

During the first two years that the Office of Fellowships and Summer Programs has been in business, 30 USC students have become national award winners.

These students alone earned more than $680,000. Winners include a Truman Scholar, three Fulbright Grants, five Goldwater Scholars, five National Science Foundation Fellows, a National Security Education Program Grant, nine Rotary International Scholars, three State Farm Exceptional Student Fellow and three Tau Beta Pi Fellows.

To learn more about the criteria and application process for awards, students may attend workshops offered by the Office of Fellowships and Summer Programs. The workshops are for specific awards. Upcoming workshops include:

Marshall, 4 p.m. Aug. 26; Rhodes, 4:30 p.m. Aug. 26; Fulbright, 4 p.m. Aug. 8; National Science Foundation, 4 p.m. Sept. 11; Truman, 4 p.m. Sept. 12; Goldwater, 4 p.m. Sept. 24; and Mellon, 4 p.m. Oct. 8.

All scholarship workshops will be held in the Gressette Room on the third floor of Harper College on the Horseshoe. Faculty and staff will be present to explain the merits and requirements for application to individual programs. Only U.S. citizens can apply for these awards. Faculty and staff are encouraged to nominate students to apply for a scholarship or fellowship program and should contact Novella Beskid in the Office of Fellowships and Summer Programs, at 777-0958.

A nomination by a faculty member impacts whether a student will be able to compete for a scholarship.

A mailing list is offered. To be placed on the mailing, students should contact Linda Lien at 777-0958.

Once identified as potential scholars, students are assisted in all aspects of candidacy. This includes selecting appropriate courses, completing applications, writing essays and interviewing. Scholarship workshop sessions will be held throughout the year.

Driving under suspension, Bull and Rice streets. The responding officer saw a brown, four-door, 1982 Chevrolet occupied by two black males driving in a suspicious manner. A tag check showed the tag should have been on a Buick.

The officer pulled the car over, and a driver's license check showed the driver was driving with a suspended license. The suspect was booked and fingerprinted. A court date has been set.

8-9-96

Autobreaking, larceny, M-1 Lot, USC. The victim said an unidentified subject(s) used broke the left rear door vent window of the vehicle.

One 35 mm camera, a daily planner and a drawstring bag were removed. Estimated loss: $162.

Autobreaking, larceny, G-1 Lot, USC. Complainant said an unknown person(s) broke the driver's side window and stole a Motorola cellular phone. Estimated loss: $100.

Indecent exposure, Pickens and Blossom streets.

The responding officer saw the suspect masturbating while standing on the sidewalk at Blossom and Pickens streets.

The suspect was arrested and placed in Richland County Detention Center.

8-10-96

Found Property, Cliff Apartments. Responding officer found one computer monitor next to a trash can. An NCIC check came back with no hits.

8-11-96

Driving under the influence, Assembly and Blossom streets.

The responding officer saw the suspect driving southbound on Assembly Street, squealing his tires and nearly striking a northbound vehicle. The officer stopped the suspect and smelled alcohol on him.

The suspect was asked to take a field sobriety test and failed the balance test, alphabet test and heel-to-toe test.

The suspect was arrested and transported to the Richland County Detention Center.

the request via CPD radio and directed units to assist.

According to the incident report, the Mustang wrecked into a tree at the corner of Summerville and Sumter streets. The report says the three young men ran from the area and the driver was apprehended a short time later at Summerville and Cardinal streets.

Carl Stokes, director of law enforcement and safety, said the investigation continues as the USCPD tries to find the other suspects.

"Mainly, we've got to rely on the one (the juvenile) we've got," Stokes said.

The juvenile who was arrested was charged with carjacking, assault with intent to kill, carrying a firearm adjacent to a college building, possession of a pistol (while being) under 21 years of age and unlawful possession of a pistol, according to the police report. The report says he was transported to Richland County Detention Center.

Stokes said USC has not had a car jacking in the 16 years he's been here.

"I don't anticipate any of this happening again," Stokes said.

If students ever encounter someone in a parking lot who has a weapon and wants their car, Stokes said they should, "Be as nice and friendly and cooperative as you can. That's the proper reaction - to try and be cooperative as you can and let the police catch them later."

Stokes said, "The most important thing is to save your life."

Four found with guns in Russell House lot

CECE VON KOLNITZ News Editor

In the same parking lot where a USC student's car was stolen at gunpoint, in a separate incident, four young men were arrested for illegal gun possession.

Tony Jones, 17, Paul Jackson, 24, Douglas Smith, 20, and John Wallace, 17, were arrested after they left the parking lot between the Russell House and Thomas Cooper Library.

Carl Stokes, director of law enforcement and safety, said the fact that a carjacking occurred and four young men were found in possession of guns, happened on the same night (Aug. 7) and each incident began in the same parking lot, within hours of each other, is "coincidental."

Stokes said, "We look at the information and the evidence to see if there's any tie-in. The only tie-in would be if they knew each other."

Stokes said a connection is unlikely because the young men who were charged with gun possession were in jail when the car jacking occurred.
