National Security Education Program (NSEP) Information Session

Wednesday, November 15
4:30 pm • Harper College 107

The National Security Education Program (NSEP) was established to develop the national capacity to educate U.S. citizens to understand foreign cultures, to strengthen U.S. economic competitiveness, to enhance international cooperation and security. Graduate Fellowships and Undergraduate Scholarships are awarded for study of languages, cultures, and world regions not commonly represented in U.S. international education, specifically those outside Western Europe, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. Outstanding students from all academic and professional disciplines are encouraged to apply. Attend the Information Session on November 15 to receive application materials and guidelines. For information contact Patricia Willer, International Programs for Students in the Byrnes Building at 777-7461 or Novella Beskid in the Fellowship Office, Harper College 303 at 777-0958.
