eel, crab, green onion and cucumber topped with smelt and flying fish roe and Japanese mayonnaise — had a more unique and fuller flavor. The combination was delicious, soft and smooth like the others.

The dragon special — deep-fried soft-shell crab, cream cheese and avocado wrapped in smoked eel, scallions and flying fish roe — was a good mix of flavors and, according to the proprietors, is one of Camon's best sellers. This roll is less sweet than the others and has a dryer, rougher texture. It was colorful and well-presented.

For dessert, the vanilla ice cream served with azuki beans proved a surprisingly simple delight. The bean flavor lent itself nicely to the ice cream's sweetness.

For those who've never eaten sushi before, Camon is a wonderful place to give it a try. All the ingredients, from the rice to the seaweed wrapping, were incredibly fresh and moist, not dry or papery like you'd get from a place that leaves its sushi sitting around before serving it.

The restaurant comfortably seats about 60 to 70 people, and staff members said the weekends get fairly busy. Reservations are recommended for Friday nights. Students get a discount on their

"It helps me to meet other people who have the same background," said Krishna Suthar, a Indian Cultural Exchange member and first-year advertising student.

One of the group's purposes is "to bring together all different social groups of Indians and make them feel at home here," said Tejal Patel, a second-year biology student and Indian Cultural Exchange secretary.

But the organization has a more encompassing overall purpose than merely joining together those with similar backgrounds. It strives to share its culture and educate area residents.

Jaipur, an Indian restaurant in Charlotte, will cater the event, serving vegetarian and nonvegetarian Indian dishes during intermission.

India Night will be held tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. in the Richland Northeast High School auditorium at 7500 Brookfield Road. Tickets cost $10 in advance and $12 at the door. Part of the proceeds from India Night will be given as a surprise donation to a student organization to be selected at the end of the night.

For tickets, call Talukdar at 261-3609. For information about India Night or the Indian Cultural Exchange, contact Talukdar or Tejal Patel at 796-2258.

a viable market that will hopefully draw an increased number of artists in the fall semester.

In the meantime, pack up a cooler, grab a stack of your favorite CDs, roll the windows down and start driving. An assortment of the industry's most talented artists are appearing live this summer. Concert bliss is only a mini road trip away.

HOROSCOPES

ARIES The direct approach won't work as well as a more subtle advance. So if at first you don't succeed, come around the back way.

TAURUS Share your vision for the future with a sensitive, supportive person. It may be too hard to accomplish alone, but with faith and a good friend, anything is possible.

GEMINI Push hard to get a tough job done. It might have been easier if you'd finished it sooner, but there's no use worrying about that now.

CANCER Money may be a little tight, but it's out there. You can use your own creativity to make more. Accept a loved one's encouragement and inspiration.

LEO Finish whatever you need to do in order to strengthen your infrastructure. You'll be much more creative, and have much more time, after this basic stuff is done.

VIRGO You're one of the few who can get a message across, when others aren't speaking. Help out a couple of people you know who can't see eye to eye.

LIBRA By putting more work into your own place, your investment goes up in value. It's another way to make money and build self-esteem.

SCORPIO You learn pretty well through books, but you learn best through hands-on experience. Maybe that's why you'll be able to do something that somebody else can't.

SAGITTARIUS People think you're lucky, and maybe you are. Luck isn't all you have going for you, however. It also helps to have good timing.

CAPRICORN A person who's a good strategist could help you with the perfect scheme. Find a way to do your work faster so that you have more time to play.

AQUARIUS Something that seems impossible at first really can be accomplished. Don't let yourself be intimidated. Stay cool and you'll win the prize.

PISCES Compassion can travel great distances and touch hearts so far from your own. When one door slams shut, look for the one that opens.
