VOL. 7, NO. 12

PUBLISHED BY AND FOR THE EMPLOYEES OF CLINTON-LYDIA MILLS, CLINTON, S. C.

DECEMBER, 1958

ALL-DAY CHRISTMAS PARTIES FOR EMPLOYEES HELD FRIDAY DECEMBER 19

Day-long Christmas Parties for employees and their families were held Friday, December 19. The Clinton party was in the Mercer Silas Bailey School Cafeteria and the Lydia party in the Providence School Cafeteria. The parties were held from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Employees and their dependents received personal written invitations which when presented entitled each to a Christmas Bag.

Santa Was There

Santa Claus accepted an invitation to attend the parties and was on hand to greet and hear the requests of children of all ages. Refreshments of punch, coffee, cookies, candies and popcorn were served throughout the day in the beautifully decorated cafeterias.

It required more than 400 crates of oranges, 6,000 bags of candy and well over a ton of nuts to fill the large and brightly decorated Christmas Bags which carry the mill management's message of "Best Wishes for a Merry Christmas".

The gala Christmas programs were under the direction of the Community Recreation and Athletic Directors: Mrs. Eva Land and Charles Leatherwood at Clinton; Miss Nellie Osborne and Ellis Huff-

The Clinton-Lydia management hopes you and your families enjoyed yourselves as guests of the mills.

LUNCH BOWL CAPTAIN

Kenneth Trammell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Trammell, Lydia Mills, played with the South All-Stars against the North All-Stars in the Fourth Annual Lunch Bowl football game December 5th at Anderson's McCants Stadium. The South won their first victory. Ken was elected captain of the offensive team.

LONG SERVICE NEGRO EMPLOYEES HONORED

Ten long service negro employees and a guest of their choice were honored at a turkey dinner on Friday evening December 5, 1958 at 6:00 p. m. in the Bell Street High School Cafeteria.

Sherman Bell, Clinton Warehouse employee, became the eighth active negro Old-Timer. Other members are John Davis, Lawson Robinson, Casey Enoch and Will Little, Clinton, and Douglas Little and Will Robinson, Lydia.

Sherman was presented a gold watch and jeweled service pin in recognition of his quarter century of loyal service.

Other long service employees receiving service award pins were James R. Davis, Shop, 10 years; James Burnside, Village, 15 years; and Costell Little, Carding, 20 years. All are Clinton Mill employees. Jim Burnside entertained with several harmonica solos.

Retired Old-Timers "Bubber" and Theo Little, Clinton, attended.

Time Remains to Enter Decoration Contest

The Company is again sponsoring the annual Home Decoration Contest for all residents of the Clinton-Lydia Mills communities.

Entries will be confined to doorways, windows and lawn or porch decorations. Each display must be clearly visible from the street and illuminated from December 17 to December 24. Judging will be done at night by qualified persons from outside our communities. Originality, ingenuity and tastefulness will be the points judged.

First, second and third place winners in each community will be awarded Christmas fruit cakes.

All residents of the communities are urged to help in making our communities "Christmasy" again this year.

Lydia Woman's Club Holds Banquet

The Lydia Woman's Club held their annual banquet in November at the Providence School Cafeteria. The tables were lovely with arrangements of fall flowers.

Mrs. R. E. Whitmire, president, presided and introduced the special guests.

Mrs. Sara Word, program chairman, had charge of the Program. An evening of fun with games suggestive of Thanksgiving were played.

The banquet was prepared by a committee from the club, and was served by Linda Corley, Sue Word, Cecilia McLendon and Melda Satterfield.

Community Houses Set for Christmas

Community Clubs and Church groups are utilizing to the fullest the beautifully decorated Community Centers for Christmas parties and programs.

The Centers have been made very attractive and "Christmasy". The Christmas Tree and other attractive and colorful arrangements provide an appropriate background for the activities.

Employees and their families are cordially invited to visit and enjoy the facilities of the Centers during the Holiday Season.
