LOCAL BREVITIES

Some Things You Know and Some You Don't Know About Our Towns, County & People

—A fairly good sprinkling of people were in the city Monday.

—For sale: Pure thorough bred registered S. C. Brown leghorn eggs, at $1.00 per 15.

—Car of fine horses and mules for sale cheap for cash or good papers. Gaines & Gassaway Bros. Co., Central, S. C.

—The best time to kill weeds is before they come up. The next good time is the next day after they have come up.

—Most men have a theory that most women are fools, but it takes a woman to prove what fools men are.

—The only time a man of experience takes his wife into his confidence is to tell her he is out of money.

—Get a divorce, from some of these old fogy ideas and delusions of yours. Everybody has a few and generally knows pretty well what they are, too.

—Married on April the 10th. at the residence of D. E. Garrett the officiating N. P., R. L. Lay to Lorena Hatton, colored. Both of Pickens county.

—Surgeons in Atlanta have succeeded in giving a woman a new jawbone. Why argue longer that science advances the welfare of man.

—The board of health of Anderson has declared that the citizens of the town must be vaccinated in order to prevent the spread of smallpox.

—The Piedmont Presbytery will meet at Honea Path on the 15th inst and hold over Sunday. On this account there will be no service at the Presbyterian Church in Pickens next Sunday.

—J. W. Sheriff has moved his saw mill machinery down in Orangeburg county where he has a big body of timber to cut. John is a good saw mill man and no doubt will do well in his new location.

—The great intensive plan of farmers is rapidly coming more and more into practice. The labor problem and the superior productive advantage itself combine to bring about the system. There are marvelous possibilities in Southern farm lands.

—And now the thrifty farmer in his eagerness ploweth two near the confines of the public road and dumps real estate into the drains and ditches of said highway, causing the county commisioner to fume and fret, blow and swear, notify said recalcitrant ditch fillers to abstain from future violations. Selah!

—A very dirty boy attended a certain school. One day the teacher sent the boy's mother a note saying that he was not clean and that she ought to bathe him oftener. The mother sent the teacher a note in reply, in which she said: "My boy Bill ain't no rose. Don't smell him; learn him."

—It looks as if the opportunity was greater for the farmer now than for almost any one else. The whole world, every other class of people are consumers of what the farmer can make on his farm and there is no reason why the farmer should not get a good profit on everything he produces, and he can if he will only put himself in position to demand it.

—A young lady living near Six Mile said she was born to be a farmer's wife because she engaged in milking when an infant, and took to cradling early. Later she shocked her parents and filled her crib. At an early age she learned to sew, and she had cultivated her acquaintance with a young agriculturist, and as soon as she placed her affection she intended to "make hay while the sun was shining." This was too much for a Norris tiller of the soil, so he gathered her up in his arms and garnered her.

—We have been asked why hens always lay eggs in the day time? Answer: Because at night they are roosters.

—Diamonds are advancing in price so rapidly that young persons may have to marry without becoming engaged.

—Occasionally we find a farmer that is so busy with his hands he does not find time to use his brains. Work the two together for best results.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Stansell and Children of Orden have returned home after a pleasant visit to relatives in Pickens.

—Mr. T. H. Jenkins and little son Raymond returned to their home in Columbia after a very pleasant visit at the home of W. L. Jenkins in Pickens.

—There will be an all day singing at Norris Baptist church on the 4th Sunday in April and all lovers of music are invited and are expected to have a good time.

—There are three diseases which appear to be taking root among the majority of us during these warm days. They are the hookworm, baseball fever and spring fever. Which will you take? It is a hard matter to escape them all.

—A traveling man whose business takes him among the farmers said when asked by the writer why he was loafing around town: Farmers are so busy they ask the blessing on the way from the towel to the dinner table.

—It goes without saying that the wide tired wagon does less damage to the roads than the narrow tired ones. If the good roads problem is ever to be solved it will not come un-til all the farmers get rid of their narrow tired wagons.

—Haas Butler was hanged in Pickens last Friday at 12:20 o'clock for attempting criminal assault. He was the first person tried in the state under the new law, making an attempt punishable by death. The day before he was hanged he made a confession, and said he was ready to go. Many people came to town to see the hanging.

—Does the man who sends to a mail order house ever take into account the cost of postage, expressage and other expenses involved in placing an order and getting it filled? Does he also take into account the vexatious delays he often meets, and the probability that what he bought is not in quality and other features that which he expected it to be? When a man buys of his local merchant he knows what he is getting and he does not have to wait for it.

—One great reason why mail order house flourish and cut into the business of local merchants everywhere is there lavish expenditure for advertising. The amount they spend for such a purpos is well nigh fabulous. But it is true economy, for the resultant returns fully justify the outlay, large as it may be. The lesson it teaches is that most home merchants, if they want to successfully meet the competition of mail order houses must take a leaf out of their book and meet them on their own ground by a proportionate amount of advertising. The mail order house, in doing a large business, shows the value of adversiting.

—The present high prices being paid for hogs and cattle should not deceive even a ten year-old boy. It is merely a preconceived plan of the packers to offset the meat boycott and the effort now being made to punish them under the anti-trust law. With enough food stored up in their piratical cold storage ships to feed the world for years, the miserable silliness of them paying unheard of high prices for hogs and cattle is too apparent even to fool a fool. If they will open up their ice vaults ten days, live hogs will sell for five cents per pound or less. I sometimes wonder if these alleged smart men really think they are deceiving anyone. If they do, the person thus deceived ought to be bored for the simples.

—Mrs. Millie Parrott relict of the late Jerrie Parrott, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. W. I. Gravely, on Monday, the 11th. instant, at the age of 88 years. She was buried the day following her death at Antioch church. She had been a member of the church for years and was a good christian woman and numbered her friends by the score, who will be sorry to learn of her death. She leaves seven children, two daughters and five sons, besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death.

—Have you seen the display of neckties in the middle show window of Craig Bros. store? These hustling gentlemen carry a large assortment of nice ties and gents furnishing goods and have built up a creditable display. Hanging from a card is 50 fine ties, retailing for 25c. each, that they have put on sale as Saturday's special to go at 10c. each, one to a customer. The sale will begin promptly at 10 o'clock, and last until they are all sold. Boys, here is your chance to get a nice spring tie cheap. You will need it the third Sunday in May if not sooner.

—Edgar A. Morris, son of Postmaster, A. M. Morris, has stolen a march on his friends and last week he turned up in Pickens with his bride. The marriage occured on the 20th of December in Baltimore. The bride was Miss Beronica Longette, of New York. The happy couple are now at home in Pickens where they are receiving many congratulations. The many friends of Mr. Morris are showering felicitations on him for winning such a charming helpmate and the social set of Pickens is rejoicing over the addition of this charming and beautiful young matron to their circle.

—Mrs. Janie Glazener died at the home of her husband B. N. Glazener in the Cross Roads section of the county last Friday evening, after a short illness from pneumonia, aged about forty years. She was buried Sunday at Cross Roads Baptist church, the funeral service being conducted by Rev. B. E. Grandy, a large concourse of friends and relatives witnessed the obsequies. Mrs Glazener was a noble christian woman and had many friends who will learn with sorrow of her demise. She leaves a husband and five children, two brothers, J. D. Aiken, of Central, and W. W. Aiken, of Sun Set, and one sister, Mrs. George Glazener, of Brevard, besides other relatives. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of many friends.

—B. Larkin Hendricks, a respected and well known citizen of the county, died at his home in the Field section on the 5th instant, in the 61st year of his age. Mr. Hendricks had been in bad health for the past three years but the day before his death he felt so much better that he got up and walked all over his farm, and at 3 a. m., on Tuesday he was found dead. His remains were interred the day following his death at Oolenoy church by the side of his wife, W. C. Seaborn conducting the funeral service. He was, and had been for a long time, a consecrated member of the Baptist church and was fully prepared and ready when the summons came. He served in the latter part of the war in the "Home Guards" a company composed of 16-year old boys. He leaves 8 children, 4 daughters, and four sons besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn his death.

The Value Of A Newspaper

The public have little appreciation of the value of well conducted local newspapers. Their offices benificence to the community are so common that they are unnoted, but none the less no town or city can advance without its newspapers are in the forefront of its advancement. They are the life of the community. They must lead in every effort to invite capital, enlarge industries and enthuse the people in the use of their advantages.

Liberty News.

March has marched in and out like a lamb, with but little real March weather durring the entire month and April has set in like wise.

The farmers have been speeding the plow and have the face of the earth torn up, and some of them have actually been planting cotton seed.

The roads are getting in fairly good shape as the clay has been dried by the winds and continued sunshine and ground under by the wheels of the fertilizer wagons.

The mountains have not been visible here for the past ten days, owing to the dense smoke. The sun does not shine bright at any time during the day and the Hally comet can not be seen at night nor many stars.

A good rain would do good to growing crops and bring the corn and other crops up just planted.

Yesterday was a stirring day in this little neck of the woods owing to a Layman's Missionry Rally, held at the School Auditorium at 10:30, a. m., 3:30 p. m., and 8 p. m. The missionary business was well aired in general. Addresses were made in the orning by Hon. H. K. Osborne, of Sprtnbug and Hon. E. Boggs, of Pickens, S. C. Afternoon session was taken up by Mr. C. E. Robinson, of Pickens and Rev. E. Howard, of Greenvlle, pastor of the Libety Baptist Church. The addresses were delivered to the night session by Prof. J. G. Clinckscales, of Woford College, Spartanburg, S. C. The Oddfellows had a sermon at p. m., by Rev. T. bbott, thir Chaplain, at the second Baptist Church; the lodge some odd strong, marching form the hall to the church and back to the hall.

The Rev. W. E. Boggs, D.D., will praech at the Presbyterian church tonight.

A man by name of Philip Chambers died suddenly at the cotton Mill village. A jury was epanelled and the verdict was he came to his death from natural causes. C.

Walker McElmoyle Locals.

Corn planting is about over, and we are now about ready to begin planting cotton seed.

Land has been better prepared than ever before within the recolection of this writer. This good preparation will to some extent eradicate the effects of the wet cultivation of last year.

Wheat and other small grain is looking well. Mr. S. N. Johnston has the best field of wheat we have seen.

Messrs J. F. Link, S. W. and Hane Newton, O. J. and Fred Kay, J. W. Barnett and Carl Brooks went to Pickens on the 8th. inst, to be present at the hanging of the negro, Haas Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Whitten of Pendleton were visitors here last Sunday.

Mr. W. E. Johnston went to Easley last Friday to be at the bedside of his brother Mr. O. H. Johnston who is very sick with rheumatism. Mr. Johnston's two little children are also very low with pneumonia.

The quarterly conference met with Sharon, M. E. Church last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Ressie Rankin who has been sick for some time is not any better, and friends and loved ones are fearful of her recovery. Mrs. Rankin is a daughter of Mr. S. M. Johnston and is loved by all her acquaintences.

Mr. J. W. Barnett and sisters Misses Effie and Laura spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Corene Wardlaw of Sharon.

Miss Della Sheriff of the Wesleyan College spent Sunday with home folks.

Our popular R. F. D. carrier on route 2 Mr. J. A. Allgood has been sick for several days with grip.

It seems that "Uncle Dave" of The Anderson Intelligencer has run out of his supply of almanac witticisms. Come on "Uncle" a fresh supply will be forth coming soon, and then you can truly be called "The sage of Sandy Springs." The Old Man.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to take this method of extending our heartfelt thagks to our friens and neighbors for their help, kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our dear wife and mother. May the Lord's rickest blessings ever rest with them and should the hand of affliction be laid on them may they be ministered unto by friends as kind is our heartfelt prayer.

Dear Friend after much delay I will ask for space in your interesting paper to say a few things to the many friends who may be readers of the Pickens Sentinel Journal, as I have been away from them for some time and would like ever so much to be over there and go around and meet them at their churches and talk to them of hearingly things and make some appoligizes for not being worthy to receive the blessings that I did at their hands, too many to mention at this time, so I hope yet to be able die I am in the very best of health don't use any tobacco or coffee and but little meat. I can do as much work almost, as I ever could, I do all my reading day and night, without glasses and going onto sixtyone. I hardly ever miss going to church and have missed one sundap school lesson this winter

Well the health of this town is much improved. There has been a lot of colds and some pneumonia but all are on foot now.

We had fine weather for farming and there is a lot of wind as well as tooles being used now.

The principal of the institute got an electric shock in February and the school had to stop and hasn't started yet. We are looking forward for a fine school next year; We have plenty of money now the school is run in connection with the state and a student can be prepared here for college.

I had better stop or I may get in the waste basket, so success to you all.

M. L. Jones.
