No matter what else we do this month none of us should complain about anything. October not only has perfect weather—the happy medium between hot and cold—but brings restored energies, and holds the promise of Thanksgiving and Christmas. Then of course, October brings Halloween. Experience teaches us that we should remember this with its trick-or-treaters.

Our supervisor, B. P. Lark, and Earl Gregory were two from our department who went to the twenty-first Textile Exposition in Greenville. From their reports, we know it was an interesting show.

Mr. J. P. Oakley was recently called to Toceoa, Georgia due to the death of a sister. We extend to Mr. Oakley our sympathy.

Mrs. Charles McInville and Kathy of Charlotte and Mrs. Minnie Dobbins of Cross Anchor were recent guests of the Perry Sumerals.
