

Karl Miller checks the mail for a woman who receives her mail at the mission. Those staying at the Oliver Gospel Mission can have mail delivered there.

(Above) Helen Evans is well known by all the kids who are helped by the mission. "They call me grandma," she said, as she plays with 4-year-old Juquita Garrett. Evans eats dinner at the mission but has another place to stay.

(Right) John Landy stays at the mission, working as a painter and saving his money to one day find a home of his own. "People will give you a bed and a meal, but they won't put a dollar in your pocket," he said.
