Free music for everyone

BY BROOK BRISTOW THE GAMECOCK

The Internet music game has a new player: FightCloud.com. While fightcloud isn't a downloading service, it does provide free music. New artists promote their CDs here by giving them away to the public.

How it works is simple: go to the Web site, click on the link for the genre you're interested in and then listen to the CDs in that category.

If you like the music, you can order it for free. As always, though, there's a catch: a $4.95 shipping and handling charge that covers the artist's costs in manufacturing, warehousing and shipping.

Right now, FightCloud.com is a little thin, with only four artists on its roste

The lineup consists of country singer/songwriter Marc Corey Lee, who has performed with Dwight Yoakum, Merle Haggard and Jo Dee Messina; rap artist Eternal Tribe; fusion jazz artist Rico Garcia, who has performed with such greats as George Benson and Sammy Davis Jr; and film and TV composer Glenn Scott Lacey.

Other features on Fight-Cloud.com include a CD announcement newsletter, which is e-mailed to subscribers every time a new CD becomes available on the site.

Another thing to check out is the artist submission section.

If you have a band or have recorded a CD, you have a chance to be featured on the Web

This is a fairly well-done Web site. The graphics are reasonable and load quickly. The music is well done, but the lack of selection is disappointing.

This site is geared toward college students, but college students usually don't go for artists they don't know.

This is a great place, though, for anyone who has a CD, isn't signed and wants to gain exposure, both nationwide and worldwide.

For now, FightCloud.com won't be a major player in the Internet music game.

Maybe once it has a full catalogue, the California-based company can contend and give these hard-working artists the exposure they deserve.

Movie world holds off projects continued from page 6

But this week has given them substance," said Ric Burns, whose epic history New York premieres its final two installments on PBS later this month.

The biggest TV networks—ABC, CBS, NBC and Fox—canceled all programming and commercials after the attacks for round-the-clock news coverage.

They planned to stay with the story continuously at least through Wednesday.

Entertainment events around the country were post-poned or canceled.

'The Emmy Awards show Sunday was postponed.

The Latin Grammys, to have taken place Tuesday night in Los Angeles, were canceled.

Broadway shows, closed for two days, will resume performances Thursday evening.

Jed Bernstein, president of the League of American Theatres and Producers, said that before the curtains rise, the theaters will dim their marquees to honor the victims.

The New York Philharmonic canceled its opening-night gala Sept. 20 and will replace it with a memorial concert.

Theme parks such as Walt Disney World in Florida and Disneyland and Universal Studios in California reopened after closing for a day.

And major movie studios such as Paramount, Sony Pictures and Warner Bros. resumed production Wednesday.

Many of the attractions on the Las Vegas Strip were closed, though casinos remained open.

Other cancellations included tapings for the The Tonight Show with Jay Leno at the NBC studios in Burbank, Late Night with Conan O'Brien in New York and a concert by Madonna on Tuesday night in Los Angeles.

Madonna's concert was rescheduled for Saturday.

The Leno and O'Brien shows will be dark all week, NBC officials said. CBS said David Letterman's Late Show was taking the week off anyway.

of play.
Gran Turismo 3 also has an arcade mode outside of the simulation mode.

In it, you race most of the stock cars, but you can also upload your own personally tweaked cars from your garage in simulation mode.

Arcade mode is also where you can compete against your friends for bragging rights.

Though many will miss the used cars, this game gets a high-revving, adrenaline-rushing, tire-burning nine out of 10. Gran Turismo is the ultimate racing simulator.
