Alabama Searches For A New Textile Queen

The search has begun for a new Alabama Textile Queen, to be chosen Jan. 10-11 during the 10th annual contest and pageant sponsored by the Alabama Textile Manufacturers Association in Montgomery.

A $1,000 scholarship, wardrobe of top fashion clothes, and travel await the young lady selected to represent the Alabama textile industry in 1983. The winner will succeed Amy Hill, Montgomery, the reigning queen.

To be eligible for the state finals, contestants must be selected and sponsored by a textile company. Additional information on local contests may be obtained from any participating textile company or the ATMA office in Montgomery. Clinton Mills of Geneva is a member of ATMA.

A contestant must be between the ages of 18 and 25, at least 5 feet 4 inches tall, photogenic, and in good health. She must never have been married and must be available and willing to travel as an official representative of the Alabama textile industry, making appearances for state and national groups and civic club organizations.

Applications must be submitted by sponsoring textile companies to the ATMA office, 125 S. McDonough St., Montgomery, before the Dec. 3, 1982, deadline.

Most Improved Golfer

Nancy Coleman, a secretary in the Purchasing Department, has been named the winner of the Most Improved Golfer Award, in the state of South Carolina for 1982, presented by the Womens South Carolina Golf Association. She improved her handicap from 19 to 10 during the year and won the 1982 Womens Club Championship at Lakeside Country Club for the second consecutive year. Nancy ended her award year with a hole in one on the par three No. 11 hole at Lakeside on September 12, 1982.

Bailey Scholars Named To College Honor Group

Maria Livingston and Allen Waters, two Mercer Silas Bailey Memorial Scholarship recipients, have been named to the 1982-83 Erskine College Garnet Circle.

The Garnet Circle consists of the twenty-five students currently enrolled in college who made the highest scholastic average during the previous academic year.

Maria, a senior chemistry major, is the daughter of Plant No. 1 Assistant Weaving Superintendent and Mrs. Wyman Livingston. Waters, son of Bailey Plant Weaver and Mrs. Prue D. Waters, is a junior chemistry major.

Nellie Ward, Center, Plant No. 2 Spooling, recently completed twenty-five years continuous service with Clinton Mills. Nellie's Assistant Departmental Superintendent, Billy McGee, left, and her Departmental Superintendent, Mac George, presented her a gold engraved watch commemorating the milestone in her work history.

George Avery, second from right, has completed a quarter century of continuous employment with the company, thus satisfying the requirements for membership into the Old Timer's Club. Weaving Superintendent Joe Aiton, Left, and Assistant Superintendent Howard Scott, and Plant Manager Ted Davenport, right, presented Avery an engraved pocket watch to mark this event in Avery's work career.

Freddie Spillers and his wife, Tina, weigh their 54 1/2 pound catfish which she caught recently at Pine Ridge Fishing Lake near Cross Anchor. Freddie is a No. 1 Weaving employee.

Clayton Reece's fellow employees recalled their long association with him as he retired from Lydia Spinning, following 31 years continuous service.
