

The Lancaster News.
(SEMI-WEEKLY)

Published Wednesdays and Saturdays at Lancaster, S. C., by The Lancaster Publishing Company, successors to The Ledger, established 1853; The Review, established 1878; The Enterprise, established 1891, and entered as second-class matter Oct. 7, 1905, at the postoffice at Lancaster, S. C., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

CHAS. T. CONNORS, Editor.
A. J. CLARK, Business Manager.
WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1911.

Yes, it is undoubtedly true that whiskey can be bought from blind tigers in Charlotte—at least, they call it "whiskey."—The State. Had no trouble in getting it, eh?

A North Carolinian was robbed of $250 in New York the other day. Served him right. What business has a Tar Heel, with all that much money? Impertinently asks the Anderson Mail.

A musical treat of a rare order is in store for all who attend the Lyric Glee club's entertainment at the opera house next Friday night. This is the last number of the lyceum course, and it promises to be the best and most interesting of the entire series.

Lancaster heartily endorses Historian Salley's suggestion, published elsewhere, that a monument be erected to Andrew Jackson at his birthplace in this county. Let the State Press Association take up the matter at its approaching meeting, as suggested by Mr. Salley.

The census figures places Pageland at 360. This figure is very unfair now as the population of Pageland has doubled since the census was taken. When we say that Pageland has doubled since the census was taken it is no guess work or idle talk for a recent count by one of our reliable citizens shows that it has doubled in one year.—Pageland Scout.

That's indeed a remarkable showing, and the hustling young Chesterfield town is to be congratulated on its wonderful growth.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch republishes, as did The News, the letter of Andrew Jackson to Governor Hammond which recently appeared in The State, in which Jackson refers to South Carolina as his native State, and comments thereon as follows:

The Columbia State prints this letter in facsimile and commends it to the attention of the Daughters of the Revolution of Mecklenburg county and North Carolina. But what's the use? Even if Jackson should rise from the dead and take the Daughters down to the old McCamie house, in South Carolina, where he was born, and show them how the State line ran at that time, immediately the Daughters would show him the bronze or stone marker they have erected on the North Carolina side to prove that he did not know what he was talking about. All the facts are against them, but facts count for little in the settlement of historical controversies upon one side of which our Mecklenburg friends have taken their stand. It is so with the birthplace of Andrew Jackson, and it is so with the alleged Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, properly called the "Mecklenburg Myth."

Lancaster extends a most cordial welcome to the numerous fair Daughters of the King who are now coming here from all parts of South Carolina to attend the State convention of their splendid organization, which convenes today in the First Methodist church. May their only too brief sojourn in the city of the Red Rose be one continuous round of unalloyed pleasure, interest and profit, is the earnest wish of every citizen of the community. Among the many philanthropic and praiseworthy associations in this country, there is none doing more in proportion to its means and opportunities to alleviate the sufferings of humanity, whether from disease or poverty, than the noble-hearted, generous, self-sacrificing King's Daughters, and Lancaster indeed feels highly honored in having the privilege of entertaining the accredited representatives of this peerless band of sisters of mercy and charity.

The famous McDow hill on the Chesterfield road east of town is fast disappearing under the work of the county chain gang. The once steep, dangerous, declivity, the scene of many an accident and runaway, will soon be supplanted by a nice, level piece of highway.

Choir for Convention of King's Daughters.

As to the music for the convention of the King's Daughters, a special in the Charleston Sunday News says:

For the special services to be held at the Methodist Church the musical committee have arranged a delightful programme, including solos by Mrs. C. D. Jones, Lancaster's sweet singer, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. G. B. Barron and the violin by Mr. J. D. McDermid, Mrs. M. J. Perry, Mrs. W. T. Williams, Mr. John Poag and Mr. Thomas Beaty composing the choir.

To Members of Boys' Corn Club.

President John Q. McManus, Jr., of the Boys' Corn Club requests us to state that every member is expected to bring his certificate, showing that his acre has been surveyed, to the meeting of the club to be held here next Saturday, notice of which appears elsewhere in today's paper. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Boys' Corn Club to Meet.

The Boys' Corn Club will hold its next meeting in the court house on Saturday, May 6th, 1911, at 1 o'clock p. m. Every member should attend this meeting as some matters of importance are to be considered. Also Prof. D. N. Barrow of Clemson College and State Demonstration Agent Ira W. Williams have been invited to address the meeting. The public is invited to hear the speakers. Respectfully,
A. C. Rowell,

Douglas Dots.

Mr. Editor, I take pleasure in sending your paper a little news again.
Mr. W. T. Sistare is very sick at his home near Douglas, but is a little better this morning. The writer hopes for him a speedy recovery.

The farmers have almost finished planting their cotton seed, but haven't planted but very little corn yet. Some of the cotton has begun to come up.

The farmers are expecting big crops this fall. They have broken their land better than they have ever before, I think. There was an entertainment at the Douglas school house recently and it was very good indeed—couldn't expect anything else, the teacher of the school being Miss Marie Horton.

Mr. Editor, our roads have begun to get bad again out here—hope Mr. Supervisor will spur up his horse and come to their rescue.

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realize it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with. Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side and under the left shoulder blade. I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least excitement would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured."
MRS. C. C. GOKEY, Northfield, Vt.

If you have any of the symptoms Mrs. Gokey mentions, it is your duty to protect yourself.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is what you need. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. Ask your druggist. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.
