

PLANT LEGUMES BETWEEN CORN ROWS FOR HOGS.

This Plan Will Not Materially Lessen the Corn Yield, and Will at the Same Time Improve the Soil and Provide a Large Supply of the Very Best Hog Feeds.

Tait Butler in Progressive Farmer.

It is not too early to plan for catch crops in the corn, and to follow oats and wheat with which to fatten the hogs and make hay this fall.

For fattening the hogs, we would rely on soy beans, peanuts and corn. These are not only our best hog feeds, but either of the legumes may be grown on the same land on which the corn is produced without materially lessening the yield of corn.

It is a well known fact that many farmers in Southern Alabama and Mississippi make good crops of corn and better than a good half crop of peanuts by planting the corn in about 6-foot rows and later in the season putting a row of peanuts between the corn rows.

The same remarks will apply to the planting of soy beans between the corn rows, except that, fortunately, so great distance between the corn rows is not necessary since the soy beans will make a fair crop without cultivation, if planted at the time the corn is laid by.

For the pasturing of cattle and horses the cowpea may be planted broadcast, or in rows between the corn rows as is the custom, but for furnishing hog feed, the soy bean and the peanut far surpass the cowpea, because of the much greater yield of seed, which is the principal part consumed by the hogs.

There are just two valid objections to raising the feed to fatten large numbers of hogs in this way. The first and most serious one is the absence of adequate fencing and its great cost.

This is a serious problem, but one which must be solved if the South is ever to grow live stock of good quality profitably.

Our corn fields can be made to produce too much feed, that at the same time will improve their fertility, for it to be profitable to neglect this opportunity because of the cost of fencing. For the present the corn fields that are fenced, or that can be fenced, should be made to grow soy beans or peanuts for the fattening of hogs.

The second objection to this plan of producing hog feeds is that the corn may not have been gathered at the time it is best to turn the hogs on the peanuts and soy beans. If the corn is to be cut and shocked these will have to be removed before turning the hogs on the legumes.

The South loses millions of dollars every year by its failure to produce the hogs which could be fattened by these legumes grown in the corn fields. There is no question but the improvement to the land will pay for the fencing.

Let every corn field also grow a crop of soy beans, cowpeas or peanuts and then, if possible, graze these catch crops with hogs, but if the hogs can not be had, let the soy beans, cowpeas and peanuts be grown any way, for the land's sake.

SHOT DEAD IN HER BED

Negro Woman Killed While Lying Asleep.

Bennettsville special in The State: Creecy McMillan, a negro woman, was found dead in her bed this morning, having been shot in the back of the neck, the ball lodging in the base of the brain.

Creecy and Henry were servants of J. P. Edens and the homicide occurred in the cook's house about 75 yards from the residence.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitution disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in the country for years and is a regular prescription.

2. What had been the character of Amaziah, the father of Uzziah?

3. Which are sons more likely to resemble in moral character, their father or their mother?

4. Verse 4—In what sense did Uzziah and his father Amaziah do "that which was right in the sight of the Lord?"

5. Verses 5-10—Who was the Zechariah here mentioned?

6. Do you regard it as the privilege of all spiritual people, to have "understanding in the visions of God," or is it a special gift to a few, and why?

7. What did the prosperity of Uzziah appear to depend upon?

8. What are some of the things mentioned which demonstrated Uzziah's prosperity?

9. In the light of time and eternity, what do you consider as the highest type of a prosperous man?

10. What are the degrees of desirability, to be prosperous in wealth, honor, intellectual ability, or in having "understanding in the visions of God?"

11. Verses 11-15—Did God ever delight in war? Why or why not?

12. Was it ever God's first best plan for nations to settle their disputes by war?

13. If Jesus were king of this country, and a duplicate of Jesus were king of another country with whom we had a misunderstanding, why would there be no danger of war?

14. Are the nations of the earth, as nations, guilty or innocent before God, for the vast sums of money they spend annually in preparation for war? Why?

15. Verses 16-18—What proportion of men are drawn nearer to God, and what proportion driven to the Devil by earthly prosperity?

16. Why is it that so many are spiritually hurt by prosperity?

17. After Uzziah had had such unmistakable experience with God how do you account for his moral lapse?

18. What motive do you suppose prompted Uzziah, to usurp the office of the priests of the temple?

19. What are the sins which an exalted position, or great riches, tend to develop today. (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

20. Verses 19-23—Was the disease of leprosy supernaturally inflicted as a punishment, or was it contracted in a natural way?

21. Does God in these days send disease upon people in any other way than through the laws of nature? Give your reason.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

It is An Internal Disease And Requires An Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide acts at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over.
