

SPORTSLOOK

USC Athletics

■ USC volleyball player Amy Iannocari was named the SEC Player of the Week after helping the Gamecocks defeat Kentucky Sunday, the first time in South Carolina's history. She is the first Lady Gamecock volleyball player to be named SEC Player of the Week.

Iannocari, a senior outside hitter, recorded 23 kills in 53 attempts in the match against the Lady Wildcats. She totaled 19 digs, one service ace and one block. Iannocari currently leads the Gamecocks in kills with 348. She is second on the team in digs with 284. For the season, she has scored double-digit kills and digs in seven consecutive matches.

The Gamecocks, 6-4, are currently third in the SEC with an 18-6 overall record.

■ The Lady Gamecock golf team travels to Myrtle Beach this weekend to defend the Carolyn Cudone Intercollegiate Golf Tournament title at the Prestwick Country Club.

The Lady Gamecocks are led by Clarissa Childs, the defending individual champion who posted a three-round total of 224 to garner top honors last year. Childs was an All-SEC performer last season and has followed up with two top 20 finishes this season.

Siew-Ai Lim also helped Carolina to victory last season as she tied for second-place overall at 225. The second team All-American has performed well this season with a tie for seventh at the Lady Paladin Invitational. She also represented her native Malaysia at the Asian Games in September.

The Lady Gamecocks will complete their fall tournament schedule with the NCAA Preview Tournament on Nov. 11-13 in Wilmington, N.C.

Staff Reports

The Carolina soccer team, ranked first in the nation, defeated Georgia State 6-0 Wednesday night at the Graveyard. With the win, the Gamecocks improve to 16-2 while the Panthers fall to 7-10. The win was South Carolina's 16th in a row, a win streak dating back to a 1-0 loss to St. Louis in Bloomington, Ind., on Sept. 4.

The two teams were even in the first half until freshman Clint Mathis scored with two seconds remaining to send the Gamecocks into the half with a 1-0 lead. Mathis' shot from 35 yards out was unassisted.

Perhaps the highlight of the night occurred when Gamecock goalkeeper John Mills made a spectacular save off a shot from Vincent Perri. South Carolina was in the lead 1-0 at the time of Mills' save, three minutes into the second half.

"You can watch soccer the entire season and not see a better save than the one Mills had in that situation," USC head coach Mark Berson said. Inspired following Mills' save, the Gamecocks wasted no time getting on the scoreboard in the second half with Mathis scoring again at the 49:08 mark off a penalty kick. The goals for Mathis were his seventh and eighth of the season.

Freshman Clint Mathis scored two goals in USC's 6-0 victory over Georgia State. The top-ranked Gamecocks have won 16 straight.

Freshman Kristinn Larusson gave South Carolina a 3-0 lead at the 60:37 mark when he converted another penalty kick for the Gamecocks.

Senior Cedric Marshall continued the scoring spree at the 62:24 mark as he drilled a shot past Georgia State goalkeeper Barry Dickerson, after a throw in from Billy Baumhoff that was headed at the near post from Larusson.

Larusson struck again two minutes later at the 64:23 mark as he put home a shot off the crossbar. Larusson's two goals are his fifth and sixth of the season.

Sigmar Scheving completed the scoring for the game at the 73:34 mark when he chipped a shot over a drawn-out Dickerson from 18 yards.

South Carolina outshot the Panthers by a 51-13 margin. The Gamecock goalkeepers, Mills, Jamie Starr and Tom Montiverdi combined for seven saves while Dickerson had 12.

In other Gamecock soccer news, senior Chris Faklaris has been selected to the Soccer America Team of the Week. Faklaris scored the game winners in South Carolina's 1-0 win over Wake Forest and 4-1 win over conference opponent Louisville. Against the Cardinals, Faklaris scored two goals for a total of three on the week.

The Stone Mountain, Ga., native was one of 10 national players, along with teammate Rob Smith, nominated this week for the Soccer Player of the Year Award as selected by the Missouri Athletic Club.

The Gamecocks are in action again this Sunday against 16th-ranked UNC-Charlotte. Game time at the Graveyard is 2 p.m. The winner will determine the Metro Conference champion and an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament.

BEAT THIS!

Periodically throughout the football season, the Gamecock staff makes predictions on the week's games. See how your predictions compare.

	Wilson	DeButts	Williams
Miami	Syracuse	Miami	Miami
at Syracuse
Alabama	Alabama	Alabama	Alabama
at LSU
Duke	Duke	Virginia	Virginia
at Virginia
Ohio St	Wisconsin	Ohio St	Wisconsin
at Wisconsin
Texas	Texas A&M	Texas A&M	Texas A&M
at Texas A&M
Southern Cal	WSU	WSU	WSU
at Washington St

Gamecock Graphics

Carolina equestrian team back in saddle, hosting regional

RYAN WILSON Asst. Sports Editor

Even though there is no Carolina football game this weekend, there are still plenty of sporting events to see. For those students looking for something new and different to do this weekend, a short drive to Softwinds Farm in Hopkins will give you a chance to see the University of South Carolina equestrian team host its first home show of the 1994-95 season Saturday and Sunday.

If you're unfamiliar with the equestrian team, you are probably not alone. The team currently falls under the club classification and is not associated with the USC Athletics Department. The team is affiliated with the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA) and is coached by Janet Brown.

The IHSA has the nation divided into zones that are, in turn, divided into regions. USC is a member of Region 2 which is part of Zone 5. USC ties to the IHSA are two-fold. Coach Brown is the president of Region 2, while her husband, Skip, is the chairman of Zone 5. Zone 5 is made up of 40 colleges and is divided into three regions. USC, which founded Region 2 in 1985, will host the regional finals in the spring.

Confused yet? The competitions themselves are a great deal easier to understand than the way the zones and regions work.

Throughout the season, teams and individuals will compete in 10 shows. On completion of the 10 shows, the team with the highest points goes straight to the nationals to compete against 18 other regional winners, but also compete for the Zone 5 title.

Individual riders in any division with a total of 35 points, with the exception of the Open Division (28 points), compete in the regional finals with the top three or four riders going on to the zone finals. The top two zone finishers in each division will compete with the other eight zones for the national title. Add the fact that there are five rider divisions (open; intermediate; novice; walk, trot, canter; walk, trot) with nine classes in all, it becomes an even more intriguing sport.

The open rider with the most points at the national competition receives the Cachionne Cup (name after IHSA executive director Bob Cachionne). This rider, along with two other riders chosen at nationals, will represent the IHSA at a three-day event in Europe.

The long road to the nationals goes through Columbia this weekend. Once again, the show will be Saturday and Sunday at Softwinds Farm in Hopkins. For more information, call Softwinds Farm at 776-2074.

MAIN STREET SATURDAY NIGHTS

Coming Saturday, November 5 — Teresa Moshell.

Starting Oct. 8 at 6pm your Saturday Nights will change forever.

We will be offering an informal evening service featuring a variety of Contemporary Christian gospel music and a message that addresses the problems and concerns that we face day to day.

We look forward to seeing you every Saturday Night.

Main Street United Methodist Church
1830 Main Street • 779-0610

Its All Downhill From Here!

SAVE YOUR SEMESTER WORKSHOP

Final exams are coming up soon; are you wondering how you're going to pull it off? This workshop is geared toward coordinating your remaining resources to be successful in the downhill race toward final exams. Maybe you've gotten a little behind. Maybe you need that extra push that will put you over the top.

USC ACADEMIC SKILLS PROGRAM

The workshop will focus on:

- task analysis: what needs to be done in each course
- time analysis: conversion to real hours
- developing a detailed daily study plan
- developing a daily "to do" list
- textbook study techniques
- organizing and using lecture notes

For more info contact Academic Skills @ 777-6573

December Graduates ... Don't Get Left Out in the Cold!

FREE Cap, Gown and Tassel

Expires Nov. 7th

- With your 25 personalized graduation announcements and envelopes for $38.75
- Announcements include:
Your name
Undergrad/ Grad Degree
Your major / program
- Packaging & handling included

Balfour
1609 BLOSSOM ST. ■ 254-5330

1609 Blossom Street

Credit Card Orders Call

254-5330

SPORTS CALENDAR

GAMECOCK SPORTS

VOLLEYBALL

Wednesday, November 9
7:00 pm

USC vs Clemson
BEAT THOSE TIGERS!
Band, Cheerleaders, Cocky Shakers and a FREE SEC Souvenir Basketballs to the first 50 kids 12 or under
ADMISSION IS FREE
Blatt P.E. Center

TENNIS

Friday - Monday
November 4-7 All Day
ITA Rolex Southeastern Regional Women's Tournament
ADMISSION IS FREE
USC Field House
Indoor Courts

for more information, call 777-7977 or 1-800-4SC-FANS