

A good training program is necessary to assure Clinton Mills that it always has qualified personnel to operate its production equipment.

David O'Shields, Baily Assistant Weaving Overseer, I, is shown instructing Clarence Martin and Carl Kinard on proper loom fixing techniques. Both Martin and Kinard are presently weavers.

BULK RATE
U. S. POSTAGE
P A I D
Clinton, S. C.
Permit No. 59

Celebrate 29th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Wilburn, Rt. 3, Laurens, were honored with a surprise party in celebration of their 29th wedding anniversary, February 7.

The dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cannon, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Holliday, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Duckworth.

Forty-one relatives and friends attended the occasion.

Mrs. Wilburn is a Lydia Cloth Room employee.

Clinton Mills Shares $148,430.03 With Eligible Employees

Clinton Mills shared $148,430.03 from Company profits with eligible employee participants under the company's Profit Sharing and Retirement Plan, during 1970.

Last year, the company paid $19,739.65 to retiring employees as supplements to their retirement benefits under the "Minimum Benefits" provision of the plan.

Bailey Spinning Overseer Joe Nelson, r, is shown explaining the provisions of the Clinton Mills Profit Sharing and Retirement Plan to Mrs. Joe Ann Long, a spinner. Mrs. Long became eligible under the plan during 1970.