

The University of South Carolina's Second Annual
Martin Luther King, Jr.
Day of Service
January 17, 2000

Remember

Life's persistent and most urgent question is, what are you doing for others?

-Martin Luther King, Jr.

Celebrate

Act

A new tradition began on January 18, 1999 when over 750 faculty, staff and students gathered to commemorate the life of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. for one of the nation's largest Day of Service celebrations. You are invited to continue the commitment and kick off the new year during the second annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service.
