

LOCAL DOTS

Mr. L. F. Truesdale, of Kershaw, and Mr. P. B. Hilton, of Camden were in town yesterday.

Miss Rosa Barnett, of Rock Hill, will return home Sunday, after a few weeks visit to relatives in Lancaster.

—Superintendent A. P. McLure, of the L. & C. Railroad, has been confined to his home this week by an attack of rheumatism.

—Mrs. T. J. Strait lost a fine Jersey cow a few days ago. The animal was tied to a stake, and becoming entangled in the rope, fell and broke her neck.

—The Rev. C. P. Carter, of Lancaster, is conducting a revival meeting this week at the Wylie mill, in Chester. He is being assisted by the Rev. W. H. Arial, of Rock Hill.

—Mr. J. T. Hunter and Miss E. Cauthen, daughter of Mr. James Cauthen, of the cotton mills community, were married last Wednesday night by Magistrate W. P. Caskey.

—We are indebted to Mr. Elmore O. Thompson, son of Mr. H. J. Thompson, of Dwight, for an invitation to attend the approaching commencement exercises of Wake Forest College, of which institution he is a student. Mr. Thompson has been appointed chief marshal of his literary society for the occasion.

—The Rev. Mr. Pearce, of Oakhurst, has accepted the pastorate of Beaver Creek Baptist church. The building has recently been repaired and painted, adding much to its comfort and appearance. Mr. J. K. Harris, who solicited subscriptions for the improvement of the church, desires to return thanks to those who made contributions for the purpose.

—While some farmers say that they have good stands of cotton, many others complain of having such poor stands that they are planting over again. Cotton that was up two weeks ago has since "died out." Farmers of Fairfield and other counties are experiencing the same trouble with cotton stands this season. In fact, unfavorable crop conditions prevail generally throughout the cotton states.

Lancaster Appeal Cases Heard.

The following cases from Lancaster were argued in the Supreme Court this week:

Jos. H. Fields, respondent, vs. Lancaster Cotton Mills, appellant. Mr. T. Y. Williams for appellant. Mr. J. Harry Foster for respondent. Mr. Williams in reply.

Thompson Bros. respondent, vs. Piedmont Mutual Insurance Company, appellant. Mr. H. B. Carlisle for appellant. Mr. J. Harry Foster for respondent. Mr. Carlisle in reply.

John W. Elms, appellant, vs. Southern Power et al, respondents. Mr. J. Harry Foster for appellant. Mr. Russell Lucas for respondent. Mr. Foster in reply.

Every can of Argo Red Salmon contains one pound net. It is always guaranteed to be full weight.

PERSONAL

Mr. Gilbert Lazenby has gone to the Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. James Stewart, of Camden, visited Lancaster, his old home, this week.

Mr. O. K. Williams, of the Rock Hill Record, paid Lancaster a visit this week.

Mr. R. L. Mason, of Atlanta, visited Mrs. Mason's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gregory, this week.

Misses Mayce and Ina Lathan, of Riverside, are the guests this week of their sister, Mrs. E. W. Sistare.

Miss Susie May Cloyd, telegraph operator at Kershaw, is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cloyd.

Mrs. J. M. Odell, of Concord, N. C., who has been visiting Col. Leroy Springs and family, returned home Thursday.

Mr. Henry Swearingen, who has been at work for some time on the Monroe Enquirer, returned home this week.

Mrs. S. R. Patrick, of White Oak, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Robinson, returned home Thursday.

Mrs. Clarence Garvin went to Bamberg this week to join her husband, who is connected with a newspaper there.

Miss Annie Bloodworth, of Yorkville, formerly with the Williams-Hughes Company here, visited friends in Lancaster a few days ago.

Mrs. L. Hirsch and son, Mr. Daniel Hirsch, of Kershaw, are visiting relatives in Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Myer and Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson.

Mr. Oscar Adams, student of the South Carolina University, came up from Columbia this week to see his mother and brothers who are sick, as noted in the last issue of The News.

Miss Charlotte Poulton, of Union, came over yesterday afternoon to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Rosborough. From here she will go to Lancaster to visit her brother, Mr. A. P. McLure.—Chester Lantern.

We had the pleasure of a handshake and talk with our old friend, Mr. W. C. Thomson, of Lancaster, last week, he being here on a visit to relatives. We radically disagree in our ideas on a certain subject, but this disagreement doesn't affect the warm feeling of friendship we entertain for him.—Camden People.

Marriage of Mr. Andrew Marshall and Miss Ethel Mackey.

Mr. Andrew J. Marshall, son of the late Thomas Marshall, and Miss Ethel Mackey, of Heath Springs, were married in Kershaw last Sunday, at the Methodist parsonage, by the pastor, the Rev. O. A. Jeffcoat. The charming bride is a daughter of Mr. Z. F. Mackey, and a sister of Mr. Curtis Mackey, of the First National Bank of Lancaster.

—Attention is called to new announcement by the Williams-Hughes Co. in today's paper.

The News' Voting Contest—Three Trips to Jamestown Exposition to be Given Away.

The News invites attention to the voting contest which it has just inaugurated. Full particulars will be found elsewhere in today's paper. Briefly stated, it is the purpose of The News to give three women in Lancaster county round-trip tickets, including Pullman car fare, to the Jamestown Exposition, provided at least 60,000 votes shall be cast in the contest. This is purely a business proposition, hence the proviso. There is little doubt but that the limit fixed will be reached in a very short time, as it takes only 600 yearly subscribers to cast the 60,000 votes.

The News already has over 2000 subscribers, any one of whom may vote provided his or her subscription has been or will be paid when the voting ticket or coupon is sent in to this office. Of course new subscribers will be entitled to vote according to the length of time for which they pay in advance for the paper. Payment for one year, for example, entitles the subscriber to 100 votes.

There should be a number of candidates in each of the three districts into which the county has been divided. Let them and their friends get to work at once and we will do all we can to help them along.

This voting contest plan is now being run by a number of enterprising newspapers, among them the Winnsboro News and Herald. Notwithstanding the fact that it is only issued once a week and its number of subscribers are only about half those of The News, it has already received over 60,000 votes.

As stated elsewhere, after the 6th of June The News will publish from time to time the votes received, in order that the various candidates and their friends may see how the candidates stand in the contest.

Say, Mr. Farmer!

Suppose the dealer, from whom you purchase your fertilizers, would say to you that if you would pay to him an additional seventy-five cents per ton, he would, in the event of the destruction or damage to your crops by hail, refund the purchase price of the fertilizer. Would you take him up? Of course you would. Being a reasonably sensible man, you could not afford to do otherwise.

The Carolina Hail Insurance Company, of Marion, S. C., capital $25,000.00, will insure your cotton crop against hail damage for as much as $30 per acre for 75 cents, and your corn, wheat and oats for $8 for only 20c an acre.

Mr. A. J. CLARK

is our Special Agent for Lancaster county. See him and protect yourself against loss by hail. Losses paid in 1906, $14,023.24.
