

PROMINENT PEOPLE

IS POWER BEHIND THRONE

As the Mexican crisis is now viewed in Washington, the modern power of money is combating the ancient power of militarism.

The best authorities on Mexican affairs here declare that Limantour, backed by European and American financiers heavily interested in Mexican properties, forced the resignation of the Diaz cabinet, and is now himself seeking to become the real dictator of Mexico.

Fresh from his conference with the moneyed masters of the world, both here and abroad, Limantour carried an ultimatum to Diaz and his associates. It was, simply, that there must be peace in Mexico. The holders of Mexican investments, totaling toward two billion dollars, powerful in their home government, would not stand by while Diaz, with conscripted armies, plunged the country indefinitely into a state of anarchy, while battling the revolutionists. That such was the outside policy, Limantour pointed out, clearly is proven by the concentration of the United States regulars in Texas. There must be an abandonment of the reign of the mailed fist, this traveled minister argued, and efforts made at solution through the velvet hand of diplomacy and compromise.

It seems likely that Limantour has seized the real scepter. Not that Diaz for the present will relinquish the chief office, but that the old "king" has been made to realize his weakness and has "abdicated" to a new sort of domination.

Mexicans here say that Limantour has been working to this end for several years.

NEW SENATOR FROM NEW YORK

James A. O'Gorman, a justice of the New York supreme court since 1900 and a prominent member of Tammany, was elected United States senator from New York to succeed Chauncey M. Depew, breaking the deadlock that had existed for months. The new senator has been one of Tammany's foremost orators for 30 years, having established his reputation as a public speaker in its interests when, at the age of twenty-one, his eloquence is credited with having saved a doubtful assembly district.

Senator O'Gorman was born on the lower West Side of New York city on May 5, 1860. He is the son of Ellen and Thomas O'Gorman, and married Anne M. Leslie in New York on January 2, 1884. They have nine children, seven daughters and two sons. At the age of seventeen, Mr. O'Gorman entered the College of the City of New York and later attended the University of New York Law School, was graduated and entered at the bar in 1882.

In 1893 he was elected a justice of the supreme court and in 1899 was elected a justice of the supreme court for a term of 12 years from January 1, 1900. Following his election to the United States senate, Mr. O'Gorman gave out a statement in which he said he stands for immediate downward revision of the tariff; reciprocity with Canada, the parcels post, fortification of the Panama canal, direct election of United States senators and the federal income tax. He also urged rigid economy in government expenditures and is opposed to "all special privileges and private monopoly; to the new nationalism and to the centralizing tendencies of the Republican party."

ECUADOR'S NEW PRESIDENT

Senor Emilio Estrada was elected president of the Republic of Ecuador. He will be inaugurated on August 10, 1911, succeeding the present incumbent, Gen. Elroy Alfaro. The president of Ecuador is elected directly for a period of four years. The vice-president is elected in the same manner, but two years after the election of president, serving accordingly across two terms. The congress consists of two houses. The members of the senate (two for each province) are elected directly for four years. The house of representatives consists of members elected directly for two years at the rate of one deputy for every 35,000 inhabitants or more. The Indians, being practically in a condition of slavery, are unrepresented. Congress meets biennially, but can be summoned for an extra session by the president. The voting franchise is restricted to every male citizen of twenty-one years of age who is able to read and write. The local administrators, from the governors of the provinces down to the lieutenants of the parishes, are all appointed by the president and removed at his discretion.

DONATES LAST OF FORTUNE

Three hundred thousand dollars was the ninety-first birthday gift of Dr. Daniel K. Pearsons, the grand old man of Hinsdale, Ill., to the colleges and missions he calls his children. The Chicago philanthropist is happy now that he has fulfilled his determination to give away all of his fortune before death. In all he has paid what he calls "debts to the world" of approximately $5,000,000. All that now remains of his once great fortune is the modest residence where he lives, valued at $30,000, and this is destined to go before the owner's death. Here is the aged doctor's philosophy:

I have had a lot of fun. I am not a dollar poorer for the millions I have given away.

I have had all I wanted to eat and drink and wear. I could not wisely have spent another dollar on myself.

As for the money I have given away the giving has made me richer, happier.

My colleges are my children. I love them all. There is not a failure among them.

Every cent I have given away has done good, I know. There is not a single gift I would take back.

The best I have ever given was the $50,000 I gave to Berea college. The Kentucky mountains breed men of the Lincoln type. Education counts there. People won't remember me or any of us long, you know, and need not, but my children, my colleges, will spread light down the centuries.

LIFE SAVED BY FRIEND'S ADVICE

About three years ago I suffered with appendicitis and after having an operation performed it left me with a severe case of kidney trouble. I was doctored by several physicians and getting no relief I took the advice of a friend and procured a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. After taking the contents of the first bottle I felt greatly relieved and decided to continue it. After using the contents of three more dollar bottles, I experienced a complete cure. I cannot recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root too highly to anyone suffering from kidney or bladder trouble.

Yours very truly,

COOK OUTDID THE SCHOLAR

Maybe Sign Was Not All Good Latin, but She Translated It Without Difficulty.

Jack returned home from college, where he had won high honors as a student of ancient languages, but he pleaded ignorance one day when his young sister asked him to translate a sign she had seen of an optician's which read thus: "Con sultu sabo utyo ury es."

Jack struggled manfully with it for several minutes and gave it up.

"There are some words in it that are Latin. The others aren't, anyhow. It doesn't make sense."

"That is what I said," replied his sister. "But cook translates it without any trouble. She says it means 'Consult us about your eyes.'"

"ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT."

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse. I couldn't sleep nights any more. It kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but it didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured.

"My brother got his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) cured it." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehrl, Forest City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the care and treatment of skin and hair, will be sent, postfree, on application to Potter D. & C. Corp., Dept. X, Boston.

A live grasshopper will eat a dead grasshopper. A farmer mixed parls green and bran together and let a grasshopper eat it. It died and 20 grasshoppers ate it up, and they died. Good Definition.

A New York Judge, it will be remembered, recently declared unconstitutional the new law that an automobilist, having run over a pedestrian, must stop and leave his name. The judge said that the automobilist had a perfect right to run away and leave the mangled victim to bleed to death alone for the reason that, in criminal cases, no man is obliged to bear witness against himself. James Haden Wilkes, president of the Defense Society of Atlanta, discussed this legal decision at the society's last meeting. "And that," he cried hotly, "is called justice. Well, indeed, was a search after justice once defined as a blind man looking into a dark room for a black hat that isn't there."

On a large estate in the Scottish highlands it was the custom for a piper to play in front of the house every week day morning to awaken the residents. After an overconvivial Saturday night, however, the piper forgot the day and began his reveille (can it be played on the pipes?) on Sunday morning. The angry master shouted to him from the bedroom window: "Here, do you not know the fourth commandment?" And the piper sturdily replied: "Nae, sir, but ye'll hie—whistle it I'll hie—try it, sir."

Pain In Her Side

Mrs. Church, of Summit, N. C., (wife of J. W. Church, the Notary Public) suffered many years with female troubles. She finally tried Cardui, and in the following letter, her husband tells of her experience with this great medicine for women. He writes: "My wife was afflicted with womanly troubles for twelve years. She suffered great pain in her side and back, for two weeks at a time. We called in a doctor, our family physician for many years, and it was after his treatments all failed that she decided to
