

MATTIE L. GRANT

She Learned To Spin At Tech

Mattie L. Grant learned to spin at Greenwood Piedmont Technical College during a three month spinning course which was being taught by the school.

"When I came to work here a little over a year ago, I received some additional training in the Clinton training program, but for the most part, I was pretty familiar with the job and operations."

Mattie, who lives at Cross Hill, works the second shift because she prefers it over the others.

"I own a car, but cannot drive," added Mattie with a smile. "I depend on my friends to drive me to work and the places I have to go."

Mattie is an avid bowler and spends much of her free time at the bowling alley.

LINDA WISE

'The People Are So Good'

Linda Wise, second shift Lydia Cloth employee, came to Lydia Plant several months ago.

"I was already working in the plant for Wometco Vending Company, and when I got a chance to go to work in the Cloth Room, I took it," said Wise.

"The people are so good to work with. At first I had trouble giving the proper name to the defects in the fabric, but with some training I soon mastered this."

A Joanna resident, Linda is the mother of two children, Wendy 14, and Sandy, 11.

Her husband, John P. Wise, recently joined the Clinton team as a Loom Technician.

The Wises love outside recreation and enjoy swimming and the beach.

Linda, who has worked previously as a loom filling supplier, is also a licensed cosmetologist.

JENNIE RICHARDS

Jennie Started With Bailey Plant

Like many of her fellow employees, Jennie Richards came to the Bailey Plant when it began operations.

"I liked the plant and the way the job ran," says Jennie. "and I guess that's why I've been here all this time."

A resident of Cross Hill, she has three children; Tony, 9; Celester, 7; and James, 2.

"My husband works at C.W. Anderson Hosiery, but with five in the family, it almost requires both of us working," added Jennie.

"When I'm not working, I enjoy keeping house and sewing," remarked Jennie.

The Richards are active members of Zion Hill Baptist Church.

ALONZO CALWISE

Calwise Likes The Steady Work

"We didn't have steady work at the mobile home plant where I was working, so I applied for a job here." That's how Alonzo Calwise explains his coming to Clinton Mills back in 1975.

A resident of Cross Hill, Alonzo takes pride in his attendance and work record.

As a card operator, he does his best each day. "I cannot describe how I feel about my job because I like everything about it—it's a steady job and you can depend on it," added Calwise.

Away from work, Alonzo enjoys travelling and sight-seeing.
