

Blood drive today at Russell House

By PARASETTIA SINGLETON

The Red Cross will conduct its largest blood drive of the summer today and tomorrow at the Russell House Ballroom.

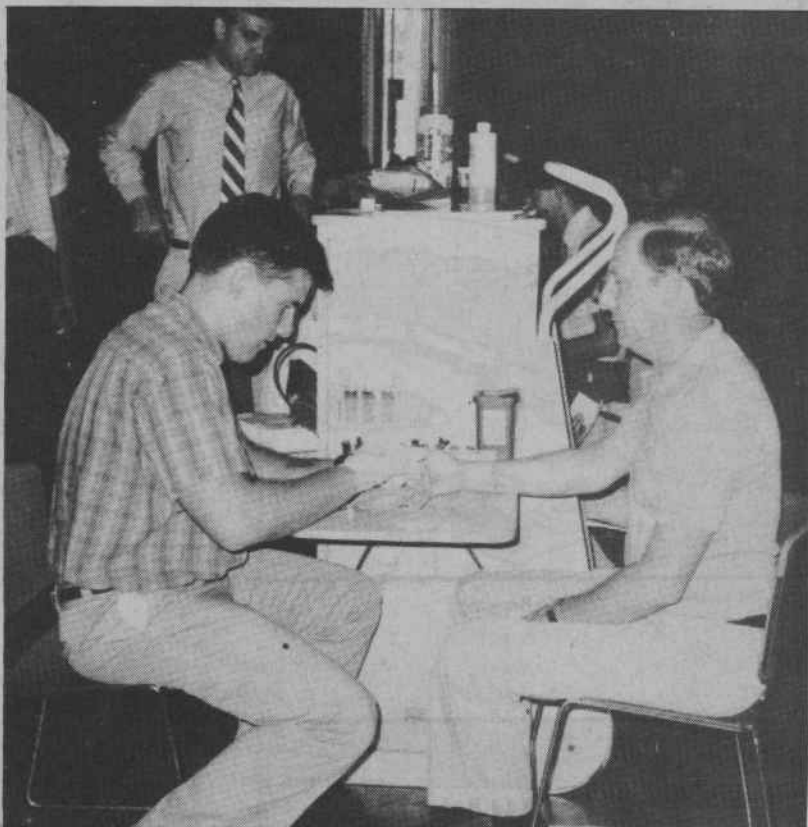

The blood drive, which is sponsored to help celebrate USC Staff Day '92, is an annual event. It is similar to the Annual Clemson/Carolina Blood Drive.

This year's honorary chairperson is USC's head basketball coach, Steve Newton. Newton and the Red Cross sponsors are hoping the drive will be a huge success.

The goal for this year's blood drive is 400 pints. Red Cross spokeswoman Laura Brown said the goal for the 1991 drive was 500 pints, but they only collected 289 pints.

"Last year's collections were low, but we aren't giving up on obtaining collections. We think that 400 pints is surely a reachable goal, and hopefully we'll reach it," Brown said.

According to the Red Cross, a seriously injured auto accident victim can use 30-50 units of blood or blood components. Every 3.5 seconds, someone needs a blood transfusion. That amounts to 1,028 people per hour or 17 people per minute who need a life-saving transfusion. The only way blood can be available when it is needed is through regular, volunteer dona-

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive Wednesday and Thursday in the Russell House Ballroom from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Anyone 17 or older, weighing at least 110 pounds, and meeting all health criteria may be eligible to donate. Eligible donors may give blood every eight weeks.

The blood drive will be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Russell House

Ballroom today and tomorrow. There will also be a bloodmobile at the Medical School July 30 from 12-5 p.m. in front of Building 1.

The Red Cross is urging all eligible people to come out and give, because the blood a person gives could be a life they save.

Rare monkey born at Riverbanks

By CLAY MURPHY

An endangered monkey native to China was born in June at Riverbanks Zoo.

Riverbanks is one of eight U.S. zoos involved in a cooperative management plan for the Francois' leaf monkey. This species' wild population is thought to be between 400 and 600 in southern China. Rapid deforestation is constantly decreasing that number.

Although Riverbanks Zoo is home to four other leaf monkeys, this past month's birth is a first for the zoo.

"We've never had a leaf monkey born here before," said Alan Shoemaker, curator of mammals at Riverbanks. "The infant looks healthy. Unfortunately, we don't know its gender because we don't want to interfere with its natural surroundings this soon after the birth."

Leaf monkeys can grow to 20 pounds and are believed to be able to live into their teens. Shoemaker said information on the Francois' leaf monkey is tentative because the species is so rare in captivity.

Riverbanks Zoo participates in 17 Species Survival Plans and houses more than 25 endangered species as coordinated by the American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums.
