Harriers Place Third In State

Carolina's cross country team finished third in the State Intercollegiate Championship Meet Saturday morning at Furman and freshman Halston Taylor was second individually in the meet for the Gamecocks.

Furman, with 47 points, won the meet. Baptist College was second with 48 and USC had 51 points. Clemson, 84 points, and The Citadel, 114, were the other teams in the meet.

Carolina did without their top runner, Jim Schaper, who is suffering from a bad back. Schaper started the 5.2-mile course but dropped out after two miles.

Baptist's Tony Atwell was the meet's top individual, finishing the course in 25:31.8. Taylor's time was 26:01.

"I thought our team had a pretty good effort without a top runner," USC coach Bill McClure said Sunday. "It hurts our overall team effort without him running."

"With him I think we could have won the meet," McClure said. "There were only four points separating the first three teams and we were lacking our number one man."

USC's other top finishers were Rod Dalton, eighth, Rob Day, ninth, Gary Hill, 14, and Wayne Thomas, 18.

The team's next meet will be the NCAA Regional meet at Furman Nov. 10. McClure said Taylor, Dalton, Day, Thomas and Hill will probably run in that meet.
