain how the Gamecocks managed to score 41 points against a nationally-ranked team.

Grantz, the sophomore quarterback, ran for 102 yards on 11 attempts and completed seven of nine passes for 79 yards. He rushed for two touchdowns and passed for two others.

"The inside running game was the key to our offense," Grantz said. "First we started to gain ground up the middle. That made their tackles cheat toward the middle of the field."

When the tackles began to overplay to the middle, Grantz said it opened the outside for sprint-passes. "When they saw us go to the outside," Grantz said, "it made the draw play work." See GRANTZ, Page 14

Open Champ Heads Field

South Carolina tennis fans who have longed to see some of the world's top players compete in person will get a golden opportunity September 19-23 when Carolina Coliseum hosts the Palmetto Tennis Classic Tournament.

Competing for a share of the $25,000 prize money will be 16 players from around the world, including recent winner of the U.S. Open, John Newcombe of Australia.

The 29-year old Newcombe, who will also star in a movie to be released soon, "Game, Set, and Murder", will, in all probability, be the man to beat in a talented field. Newcombe has won three Wimbledon titles, two U.S. Open championships and has teamed up to win three Wimbledon Doubles crowns. This year he has won the Australian and Italian Open singles tournaments.

While Newcombe should be favored to win, the going will be See TENNIS, Page 15
